Moscow Willing To Negotiate On Laos, Red Paper Indicates

Kennedy, Gromyko Confer, Voice Hope Over Laos

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko separately voiced hopes today that a peaceful solution of the Laotian crisis can be found.

Speaking for Kennedy, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said: "He continues to be hopeful that there will be agreement between the parties concerned which will permit a cessation of hostilities and the development of a neutral and independent Laos."

Gromyko, a few moments earlier, said after a 56-minute conference with Kennedy that: "The president and I, after our conversations, expressed the hope that possibilities would be found of settling the Laotian questions peacefully."

Gromyko added that they expressed hope for an agreement on peaceful development of a policy of neutrality.

The two men met in Kennedy's oval office, flanked by advisers.

Then they stepped out into the White House garden, sat down on a wooden bench and continued to talk alone.

While they were in the garden, Mrs. Kennedy came up and shook hands with the foreign minister.

Salinger was asked whether Kennedy and Gromyko discussed the possibility of a cease-fire in Laos.

The press secretary replied he could not go into specific matters discussed.

But Sounds Warning Against Intervention

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union will welcome a solution for Laos at the conference table instead of the field of battle, the Communist Party paper Pravda said today. But while willing to negotiate, Moscow warned against SEATO intervention in Laos.

The Pravda article was a broad approval for American and British moves to bring the situation into negotiation. But it left in doubt just how a cease-fire, as proposed by the British, would be worked out.

The paper noted the British proposal for an immediate cease-fire to be followed by an international conference.

"It is not hard to see that concrete possibilties exist for the adjustment of the Laotian problem if all the countries concerned strive for this on a mutually acceptable basis and do nothing that might complicate the situation in Laos," Pravda said.

Pravda commented favorably on President John F. Kennedy's call at a news conference for a truly neutral Laos. This probably foreshadowed the message Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko carried to Washington for his conference today with the president.

NOTE STUDIED

It was understood from diplomatic sources that the British proposals on Laos—expressed in a note to the Kremlin March 23—are being studied and a reply can be expected shortly.

Pravda, blaming the Laotian crisis on the Western powers, accused SEATO of bringing Chinese Nationalist soldiers into the conflict. It warned against intervention by any SEATO nation and demanded U.S. military advisers get out of the Asian kingdom.

Pravda declared that force would be met with force if necessary, but its main emphasis was on negotiations for a peaceful solution.

HIGHEST AUTHORITY

The article was signed "Observer," meaning it came from the highest government authority.

In Washington, there was no immediate official comment from the State Department. But officials said if the Pravda account turns out to be Soviet acceptance of the British proposals the United States will, of course, be very gratified.

"The British government stands for an immediate cessation of the fire in Laos, after which it considered possible the convening of the international control commission in Laos," the Pravda article said.

"Britain agrees with the Soviet proposal for speeding the international conference to consider the Laos problem and stands for a speedy solution of the problem of a neutral government of national unity in Laos.

"It is not difficult to see that there are some real possibilities for regulating the Laos problem if all interested countries try to achieve that and do nothing that could aggravate the situation in Laos."

Belvedere Nears Decision On Land

Belvedere residents go to the polls tomorrow to decide whether the city should continue its condemnation suit against the Belvedere Land Co. for 477 feet of Beach Road property on the Cove.

The action culminates eight months of Belvedere Planning Commission and city council review. None of the bitterness inherent in the city's previous 22-month fight over the tidelands "houses on stilts" issue, also with the Belvedere Land Co. has been apparent in this dispute.

The two polling places in the same building, the firehouse and the Community Hall, will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. There are 1232 registered voters, according to City Manager Britton Rey.

Aa simple majority vote will decide. The question is worded in the negative as follows:

"Shall the City of Belvedere dismiss its pending action in emient domain for the acquisition for public park and playground purposes of waterfrontage property, consisting of two parcels largely submerged with an aggregate frontage of approximately 477 feet on Beach Head Road in the City of Belvedere?"

The proposition is worded in the negative on the advice of City Atty. William H. MacKay, who explained to the council that if it were worded in the affirmative and were carried, the city would then be bound by law to continue the suit, whether economically feasible or not.

No firm price for the land has been ascertained. An approximate cost of $200,000 for the property was mentioned at one council meeting, but developer's attorney Morse Erskine objected, saying, "The owner places a much greater value upon it . . . it would be unfair to lead the people to believe they can get it for that price."

The amount needed to reimburse the developers for the "fair market value" of the property will not be known un-

Three Injured In Collision At Marinwood

Three persons were injured in a two-car accident on the northbound lanes of Highway 101 near Marinwood about 11:30 a.m. today.

S Sgt. Lawrence O. Knight of the 28th Air Division-SAGE, with his wife, Margaret, and their daughter, Barbara, 4, all passengers in a Volvo, were taken to Hamilton Air Force Base hospital. Extent of the injuries was not immediately known.

Dean R. Cullen Jr., 18, of 591 Las Colinas Road, Terra Linda, driver of the other car, a southbound Volkswagen, told investigating officers that his car went out of control and skidded into the northbound lanes. Cullen suffered only minor injuries.

Thieves Take Narcotics In Two Break-Ins

An attempted break-in at a Santa Venetia drug store may have been linked to the other two, law enforcement officers said.

The attempt to break the door of the Santa Venetia Pharmacy at 740 Adrian Way was unsuccessful, sheriff's officers reported. But burglars escaped with considerable loot from the Corte Madera Pharmacy, 181 Tamalpais Avenue, Corte Madera, and the office of Dr. Harold W. White at 29 Bolinas Avenue, Fairfax. A typewriter was taken from another office in the same building with Dr. White's office.

Stolen from the physician's office were a half bottle of morphine, a quantity of other narcotics, a book of narcotics purchase forms, a book of blank checks, a microscope and statuette, Dr. White reported.

The doctor discovered at 12:15 p.m. yesterday that someone had forced the rear door and ransacked the office. Police Chief Clifton Cordes said police had checked the building Saturday midnight.

At the Corte Madera Pharmacy, the burglars carried off a complete narcotics cabinet, two feet by two feet by eight inches, containing about $200

St. Raphael's Asking For Big Addition

St. Raphael's Church will make a $200,000 addition almost doubling its size, according to an application before the San Rafael Planning Commission at its meeting tomorrow night.

The new addition is planned to extend the church toward Mission Street, according to Father Richard Knapp. It will add 438 seats, making a total of 8,998 seats.

Francis Constable of Sausalito, the architect, has drawn plans which will conform to the present architecture of the building.

The original Mission San Rafael Archangel was founded in 1817. It, along with the other California Missions, was secularized in 1832. In 1884, it was returned to the Roman Catholic Church.

The first church was destroyed by fire in 1918. The present church was started in 1919. This will be the first addition to the church building since that time, according to Father Knapp.

Sausalitan Named To Board Of U.C.

William Matson Roth of Sausalito, insurance executive and civic leader, yesterday was appointed to the University of California Board of Regents by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Brown praised Roth as "one of California's outstanding young men. I am gratified that he will add his ability and energy to the work of the regents," he said.

The 44-year-old chairman of the board of directors of the Pacific National Life Assurance Co. will succeed the late Dr. Howard C. Naffziger, who died Tuesday, in a term expiring March 1, 1968.

Roth, who lives at 100 Spencer Road, is a grandson of the founder of the Matson Navigation Co. He will resign his position on the State Toll Bridge Authority to accept the post as regent.

He joined the Matson company in 1951, becoming director and treasurer the next year. From 1957 to 1960 he served as vice president in charge of finance. He is now a director and member of the executive committee.

Roth said his membership on the board of regents will be a "challenging experience to undertake."

He noted that it was "particularly challenging at this moment in the university's development. One almost over-riding problem confronts the board — how to maintain the university's quality of greatness in the face of the tremendous increase in student population predicted for the next 10 years."

Roth said he supported the position of Governor Brown and Clark Kerr, University of California president last week, in rejecting protests against the campus speech of Frank Wilkinson as a reputed Communist sympathizer. Roth stressed the continued importance of the issues of civil liberties.

Missing Plane Shot Down, U.S. Believes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today it has information indicating that a U.S. plane missing in the Laos area was shot down.

Press officer Joseph W. Reap, asked about the U.S. Embassy C-47 that disappeared Thursday with eight American military men aboard replied: "Our information is the plane is missing and I guess it's a fair assumption that it's been shot down."

Reap declined to detail the available information making it a "fair assumption" that the two-engined transport craft went down because of gunfire.

He said he had no information about the plane's crew.

Firm Stand Indicated By SEATO

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Meeting under the threat of armed Communist takeover in nearby Laos, foreign ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today appeared ready to meet force with force if necessary.

The report from Moscow that the Soviet Union had approved the Western proposal for a cease-fire in Laos electrified the SEATO conference. But U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk cautioned an aide to wait for official word, and added "Any reply will have to be examined carefully before it can be assessed."

Rusk apparently spoke for most of the eight-nation alliance when he told the opening session of the SEATO Council of Foreign Ministers that "peace is possible only through restraining those who break it in contempt of law."

Rusk cited the Communist threat to both Laos and South Viet Nam and reminded the ministers that the alliance has an obligation "to assist the peoples of Southeast Asia in their fight for their freedom."

Benefit Plan Passed By House Group

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee today approved a watered-down version of President John F. Kennedy's proposals to liberalize social security benefits.

The legislation would boost cash benefits this summer for 3,675,000 persons on the social security rolls and would permit male workers to retire at age 62 with permanently reduced cash benefits. The present law requires a person to reach 65 before retiring.

The committee approved legislation would be financed by one-half of the payroll tax increase proposed by Kennedy for his program. It would boost these taxes as much as $6 a year for employees and $9 a year for the self-employed, effective next Jan. 1. Employers would have to match the increased contributions of their employees.

Moderate Rains Over County Make Little Change In Water Storage Level

Windy, wet weather brought moderate amounts of rainfall to most of Marin County yesterday and today, making little change in water levels but pleasing farmers.

It was very wet in Larkspur, however, where 1.94 inches of rain was recorded in the Chevy Chase area from 2 a.m. Sunday to 8 a.m. today (1.39 inches from 8 a.m. yesterday).

At the Larkspur fire station the wind blew down a 40-foot flag pole yesterday. The falling trees knocked out electric power for residents in some areas.

The Weather Bureau forecast clear skies tonight and fair tomorrow for most of Northern and Central California. The five-day forecast through next Saturday said occasional rain is likely in Northern California around midweek. Temperatures will be below normal.

County Agricultural Commissionar Richard Straw said Marin farmlands need all the moisture they can get. This has been a good grass year, he said, and most grain crops have been doing very well.

"We want the rains to continue. We don't need a lot at a time, but we need a period of rains. Generally speaking, the more rain we get in Marin, the better off we are," Straw said.

Jerome Gilbert, manager of the North Marin Water District, said the rains have made no appreciable change in the tight situation in the Novato area.

The district is expected to make it through the dry summer months by continuing to purchase water from Marin Municipal Water District and with the aid of an additional pump installed recently in Bowman Creek.

Gilbert pointed out that a series of closely spaced, heavy rainstorms probably would be needed to saturate the watershed area and bring a heavy enough runoff to Stafford Lake to supply the area through the summer.

Some 700 to 900 acre feet of water are needed in addition to the present 1,900 acre feet in the lake, if the district is to be able to supply water only from its own supplies. The amount might be gained by two to three inches of rain, if the ground already were saturated, Gilbert said.

George Ames, senior engineer for the Marin Municipal water District, said the situation was "fair" now. During March the district has gained 1,100,000,000 gallons of storage, making a total storage of 6,800,000,000 gallons, exclusive of Nicasio Dam, he said. Last year 3.4 billion gallons were on hand about May 1. The district could still approach that figure this year, Ames said. He noted that while there were only eight inches of rain recorded this month, runoff was fairly good.

In Homestead Valley yesterday 100 customers of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. were without power for nearly four hours when a dead madrone tree fell and broke wires near 342 Laverne Avenue.

About 40 or 50 homes were without power for about 42 minutes yesterday on Hillside Avenue in Kentfield. A tree

HE LOSES GRISLY BET

'Friends' Lock Student In San Rafael Crypt

Joke or no poke, Thomas Mitchell Pierce failed to see the humor in spending a night in an occupied tomb.

The 21-year-old University of California senior was rescued from grisly imprisonment in a locked crypt in San Rafael's Tamalpais Cemetery shortly after 9 p.m. Saturday, after having cried for help for more than two hours.

He was locked in the crypt, he told police, by three student "friends" who brought him, blindfolded, bound and gagged, from Berkeley. The door had been secured by a chain and a combination lock. In Pierce's possession were 20 different combinations written on slips of paper, one of which was supposed to open the lock. His hands were freed.

He identified his jailers as George Edward Haigh III, 21; Stephen Henry, 22, and Duncan MacDougall, 24, all of Berkeley and all students at the university.

Haigh told the Independent-Journal yesterday the prank was "all in fun." It started at the rooming house where they all live, he said, and progressed to a nearby bar where they bet Pierce "he couldn't stay in a tomb all night."

Pierce said he went along with the bet, but decided not to go through with it after about two hours.

"We didn't think of the repercussions," Haigh said, after being told by police that such action could bring a charge of kidnaping.

In the light of day, Pierce insisted he "wasn't scared," although Sergeant Selby reported him as "badly shaken" when he was released.

"It was assinine," Pierce said, adding he would pay a $5 wager as loser of the bet.

"We want the rains to continue. We don't need a lot at a time, but we need a period of rains. Generally speaking, the more rain we get in Marin, the better off we are," Straw said.

Jerome Gilbert, manager of the North Marin Water District, said the rains have made no appreciable change in the tight situation in the Novato area.

The district is expected to make it through the dry summer months by continuing to purchase water from Marin Municipal Water District and with the aid of an additional pump installed recently in Bowman Creek.

Gilbert pointed out that a series of closely spaced, heavy rainstorms probably would be needed to saturate the watershed area and bring a heavy enough runoff to Stafford Lake to supply the area through the summer.

Some 700 to 900 acre feet of water are needed in addition to the present 1,900 acre feet in the lake, if the district is to be able to supply water only from its own supplies. The amount might be gained by two to three inches of rain, if the ground already were saturated, Gilbert said.

George Ames, senior engineer for the Marin Municipal water District, said the situation was "fair" now. During March the district has gained 1,100,000,000 gallons of storage, making a total storage of 6,800,000,000 gallons, exclusive of Nicasio Dam, he said. Last year 8.4 billion gallons were on hand about May 1. The district could still approach that figure this year, Ames said. He noted that while there were only eight inches of rain recorded this month, runoff was fairly good.

In Homestead Valley yesterday 100 customers of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. were without power for nearly four hours when a dead madrone tree fell and broke wires near 342 Laverne Avenue.

About 40 or 50 homes were without power for about 42 minutes yesterday on Hillside Avenue in Kentfield. A tree

HE LOSES GRISLY BET

'Friends' Lock Student In San Rafael Crypt

Joke or no poke, Thomas Mitchell Pierce failed to see the humor in spending a night in an occupied tomb.

The 21-year-old University of California senior was rescued from grisly imprisonment in a locked crypt in San Rafael's Tamalpais Cemetery shortly after 9 p.m. Saturday, after having cried for help for more than two hours.

He was locked in the crypt, he told police, by three student "friends" who brought him, blindfolded, bound and gagged, from Berkeley. The door had been secured by a chain and a combination lock. In Pierce's possession were 20 different combinations written on slips of paper, one of which was supposed to open the lock. His hands were freed.

He identified his jailers as George Edward Haigh III, 21; Stephen Henry, 22, and Duncan MacDougall, 24, all of Berkeley and all students at the university.

Haigh told the Independent-Journal yesterday the prank was "all in fun." It started at the rooming house where they all live, he said, and progressed to a nearby bar where they bet Pierce "he couldn't stay in a tomb all night."

Pierce said he went along with the bet, but decided not to go through with it after about two hours.

"We didn't think of the repercussions," Haigh said, after being told by police that such action could bring a charge of kidnaping.

In the light of day, Pierce insisted he "wasn't scared," although Sergeant Selby reported him as "badly shaken" when he was released.

"It was assinine," Pierce said, adding he would pay a $5 wager as loser of the bet.

Kennedy, Macmillan In Agreement Over Laos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed yesterday that "the situation in Laos cannot be allowed to deteriorate."

This was the gist of a joint statement after the two had met for the first time.

Kennedy and Macmillan met under tropical sun yesterday at the naval air station on Boca Chica Key just north of Key West, Fla. They drove into America's southernmost town through columns of cheering tourists and conferred around a plain table overlooking the Gulf of Mexico.

They met for more than three hours, including a brief lunch at the Key West naval base quarters. The meeting over, they issued this statement:

"President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan have had a most valuable exchange of views about the situation in Laos. This will be of great assistance to representatives of their two countries in the discussions at the SEATO meeting which is due to begin in Bangkok tomorrow.

"They agree that the situation in Laos cannot be allowed to continue to deteriorate. They also agreed that the recent British note to the Soviet Union contains proposals which if implemented, would bring to an end the warfare in Laos and would pave the way for Laos to become the truly neutral country which it is their joint wish to see.

"They strongly hope, therefore, that the Soviet Union will make a positive and constructive reply to these proposals."

TELEVISION TALK

U.S. Won't Strike First, Kennedy Assures British

LONDON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy said in a televised interview last night that the United States and Britain are forced to maintain missile supremacy as a deterrent to the Soviet Union since the Western powers would not be the first to strike in a war.

"It really isn't enough to compare missile for missile today," Kennedy said in an interview filmed in Washington earlier this month and telecast by the British Commercial Associated Television Network.

"We have to assume, after this first blow had been struck against us, what would we have left, with what could we retaliate, and how much of a deterrent, therefore, is there to Russia from making the first strike . . . " he said.

"I hope that the people in your country realize that neither we nor they would have any difficulties if it were not that, as a democracy, we will not strike first and that, therefore, we always have to consider what we have left, and that places a heavy financial burden upon us all in maintaining that kind of force."

Kennedy also said that a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, without prior preliminary negotiations at a lower level which have "led to some hope of progress," would bring no substantial changes in East-West relations.

'LOBBY' ATTACKED

Student Testing Measure Planned

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A teacher-legislator, in a blistering attack on the "school administration lobby," said today he would introduce a bill for the statewide testing of students to let parents know how their local schools compares with other schools.

Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Reedley) said his testing bill would follow recommendations made after a two-year study by a citizens' advisory commission on education appointed by the legislature.

An instructor at Reedley College and a teacher for 24 years, Garrigus said that "the powerful school adminstrator organizations are furious at the prospect of such testing and, along with the progressive educationists, are preparing to prevent it."

Under his proposal, students in each school would take achievement tests in basic academic subjects, and the school would be required to send composite test scores to the state.

"Does not the average parent want to know and does he not have the right to know how the school ot which his children go compares with other schools in knowledge achievement?" Garrigus asked.

He said administrator groups "just hate the idea of disclosure of scores. They've calling me into meetings because they felt I needed 'talking to.'

"They don't know where they've been or where they're going. They only know they don't want the boat rocked—that they don't want for sure."

Garrigus is vice chairman of the Assembly Education Committee, where a compromise testing bill by Assembly Gordon H. Winton Jr., (D-Merced) has been stalled for weeks.

Winton's bill would allow local school districts to administer one of a group of nationally used examinations—such as the Iowa test or the Stanford-Benet test—then report student scores on a districtwide basis to the state. Results would be correlated to show achievement (what the students knew) in terms of apitude (what students were capable of knowing).

Garrigus' bill will call for straight achievent tests, drawn up by a state commission, in such subjects as arithmetic, English, history and science.

To sidestep criticism that teachers would "teach the test," Garrigus proposes that the commission prepare six tests covering the same subject material—six in high school sophomore English, for example, six in freshman algebra.

Winton's more moderate bill has won surface backing from administrator groups, although many of them are reported working quietly to insure its defeat.

The influential California Teachers Assn. withdrew its support altogether last week. The association wants it to be optional for districts to report test scores to the state.

Garrigus claims that the same groups opposing the testing bill are also seeking to undermine proposals to strengthen the academic training of teachers.

Park Control Revise Asked French-Algeria

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to give control of California's park system back to the State Park Commission went to the legislature today.

It's expected to reopen a 1959 fight over who should run the vast park system.

Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) said he would introduced the bill to restore the powers the legislature stripped from the commission two years ago.

"The State Park System is in the hands of an appointed state department head," McAteer said. "He, in turn, is subject to political pressure from the legislature because he must go the lawmakers for appropriations."

"The commission must have sufficient authority top rovide for the orderly development of our state parks without being subject to the harrassment of local pressures and 'persuasions' of elected officials seeking special consideration for their own districts."

The bill is backed by the park commissioners and the director of natural resources. The commission now has only advisory powers.

The legislature approved a bill taking away the commission's policy-making power after an Assembly committee said commission policies were responsible for delays in planning, acquisition and purchase of parks.

Bills Planned On Regulation Of Hospitals

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assemblyman Ronald B. Cameron (D-Whittier) has proposed two new bills in his campaign to provide state regulation of California's hospitals.

Cameron, who earlier charged that some doctors have received kickbacks for helping keep hospitals' beds full, said he would introduce bills to:

1. Regulate hospitals' financial records by requiring uniform accounting methods and annual reports to the state.

2. Create a state agency to set and enforce standards for medical practices in all state-licensed hospitals.

The Assembly already has passed a Cameron bill to make hospital financial records a matter of public record.

He said regulation is required because of "a high degree of financial speculation in the hospital industry."

Belgian Premier's Government Quits

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI)The government of Premier Gaston Syskens resigned today as the result of a heavy setback to his Social Christian Party in national parliamentary elections.

Eyskens, whose party had been blamed for disastrous developments in the Congo and the resultant economic repercussions at home, handed his resignation to King Baudouin shortly before noon.

An official announcement said the king accepted the resignation and asked Eyskens to continue handling current affairs until a successor is named.

He had headed the coalition Social Christian-Liberal Party government since November, 1958.

Political experts predicted the resulting government crisis may be one of the longest and toughest in this country's history. No one party emerged from the elections strong enough to govern on its own.

Eyskens blamed the setback suffered by his party at the polls partly on his unpopular economic austerity program which caused the wave of anti-government strikes last December and January.

The final official results on the popular totals showed: Social Christians 41.46 against 46.49 per cent in the 1958 general elections; Socialists 36.73 against 35.79. Liberals 12.32 against 11.05; Communist 3.11 against 1.89; Fleming Peoples 3.41 against 1.98.

Final senate results will not be known for some time. In addition to the 106 members elected yesterday, another 46 will be nominated by provincial councils and 23 named by the senators themselves.

FLAREUP AT BEACH

Florida Police Quell Riot By Collegians

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Police from six surrounding communities reinforced local authorities in putting down a riot by 3,500 vacationing college students, unhappy at being denied access to their favorite spot for romancing, an unlighted beach north of here.

The riot broke out last night on busy Highway A1A, flanked on one side by a warm, sandy beach and the Atlantic Ocean and on the other by a row of beer taverns where the students cool off between sunbathing sessions.

As resentment grew over closing of the unlighted beach, students began halting traffic by lying in front of cars. Police arrived and ordered the students to disperse, but were met with a volley of stone, beer cans and bottles.

Police Chief J. Lester Holt called on all available police, firemen, sheriff's officers and Florida highway patrolmen. Traffic was routed away from the beach area and fire trucks and squad cars converged on the scene.

For nearly two hours the situation was out of control. The students surged through police lines, heckling the officers and continued peppering them with empty beer containers.

The riot began to weaken as high pressure fire hoses were trained on front lines of the students and officers threw apparent trouble makers into paddy wagons. About 50 students were arrested on charge of disorderly conduct and another 25 were injured by flying glass from broken beer bottles.

Control was restored as police brought in a truck with loud speakers and warned students tear gas would be used.

The outbreak was the most serious in the 16 years college students have been making pilgrimages here for their Easter vacations. Each year as the number of students participating has grown, there have been increasing cases of vandalism, disorderly conduct, public intoxication or other offenses.

SCHNEIDER, Ind. (AP)—A day of picnicking and fishing ended in death for five children last night when a small rowboat loaded with 10 persons sank in the Kankakee River.

The 10-foot boat had left a cottage rented for the day by Ted Bell, 49, Calumet City, Ill. It was headed for the main shore line where the families had parked their cars. Seventy yards offshore in water 15 feet deep, Bell said he speeded up the outboard motor and suddenly "water poured over the bow and we sank."

Three of Bell's children, Theodora, 5; Charlotte, 13, and Kenneth, 4, drowned along with Debbie Murzyn, 2, and Regina Murzyn, 5.

Belgian Premier's Government Quits

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI)The government of Premier Gaston Syskens resigned today as the result of a heavy setback to his Social Christian Party in national parliamentary elections.

Eyskens, whose party had been blamed for disastrous developments in the Congo and the resultant economic repercussions at home, handed his resignation to King Baudouin shortly before noon.

An official announcement said the king accepted the resignation and asked Eyskens to continue handling current affairs until a successor is named.

He had headed the coalition Social Christian-Liberal Party government since November, 1958.

Political experts predicted the resulting government crisis may be one of the longest and toughest in this country's history. No one party emerged from the elections strong enough to govern on its own.

Eyskens blamed the setback suffered by his party at the polls partly on his unpopular economic austerity program which caused the wave of anti-government strikes last December and January.

The final official results on the popular totals showed: Social Christians 41.46 against 46.49 per cent in the 1958 general elections; Socialists 36.73 against 35.79. Liberals 12.32 against 11.05; Communist 3.11 against 1.89; Fleming Peoples 3.41 against 1.98.

Final senate results will not be known for some time. In addition to the 106 members elected yesterday, another 46 will be nominated by provincial councils and 23 named by the senators themselves.

FLAREUP AT BEACH

Florida Police Quell Riot By Collegians

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Police from six surrounding communities reinforced local authorities in putting down a riot by 3,500 vacationing college students, unhappy at being denied access to their favorite spot for romancing, an unlighted beach north of here.

The riot broke out last night on busy Highway A1A, flanked on one side by a warm, sandy beach and the Atlantic Ocean and on the other by a row of beer taverns where the students cool off between sunbathing sessions.

As resentment grew over closing of the unlighted beach, students began halting traffic by lying in front of cars. Police arrived and ordered the students to disperse, but were met with a volley of stone, beer cans and bottles.

Police Chief J. Lester Holt called on all available police, firemen, sheriff's officers and Florida highway patrolmen. Traffic was routed away from the beach area and fire trucks and squad cars converged on the scene.

For nearly two hours the situation was out of control. The students surged through police lines, heckling the officers and continued peppering them with empty beer containers.

The riot began to weaken as high pressure fire hoses were trained on front lines of the students and officers threw apparent trouble makers into paddy wagons. About 50 students were arrested on charge of disorderly conduct and another 25 were injured by flying glass from broken beer bottles.

Control was restored as police brought in a truck with loud speakers and warned students tear gas would be used.

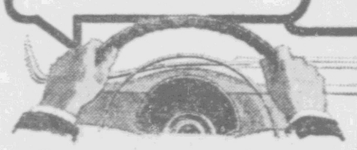

The outbreak was the most serious in the 16 years college students have been making pilgrimages here for their Easter vacations. Each year as the number of students participating has grown, there have been increasing cases of vandalism, disorderly conduct, public intoxication or other offenses.

FLOWERS BLOOM IN WISHING WELLS

A tradition in Mill Valley is the display of blooms along business streets at Easter time. This year, 40 "wishing wells" have been placed in business districts by the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, each well containing four pots of flowers—mainly roses and hydrangeas. Here, Ted Mackey of Kentfield, an employee of Mayer's Department Store, places flowers in "well" on Throckmorton Avenue. Many merchants also are using the planter boxes which have been an Easter sidewalk feature for five years. (Independent-Journal photo)

Escapee From Marin Jail Caught In S.F.

It was back to the old cellblock yesterday for Warren Edwin Straw III — this time with the cell door locked.

Straw, who walked out of Marin County Jail last Sunday when his cell door was left open, was captured yesterday in San Francisco after two Marin County officers were led to him by his "girl friend" who did not know she was being followed.

Straw, 24, of 412 Pine Street, Sausalito, had been arrested at his home on a traffic warrant the day before his escape. A check revealed that the license plates on Straw's car were from another auto which had been stripped. Police then checked the motor number on Straw's car and found it had been stolen.

Sheriff's Inspector William C. Bradley and Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt arrested Straw near the San Francisco Greyhound Bus Terminal at 9:30 a.m. yesterday as he was joined by Eileen Johnson of Sausalito. Both officers had followed Miss Johnson from her home.

A "stakeout" had been maintained at her home for some time, officers said.

Straw said he ran away from jail because he would have to wait too long for the disposition of his case.

2 DRIVERS ARRESTED

Drag Race Proves No Way To Test Autos

Two San Rafael garage mechanics were apparently satisfied with the performance of two customers' cars on Saturday, but both were arrested for their unorthodox method of test-driving.

Duane Russell Dotson, 25, of 324 Corillo Drive, and Robert Lyle Phinney, 24, of 5 Walters Place, were ordered to appear in court next Monday at 9:30 to answer charges of "staging a contest."

The two were arrested for drag racing at more than 90 miles an hour on Francisco Boulevard by California highway patrolman and a sheriff's deputy late Saturday afternoon.

Dotson, a mechanic with Locke Brothers Garage at 911 Francisco Boulevard, was driving a 1958 Chevrolet Station Wagon owned by Christiansen Danish Bakery of 71 Broadway, Fairfax.

Phinney, proprietor of Finney's Marin Automatic Transmission services at 345 Francisco, was driving a 1958 Pontiac station wagon owned by Rex Fowler of 719 Lamont Street, Novato.

According to CHP Officer Gerald L. Walkup, who halted the race by making a roadblock of his patrol car on Francisco Boulevard near the Marin Rod and Gun Club, both men said they were "trying out" customers' cars when the idea of a drag race occurred to them.

At the time he stopped them, the racers were being chased by Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins, Officer Walkup said.

Phinney estimated their speed at about 90 miles an hour, a figure agreed upon by Officer Walkup. Dotson said he was of the opinion his customer's car was winning. All agreed Deputy Wiggins was losing.

Collision Hurts Woman, Child

A woman and a small child suffered minor injuries in Marin City yesterday when a car running downhill on a muddy pavement skidded into their vehicle.

Wilbert Carney, San Francisco cab driver taking his family for a ride in his own vehicle, told the California Highway Patrol that he was driving slowly north on Donahue Street about 5 p.m. when he saw another car coming south down hill fast. He tried to turn into a driveway to escape but his car was rammed. His wife, Mildred, and 4-year-old son, Wilfred, suffered cuts and bruises. They said they would see their own physician.

Driver of the other car was Daniel Alan Scott, 22, of House 539, Marin City. He blamed mud on which his car skidded when he braked.

New Firehouse Dedicated In San Anselmo

San Anselmo's new $50,000 firehouse on Butterfield Road, described as a "living entity" staffed by efficient crews and equipment, was dedicated in brief ceremonies before a crowd of about 100 yesterday afternoon.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, himself an "old smoke eater," delivered the main address, commending city officials and citizens of the community for providing the second fire station for the benefit of the community.

With Mayor William Franchini as master of ceremonies, the half hour program opened with an invocation by Msgr. John McGarr and closed with a benediction by Rev. Harold Hallett. A snappy color guard of the San Anselmo American Legion post, headed by Robert Dill, raised the flag.

Fire Chief Nello Marcucci, who has worked for the second firehouse for 20 years, introduced the fire chiefs from various communities of the county.

The new fire station has a large engine room, shop, lounge, a dormitory with eight beds, washroom and showers, and kitchen facilities.

Danish Home Requests Addition Of 14 Units

The Aldersly Danish Home at 326 Mission Avenue has applied for another 14 living unit addition to the home, to be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The rezoning request for a tract of land at Bayo Vista Way and Scenic Avenue, which was withdrawn by request before the last meeting of the commission, will come up again tomorrow.

During the interval, the property was purchased by Spiro Spiliotis and Co. This request would leave four single-family lots, four lots for duplex and the remainder of the tract for garden type apartments.

The planning commission will also consider the tentative map of Las Colindas Unit 8 for 13 lots next to the Dixie School on the former Nunes Ranch. This is part of the Eichler Homes development in the area.

Other items to be considered by the planners are a variance request by A. B. Costigan for a detached garage at 389 Riviera Drive; Boyd Lang of 100 Marina Boulevard for a four foot encroachment of a garage; John Moran of 233 Laurel Place for a fence; R. E. Bohana of 4166 Redwood Highway to illuminate a plastic sign; John Wing to use a cottage to the rear of 1420-1422 Lincoln Avenue; A. Harvey Morse for a detached carport at 134 Prospect Avenue and a rezoning request by Henry Ghilotti from a single family residence to duplex on Irwin Street near Hazel Court.

4 Seeking 2 Seats On Novato Board

(This is the fourth of a series of stories introducing candidates for school boards in elections to be held April 18.)

Novato Unified School District, with two positions on its board of trustees at stake in the April 18 election, has four candidates in the race: The incumbents and two challengers.

Novato is the only unified school district in Marin. This means that high school and elementary schools are operated as a single district. The San Rafael Board of Education governs both high and elementary schools, but these are actually two districts, with different boundaries, although operated by the same board and administration.

The four candidates in Novato are Marett B. Boissevain and William H. Kirk, incumbents, plus David S. Patterson Jr. and Charles N. Thompson. A fifth candidate, Mrs. Dorothy M. Olson, withdrew from the race because she plans to move out of the district.

Here is a brief rundown on the candidates, of whom the two receiving the highest vote totals will be elected to four-year terms:

MARETT B. BOISSEVAIN, 43, is assistant vice president of Marsh and McLennan-Cosgrove and Co., insurance brokers in San Francisco. With his wife, Carol, two daughters and son, he lives at 2081 Center Road.

Boissevain was a member of the Marin County Recreation Committee prior to establishment of the county recreation commission, and was a member of the civic center site selection committee. He is completing a four-year term on the school board.

Born in Lander, Wyo., Boissevain came to Marin as a youth and attended Marin Junior College. He holds an A.B. degree in engineering from Stanford University.

He served as a captain in the Army Air Force in World War II, in a non-flying capacity.

WILLIAM H. KIRK, 34, of 25 Summers Avenue, is general manager of Royce Finance Plan in San Rafael. He and his wife, Margaret, have two sons, aged 5 and 1.

Kirk was appointed to the school board last October to fill out the term of George Jennings, who resigned.

He is a member of Elks Lodge 1108 of San Rafael and of the San Rafael Kiwanis Club. He served nine years in the Navy, including service in World War II and the Korean War, and has the Pacific Theater ribbon with battle star from World War II and the Korean ribbon with two battle stars from the Korean conflict.

Kirk was born in Porterdale, Ga., and was graduated from high school there.

DAVID S. PATTERSON, Jr., 42, of 1150 East Court, is field representative for State Compensation Insurance Fund in San Francisco. He and his wife, Roberta, have two sons.

Patterson is active in Cub Scouts and is a member of Hamilton Lodge 751, Free and Accepted Masons. He served as a sergeant in an Army Air Force weather squadron in World War II.

He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, has a B.S. degree from Washington and Jefferson University, and did a year of post-graduate study at University of California.

CHARLES E. THOMPSON, 40, a heavy equipment operator for the County of Marin, lives at 637 Plum Street. He and his wife, Wilma, have four children.

Born in Reno, Thompson was graduated from Fall River High School at McArthur, Shasta County. He also attended high school in San Rafael. He was self-employed in the trucking business for eight years before joining the county public works department.

Thompson served as a seaman first class in the Navy in World War II, in both Asiatic and Pacific theaters.

State Hospital Escapee Nabbed

An escapee from Napa State Hospital was picked up yesterday while walking along Highway 101 between Marinwood and Terra Linda and returned to the hospital.

Victor Oakes, 49, of 25 Elm Street, Woodacre, was seen by Sheriff's Deputy A. V. Menjou while on routine patrol. Oakes, who was wearing muddy denim pants and a jacket, told the officer he was an electric company worker who had been laid off.

Young Camper Shoots Self In Gun Mishap

A weekend outing was cut short by tragedy Saturday when one of a group of four young campers accidentally shot himself in the abdomen with a target pistol.

Robin Donald Kinkead, Jr., 22, of San Francisco, son of a Pan American Airways public relations official, was described as "in fair condition, but serious" at Marin General Hospital today.

The accident occurred at McClure's Beach at 5:30 p.m. Saturday. With Kinkead were his cousin, Donald George Kinkead, 21, and Peter Johnson, 20, both of Berkeley, and Jane Hofer, 19, of San Francisco.

The story of the accident, as told to Sheriff's Deputy William S. Christensen by Kinkead's companions, was:

The four young persons arrived at the beach about 2:30 p.m. Saturday and spent some time "plinking" at targets with a .22 caliber pistol. After they had set up camp and built a fire, Kinkead left the group and was sitting by himself on a piece of driftwood about 30 yards away from the campfire when his companions heard a shot.

They saw the stricken Kinkead crawling on his hands and knees, calling that he had been shot. Apparently, they told the officers, he had been cleaning the gun.

One of the group went for help, summoning Christensen, who was later joined by Deputy Ray Von Savoye and a physician. The three carried the injured man up the steep trail to a United Ambulance which took him to the hospital.

4 Seeking 2 Seats On Novato Board

(This is the fourth of a series of stories introducing candidates for school boards in elections to be held April 18.)

Novato Unified School District, with two positions on its board of trustees at stake in the April 18 election, has four candidates in the race: The incumbents and two challengers.

Novato is the only unified school district in Marin. This means that high school and elementary schools are operated as a single district. The San Rafael Board of Education governs both high and elementary schools, but these are actually two districts, with different boundaries, although operated by the same board and administration.

The four candidates in Novato are Marett B. Boissevain and William H. Kirk, incumbents, plus David S. Patterson Jr. and Charles N. Thompson. A fifth candidate, Mrs. Dorothy M. Olson, withdrew from the race because she plans to move out of the district.

Here is a brief rundown on the candidates, of whom the two receiving the highest vote totals will be elected to four-year terms:

MARETT B. BOISSEVAIN, 43, is assistant vice president of Marsh and McLennan-Cosgrove and Co., insurance brokers in San Francisco. With his wife, Carol, two daughters and son, he lives at 2081 Center Road.

Boissevain was a member of the Marin County Recreation Committee prior to establishment of the county recreation commission, and was a member of the civic center site selection committee. He is completing a four-year term on the school board.

Born in Lander, Wyo., Boissevain came to Marin as a youth and attended Marin Junior College. He holds an A.B. degree in engineering from Stanford University.

He served as a captain in the Army Air Force in World War II, in a non-flying capacity.

WILLIAM H. KIRK, 34, of 25 Summers Avenue, is general manager of Royce Finance Plan in San Rafael. He and his wife, Margaret, have two sons, aged 5 and 1.

Kirk was appointed to the school board last October to fill out the term of George Jennings, who resigned.

He is a member of Elks Lodge 1108 of San Rafael and of the San Rafael Kiwanis Club. He served nine years in the Navy, including service in World War II and the Korean War, and has the Pacific Theater ribbon with battle star from World War II and the Korean ribbon with two battle stars from the Korean conflict.

Kirk was born in Porterdale, Ga., and was graduated from high school there.

DAVID S. PATTERSON, Jr., 42, of 1150 East Court, is field representative for State Compensation Insurance Fund in San Francisco. He and his wife, Roberta, have two sons.

Patterson is active in Cub Scouts and is a member of Hamilton Lodge 751, Free and Accepted Masons. He served as a sergeant in an Army Air Force weather squadron in World War II.

He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, has a B.S. degree from Washington and Jefferson University, and did a year of post-graduate study at University of California.

MARETT B. BOISSEVAIN

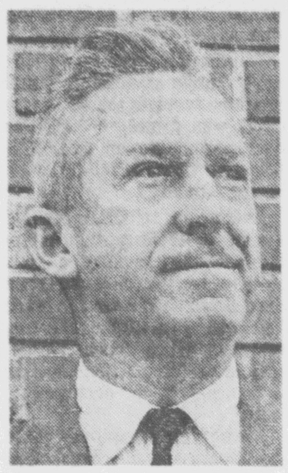

WILLIAM H. KIRK

CHARLES E. THOMPSON, 40, a heavy equipment operator for the County of Marin, lives at 637 Plum Street. He and his wife, Wilma, have four children.

Born in Reno, Thompson was graduated from Fall River High School at McArthur, Shasta County. He also attended high school in San Rafael. He was self-employed in the trucking business for eight years before joining the county public works department.

Thompson served as a seaman first class in the Navy in World War II, in both Asiatic and Pacific theaters.

State Hospital Escapee Nabbed

An escapee from Napa State Hospital was picked up yesterday while walking along Highway 101 between Marinwood and Terra Linda and returned to the hospital.

Victor Oakes, 49, of 25 Elm Street, Woodacre, was seen by Sheriff's Deputy A. V. Menjou while on routine patrol. Oakes, who was wearing muddy denim pants and a jacket, told the officer he was an electric company worker who had been laid off.

SUNDAY SERMON

Lowly Donkey Seen Symbol Of Humility

Who would have thought the Lord had need of a donkey?

This was the question Rector Francis W. Read put to his congregation in his sermon yesterday at St. Columba's Episcopal Church in Inverness.

Rev. Read referred to the donkey Jesus rode at His entry into Jerusalem before His crucifixion, as recorded in the gospel of Matthew. Palm Sunday marks the event, popularly called the "Triumphal Entry."

The donkey Jesus rode, declared Rector Read, ". . . had been chosen over the more comely and fitting animals; the noble mounts of the Roman equestrian soldiers, the prancing steeds of Arabia and the stately wheel horses of the chariots.

"The much maligned animal with the long ears, the shrill voice and the stubborn disposition was deliberately chosen as the king-bearer to illustrate graphically the truth that God is no respecter of persons, or of worldly renown: that the lowly publicans and common people have an inheritance in the kingdom prior to the learned scribes, the self-righteous pharisees, the pompous ecclesiastics and the lordly rulers of men.

"The Lord had need of a donkey as a symbol of all these things: to make it plain that He came not as an earthly monarch bestowing favors on the already favored, but as the redeemer of creation, bringing into their own the insignificant, the lowly, the despised, the oppressed, making them the instruments of the coming of His kingdom.

"And who would have thought that the Lord had need of a Cross?" asked the pastor. "Not the crowds He had fed with scant provisions by the seashore. Not the sick He had healed or those He had raised from the dead. Not the multitudes who had heard Him on the mount of the beatitudes. Not Simon Peter, who rebuked Him for the suggestion of His Passion. Not Pontius Pilate, who found no fault in Him and would have released Him had he dared. Not even His persecutors, who thought to serve their own need—and not His—by putting Him to death.

"Only Jesus Himself, who knew that He was born to die, had realization of this need.

"He needed the Cross to teach how precious man is in the sight of God: how much it cost to redeem humanity: what He was willing to endure for our salvation.

"He needed the Cross that He might be lifted up from the earth and draw all men unto Himself. And so for men and for our salvation the Lord had need of a donkey . . . and of a cross.

"The donkey to show us, poor dumb beasts that we are, that even the least of God's creatures has His part to play in the bringing in of the Kingdom." And He needed a Cross, concluded Rev. Read, "as the means of our redemption."

A NEW ROSE FOR MARIN

Sunny Marin County is especially recommended as having an ideal climate for this new "San Francisco Rose", a patrician variety of flaming oriental red, to be introduced in the Garden Shop at Macy's San Rafael today in connection with Macy's sixteenth annual Easter Flower Show in San Francisco next week.

Ex-San Rafael Manager Gets Bay Area Unit Job

Wilber E. Smith, former city manager of San Rafael, was named today to the $17,000 per year position as executive director of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

Berkeley Mayor Claude B. Hutchison, ABAG president, made the announcement.

Smith was city manager of San Rafael from 1953 to 1957. He then went to Washington, D.C., and has been serving as assistant director of the American Municipal Assn. Prior to his service in San Rafael he had been field representative for the League of California Cities, specializing in city-county governmental relationships.

Smith, 41, is married and has two children now living in Bethesda, Md. He won his master's degree in governmental administration from University of Pennsylvania and was a Navy commander during World War II.

The association he will head is a forum for discussion of Bay Area regional problems. It is composed of six of the nine Bay Area Counties (Marin is not a member) and 56 of the 83 cities in the area. Five Marin cities, Corte Madera, Larkspur, Mill Valley, San Rafael and Sausalito, are members.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis was one of the association's organizers and is a member of the executive committee, representing the member cities in this county.

Man Pleads Guilty In Narcotics Case

Jack E. Devaney, 27, of 62 Greenbrae Boardwalk, Greenbrae, today entered a plea of guilty of charges of possession of narcotics, in Judge R. M. Sims Jr.'s division of Marin Superior Court. He will be sentenced on April 17.

Devaney and two companions were charged with possessing narcotics after sheriff deputies arrested them on March 1 and 2 in a raid on their living quarters where $200 worth of marijuana, heroin and tranquilizers were found.

Leo J. Galli, 21, and Ronald W. Mattos, 23, asked for a continuance, before entering a plea.

Mrs. Evan V. Hunter, 68, was the oldest women to score a hole-in-one in 1960. She got her ace at Sea Island, Ga.

Sports-Boat Show Here Lures 36,000

In spite of unsportsmanlike conduct by the Weather Man, Marin Rod and Gun Club's eighth annual Sports and Boat Show in San Rafael over the weekend attracted a record throng of 36,000 visitors, co-chairman Barney DeBisschop estimated today.

"It was fabulous," the enthusiastic DeBisschop declared. "At times the entire Bermuda Palms show room was jammed elbow to elbow. In spite of the rains, the outdoor portion of the show had as many as 2,000 spectators."

DEMONSTRATIONS

He was referring to the Ann Curtis team's synchronized swimming performance and the skin diving demonstration by experts from San Francisco in the Berumda Palms pool.

Inside the huge area both Saturday and Sunday the crowds flocked from exhibit to exhibit, featuring new hunting, fishing, camping and boating equipment.

Most popular exhibit, according to DeBisschop, was the gun collection of Harold's Club, Reno. An assortment of old weapons, including two worn by Gen. George Custer, held the spotlight throughout the show which opened Friday night and closed last night.

POPULAR ITEMS

Other popular items were the "Pneumatic Igloo," inflatable tent; the Therm'x flameless heater, which appealed to campers; an air rifle target booth and an archery booth.

Among the other special attractions were fly-casting by outdoors author Jules Cuenin, fashion show by the John Robert Powers School of San Rafael, and a demonstration in the karate style of self-defense.

DeBisschop said the show's number of visitors exceeded by about 1,000 the previous attendance record. He noted that the Marin show in two and one-half days drew some 7,000 more visitors than a similar four-day show in Sacramento.

The Bolsa Grande High School concert choir of Garden Grove, Orange County, will present a concert at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at Strawberry Point at 9:50 a.m. tomorrow.

'MANZANITA' LOSES

2nd Marin City Name Vote May Be Voided

Two-thirds of Marin City residents who balloted on choice of a name for their community on Saturday favor retaining "Marin City."

But Nathaniel Johnson, chairman of the survey, declared today the election result should be declared void—as was a previous one in which a whopping majority favored changing the name to "Manzanita."

The vote Saturday was: Marin City 49, Manzanita 22, and Harrisburg 1.

Two weeks ago, it was quite different: Manzanita 62, Marin City 18, and Klahnsville 1.

Johnson said today he will go before the Marin City Tenants Council, of which he is a director, next Monday and ask that the election be "declared null" on the basis that not enough people voted.

The earlier election was nullified by the tenant council after chairman Daniel Hayden charged insufficient notice had been given.

Unlucky Family Girds For 3rd Misfortune

Bad luck comes in bundles of three, the old saying goes. The W. T. Johnson family in Novato is hoping it's not true.

About 5:30 a.m. Saturday, Betsy Johnson, 6, wandered into her parents' room to calmly say "Our house is on fire."

She and her sister, Jody, 1, watched interestedly as firemen put out flames in a bed which another daughter, Pam, 14, usually occupies. Pam was away at a slumber party.

The fire apparently started from a short circuit in a clock radio near the bed, firemen said. It charred the bed and scorched the floor and a bureau.

Things had calmed down by 1 p.m. Saturday when Kelly Bryan Johnson, dashed into the street in front of a car.

A check at Novato Hospital and Marin General Hospital showed he suffered a skull fracture and concussion. He was home recovering at 1304 Cambridge Street today.

Lauren K. Cleaveland, 47, of 1285 Cambridge Street, Ignacio, was driving west on Sunset Parkway at Cambridge Street when the accident happened. He was not cited.

S.F. Man Booked After Speed Race

A 20-year-old San Francisco Civic Center Garage employee was caught by California Highway Patrol pursuers just north of the Golden Gate Bridge at 3:30 a.m. today after he had allegedly speed more than 100 miles an hour in a station wagon between Greenbrae and the bridge.

William Millerick Blethen was booked at the Marin County Jail on charges of reckless driving in rain. The patrol said he also lacked a driver's license.

Five witnesses later reported at the toll plaza that his vehicle had passed them southbound at high speed. Patrolmen William Gregg and Keith Craig made the arrest.

Rhubarb Revue To Have New Curtain

Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club members will hang a new curtain on the stage of the clubhouse at Maple Street and Shoreline Highway April 1 in preparation for their annual Rhubarb Revue, "Rhubarb Melodies of the Flirty '30s."

The old curtain which was used for many years and fell down during last year's production of "The Taming of the Shrew" is being replaced by a new one made by Jim Hudson of San Rafael.

Rehearsals are in progress for the revue to be presented April 7, 8, 14, 15, 21 and 22 at the clubhouse. Reservations may be made through Nicholas Monteleone, 309 Starling Court, or Richard A. Blaustein, 660 Northern Avenue.

The San Francisco Typographical Society, organized in 1849, was the first bona fide trade union on the Pacific Coast.

1 Job-Seeker To Take Test In Mill Valley

An oral examination for Mill Valley city finance director will be given tonight—to a single candidate.

The lone applicant, whom City Manager A. E. Almcrants declined to identify, remains from a field of five who applied for the examination after John Hoopingarner, the city's fiscal director, resigned after declaring he would not take a written examination to qualify for the slightly expanded job under the new title.

Hoopingarner's deputy, Arthur E. Lang of Tiburon, was one of the five but his application was ruled as having been filed too late. Then a screening board eliminated two applicants. Today a fourth informed Almcrants he has decided to keep the job he has.

Meantime, the state personnel service advised Almcrants that a written examination was not needed, so the provision to which Hoopingarner had objected was eliminated.

Maritime Academy Examination Slated

Three-hour entrance examinations for the California Maritime Academy will be held Saturday at the academy in Vallejo beginning at 9 a.m. No fee or appointment is required.

Candidates for admission to the academy must be high school graduates or prospective graduates by June, not less than 17 nor more than 22 by Aug. 7. They must never have been married, be physically fit and of good moral character.

Jury Opposes Locating Recorder In Civic Center

Unanimous grand jury recommendation against removal of the county recorder's office to the civic center has been sent to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The jury instead backed enlargement of the present courthouse offices of the recorder and retention of this location as long as courts and county clerk's office remain there.

Although the over-all plan provides for moving the recorder into the administration building included in the first stage of civic center construction, courts were planned as a separate building for a fourth stage, tentatively scheduled in early planning for completion in 1970.

"Space limitations in the present office of the recorder," says a letter from Frederick S. Allen, chairman of the jury's court house committee, "present ever-increasing problems which have not been resolved by the arrangement at the civic center.

"Upon the removal of the assessor's office to the civic center, this problem can be easily solved at a minimum of expense.

"My interest is in space," said Giacomini today. "Provision in the administration building now under construction is for only about 3,100 square feet. We have about 3,000 square feet right here, on two floors.

"Present needs are for a minimum of 5,000 square feet."

Giacomini said the civic center provision was evidently based on expectation that space could be saved by going over to microfilm, but that experience in other counties did not indicate this was a solution. On this point the Allen letter says:

"The cost and inconvenience to the public of a change to a microfilm system is not considered justified at this time."

To Giacomini as to the jury committee the factor of convenience to the public seemed worth consideration. Allen's letter says:

"By the nature of its primary function the location of the recorder's office should be convenient to that of the courts and the county clerk, who concurs in this view. Removal of the recorder's office would not be in the best interests of the public."

The letter points to a resolution of the Marin County Bar Assn. Jan. 25, 1960, recommending against removal, and similar views expressed by the Marin County Title Assn. and the Marin County Real Estate Board.

Key To Good Health—Your Nervous System

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Do you envy the relative or friend who has the ability to throw off the effects of flu or other ailments almost before you can say "aspirin"? How does he beat those viruses?

"It's his resistance," someone may say.

Resistance to disease is not the mystery many of us think it is. It can be explained as a condition that runs hand in hand with good health. And good health is the reward of those people who help nature take care of their physical welfare. The ingredients of good health include exercise, pure food and drink, cleanliness, sufficient rest, disciplined thinking and, above all, a body that functions at high efficiency in all its systems.

The key system of the body is the nervous system which supplies the "living power" to every part and organ. And when the free flow of nerve energy is disrupted, body resistance diminishes and invasive disease agents, such as viruses, gain a foothold in the affected area.

The nervous system can be disrupted by the accidental misalignment of spinal bones or vertebrae which form a protective canal for vital nerve trunks descending from the brain. These spinal misalignments will compress, pinch or stretch the nerves, thus hindering the flow of impulses to one or more distant organs of the body. This lack of nerve supply sets up a fertile field for disease.

Chiropractors are specialists in removing nerve interference painlessly and efficiently by means of spinal adjustments and by hand alone. One or several adjustments may restore the nervous system to top capacity, and with nature's help drive out the disease agents. An efficient r e r v o u s system, kept in good repair, is the best weapon in the war against disease. It means resistance . . . which, after all, is just plain good health.

A NEW ROSE FOR MARIN

Sunny Marin County is especially recommended as having an ideal climate for this new "San Francisco Rose", a patrician variety of flaming oriental red, to be introduced in the Garden Shop at Macy's San Rafael today in connection with Macy's sixteenth annual Easter Flower Show in San Francisco next week.

Ex-San Rafael Manager Gets Bay Area Unit Job

Wilber E. Smith, former city manager of San Rafael, was named today to the $17,000 per year position as executive director of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

Berkeley Mayor Claude B. Hutchison, ABAG president, made the announcement.

Smith was city manager of San Rafael from 1953 to 1957. He then went to Washington, D.C., and has been serving as assistant director of the American Municipal Assn. Prior to his service in San Rafael he had been field representative for the League of California Cities, specializing in city-county governmental relationships.

Smith, 41, is married and has two children now living in Bethesda, Md. He won his master's degree in governmental administration from University of Pennsylvania and was a Navy commander during World War II.

The association he will head is a forum for discussion of Bay Area regional problems. It is composed of six of the nine Bay Area Counties (Marin is not a member) and 56 of the 83 cities in the area. Five Marin cities, Corte Madera, Larkspur, Mill Valley, San Rafael and Sausalito, are members.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis was one of the association's organizers and is a member of the executive committee, representing the member cities in this county.

Man Pleads Guilty In Narcotics Case

Jack E. Devaney, 27, of 62 Greenbrae Boardwalk, Greenbrae, today entered a plea of guilty of charges of possession of narcotics, in Judge R. M. Sims Jr.'s division of Marin Superior Court. He will be sentenced on April 17.

Devaney and two companions were charged with possessing narcotics after sheriff deputies arrested them on March 1 and 2 in a raid on their living quarters where $200 worth of marijuana, heroin and tranquilizers were found.

Sports-Boat Show Here Lures 36,000

In spite of unsportsmanlike conduct by the Weather Man, Marin Rod and Gun Club's eighth annual Sports and Boat Show in San Rafael over the weekend attracted a record throng of 36,000 visitors, co-chairman Barney DeBisschop estimated today.

"It was fabulous," the enthusiastic DeBisschop declared. "At times the entire Bermuda Palms show room was jammed elbow to elbow. In spite of the rains, the outdoor portion of the show had as many as 2,000 spectators."

DEMONSTRATIONS

He was referring to the Ann Curtis team's synchronized swimming performance and the skin diving demonstration by experts from San Francisco in the Berumda Palms pool.

Inside the huge area both Saturday and Sunday the crowds flocked from exhibit to exhibit, featuring new hunting, fishing, camping and boating equipment.

Most popular exhibit, according to DeBisschop, was the gun collection of Harold's Club, Reno. An assortment of old weapons, including two worn by Gen. George Custer, held the spotlight throughout the show which opened Friday night and closed last night.

POPULAR ITEMS

Other popular items were the "Pneumatic Igloo," inflatable tent; the Therm'x flameless heater, which appealed to campers; an air rifle target booth and an archery booth.

Among the other special attractions were fly-casting by outdoors author Jules Cuenin, fashion show by the John Robert Powers School of San Rafael, and a demonstration in the karate style of self-defense.

DeBisschop said the show's number of visitors exceeded by about 1,000 the previous attendance record. He noted that the Marin show in two and one-half days drew some 7,000 more visitors than a similar four-day show in Sacramento.

'MANZANITA' LOSES

2nd Marin City Name Vote May Be Voided

Two-thirds of Marin City residents who balloted on choice of a name for their community on Saturday favor retaining "Marin City."

But Nathaniel Johnson, chairman of the survey, declared today the election result should be declared void—as was a previous one in which a whopping majority favored changing the name to "Manzanita."

The vote Saturday was: Marin City 49, Manzanita 22, and Harrisburg 1.

Two weeks ago, it was quite different: Manzanita 62, Marin City 18, and Klahnsville 1.

Johnson said today he will go before the Marin City Tenants Council, of which he is a director, next Monday and ask that the election be "declared null" on the basis that not enough people voted.

The earlier election was nullified by the tenant council after chairman Daniel Hayden charged insufficient notice had been given.

Unlucky Family Girds For 3rd Misfortune

Bad luck comes in bundles of three, the old saying goes. The W. T. Johnson family in Novato is hoping it's not true.

About 5:30 a.m. Saturday, Betsy Johnson, 6, wandered into her parents' room to calmly say "Our house is on fire."

She and her sister, Jody, 1, watched interestedly as firemen put out flames in a bed which another daughter, Pam, 14, usually occupies. Pam was away at a slumber party.

The fire apparently started from a short circuit in a clock radio near the bed, firemen said. It charred the bed and scorched the floor and a bureau.

Things had calmed down by 1 p.m. Saturday when Kelly Bryan Johnson, dashed into the street in front of a car.

A check at Novato Hospital and Marin General Hospital showed he suffered a skull fracture and concussion. He was home recovering at 1304 Cambridge Street today.

Lauren K. Cleaveland, 47, of 1285 Cambridge Street, Ignacio, was driving west on Sunset Parkway at Cambridge Street when the accident happened. He was not cited.

S.F. Man Booked After Speed Race

A 20-year-old San Francisco Civic Center Garage employee was caught by California Highway Patrol pursuers just north of the Golden Gate Bridge at 3:30 a.m. today after he had allegedly speed more than 100 miles an hour in a station wagon between Greenbrae and the bridge.

William Millerick Blethen was booked at the Marin County Jail on charges of reckless driving in rain. The patrol said he also lacked a driver's license.

Five witnesses later reported at the toll plaza that his vehicle had passed them southbound at high speed. Patrolmen William Gregg and Keith Craig made the arrest.

MARCH FOR PEACE — A sizable turnout of pacifists, carrying placards call for an end to the nuclear arms race, paraded on Fourth Street in San Rafael Saturday in a "march for peace." Five Arrested Here On Stolen Goods Count

Two men and three juveniles, all from Wasco in Kern County, were turned over to Sonoma County authorities yesterday after being caught with allegedly stolen goods.

Louis Callahan Jr., 21, and Willie Brown, 30, and three juvenile companions were observed by Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine on Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley at 4 a.m. yesterday. They asked directions to the city and were shown the way by Levine.

Almost two hours later, they were seen talking to an attendant of a Standard Oil Station off Highway 101 near Sabella's. The attendant, James Berry, told Sheriff's Deputies Levine and E. A. Koehn the group had attempted to sell him a tire and tools "for bridge toll."

The officers questioned the group when they saw them for the third time, about an hour later, in front of the same service station.

A search of the car revealed two billy clubs, women's clothes, tires and tools. A check with Sonoma authorities revealed the clothes matched the description of clothes stolen from a car there earlier in the day.

The five were turned over to Sonoma authorities last night.

MUSIC FOR MINORS

Educational Concert Proves Entertaining

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Arthur Eisler and Barry Mineah showed in Saturday morning's two performances of the final program in the current "Music for Minors" series at San Rafael High School that teaching and entertaining can be a happy pair.

With material well chosen from a child's level of interest and comprehension but without condescension, they gave the youngsters in a short time surprising amount of basic information about instruments, orchestras and conductors.

Best from the standpoint of teaching were Eisler's use of the audiences as make-believe orchestras and his demonstration of the parts played by brasses, woodwinds, strings and percussion in music he composed especially for the purpose.

The kids had a rollicking good time when Eisler had the left side of the house clap the beat of drums, the right side toot like horns and the middle section sing the melody of "Where, oh where, has my little dog gone?" And while acting as conductor, he demonstrated the meaning of hand and baton movements.

Directing 11 professional musicians from the piano, Eisler also illustrated the parts played by the various instruments, singly, in groups and together, in "Way Down Upon the Swanee River." Visual emphasis provided by spotlighting each group as it took over added to the ease of distinguishing the sound.

Eisler's own music included jazz of a quality that would have delighted the ear of any "jazz buff," particularly a blues played by flute, clarinet and bassoon.

From the standpoint of entertainment, Mineah in full beard and conductor's costume as "Bernard Lenstein" was tops. Although there was no similarity in appearance, the takeoff of Bernstein was apt, since Eisler and Mineah, like Bernstein, are many-talented instructors.

High in entertainment value for youngsters were the bit of hokum about playing real music on a huge cardboard bass fiddle and Mineah's tap dance and antics as a maestro.

A fine performance by Eisler and the orchestra of the "March of the Siamese Children" from "The King and I," and "Brazil," featuring a solo by drummer Harry King, were the final numbers before a slam-bang finale consisting of Eisler leading the audiences out of the auditorium to the tune of "Seventy-Six Trombones."

Cronkhite Soldier Injured In S.F.

He was injured Saturday in the San Francisco collision of his automobile, driven by a friend, and a Greyhound bus. Police said they cited the automobile driver, Robert E. Murrill, 22, of San Francisco.

STATE REALTY GROUP HITS ANTI-BIAS BILL

CORONADO (AP)—Directors of the California Real Estate Assn. are on record opposing an anti-discrimination bill.

The directors closed their regular spring meeting Saturday by adopting a resolution saying that Assembly Bill 801 "would deprive the majority of the citizens of California of their legal rights to sell or rent property to persons of their own choice."

Hilarita Housing Gets New Trees

More than 60 trees, including Monterey pine, eucalyptus, cedar and Arizona cypress, were planted Friday on the Hilarita Housing project, made possible by the Marin County Housing Authority.

Trees for the grounds were donated by residents of the area and George Coleman of the Cove Nursery in Belvedere, who also served as landscape consultant and directed the planting. Howard Allen of Belvedere Land Co. provided the crews for the planting of the trees.

The planting was separate from the community tree and shrub planting project which took place today at Tiburon.

MARCH FOR PEACE — A sizable turnout of pacifists, carrying placards call for an end to the nuclear arms race, paraded on Fourth Street in San Rafael Saturday in a "march for peace." Five Arrested Here On Stolen Goods Count

Two men and three juveniles, all from Wasco in Kern County, were turned over to Sonoma County authorities yesterday after being caught with allegedly stolen goods.

Louis Callahan Jr., 21, and Willie Brown, 30, and three juvenile companions were observed by Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine on Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley at 4 a.m. yesterday. They asked directions to the city and were shown the way by Levine.

Almost two hours later, they were seen talking to an attendant of a Standard Oil Station off Highway 101 near Sabella's. The attendant, James Berry, told Sheriff's Deputies Levine and E. A. Koehn the group had attempted to sell him a tire and tools "for bridge toll."

The officers questioned the group when they saw them for the third time, about an hour later, in front of the same service station.

A search of the car revealed two billy clubs, women's clothes, tires and tools. A check with Sonoma authorities revealed the clothes matched the description of clothes stolen from a car there earlier in the day.

The five were turned over to Sonoma authorities last night.

MUSIC FOR MINORS

Educational Concert Proves Entertaining

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Arthur Eisler and Barry Mineah showed in Saturday morning's two performances of the final program in the current "Music for Minors" series at San Rafael High School that teaching and entertaining can be a happy pair.

With material well chosen from a child's level of interest and comprehension but without condescension, they gave the youngsters in a short time surprising amount of basic information about instruments, orchestras and conductors.

Best from the standpoint of teaching were Eisler's use of the audiences as make-believe orchestras and his demonstration of the parts played by brasses, woodwinds, strings and percussion in music he composed especially for the purpose.

The kids had a rollicking good time when Eisler had the left side of the house clap the beat of drums, the right side toot like horns and the middle section sing the melody of "Where, oh where, has my little dog gone?" And while acting as conductor, he demonstrated the meaning of hand and baton movements.

Directing 11 professional musicians from the piano, Eisler also illustrated the parts played by the various instruments, singly, in groups and together, in "Way Down Upon the Swanee River." Visual emphasis provided by spotlighting each group as it took over added to the ease of distinguishing the sound.

Eisler's own music included jazz of a quality that would have delighted the ear of any "jazz buff," particularly a blues played by flute, clarinent and bassoon.

From the standpoint of entertainment, Mineah in full beard and conductor's costume as "Bernard Lenstein" was tops. Although there was no similarity in appearance, the takeoff of Bernstein was apt, since Eisler and Mineah, like Bernstein, are many-talented instructors.

High in entertainment value for youngsters were the bit of hokum about playing real music on a huge cardboard bass fiddle and Mineah's tap dance and antics as a maestro.

A fine performance by Eisler and the orchestra of the "March of the Siamese Children" from "The King and I," and "Brazil," featuring a solo by drummer Harry King, were the final numbers before a slam-bang finale consisting of Eisler leading the audiences out of the auditorium to the tune of "Seventy-Six Trombones."

Belvedere Will Vote On Cove Land Suit

til the market value is set by the trial, and established by the court.

Leading the fight to keep the city's waterfront open is Mayor Robert P. Watkins, outspoken opponent of the land company on the tidelands issue. The "Cove Conservation Committee" is urging residents to vote "no" on Tuesday and continue the condemnation suit.

The "Citizens' Committee For A Yes Vote" is appealing to voters for the end to the condemnation proceedings and is backed on the council by Councilman John H. Flint, who initiated the resolution for a special election.

The issue first came to the attention of the council when a resident family of Cove Road protested the planning commission's approval of proposed construction of two-story apartment buildings along Beach Road which would result in loss of view and use by Belvedere residents.

The planners had held two regular meetings to discuss the proposal, at which no opponents appeared. Planners decided that the apartments concurred with the zoning, agreed to in 1956, which was that one-third of the frontage remain open to preserve the view. The plans had not come before the council because the area was already subdivided and no variance was asked.

Council members asked for planners recommendations on securing the property for the city and received three. The methods of acquisition suggested were rezoning, establishment of a scenic easement or the outright purchase. After lengthy discussion, the council decided on the latter and voted to file a condemnation suit to ascertain a purchase price.

In a late-hour surprise move at the council meeting in February, councilman Flint asked for a special election "because i am concerned with the impact on our bonding capacity if we purchase this property." Committee meetings with the land company on a price had resulted in a deadlock, and construction was being held up until a decision coluld be reached.

Opponents of the condemnation suit sharply criticize the wording of the ballot proposition, citing that "voters who confused, misled, or uninformed usually vote 'no.'" They also point out that the executive costs of litigation in addition to the sky-rocketing price of waterfront property would paid for by Belvedere residents for only 191 feet of view area along Beach Road . . . They call the suit "a gamble by the city council."

Proponents of the suit charge that "by the time two-thirds of the area is built in two-story apartment houses there will be an attraction to building the remaining third also in apartment houses" and cite the future expense of purchasing waterfront property for recreational use. The Recreation Commission has recommended that the 477 feet be used for pedestrian recreationd, with an esplanade and benches . . . "no sunbathing, swimming permitted" . . . which would preserve the status quo of the property with a little beautification.

Mayor Watkins insists that this property can be secured through private subscription, without going to a bond issue for Belvedere residents. Opponents of the measure declare that the city may be stuck with the bill and warn of the remaining bonding capacity of about $230,000.

Proponents of the condemnation suit argue that "any building, no matter what height, no matter how attractive, will remove our view," and opponents counter with "each new development within the city can not be met with costly proceedings."

Whether or not the "one-third open" ruling will be held by future councils or future owners of the property is a moot point . . . and subject to discussion on both sides.

The time schedule for the proposed trial is not yet definite.

If the city is unable to raise the money needed to pay a judgment after the trial, or if the suit is abandoned less than 4 days prior to the date set for the trial, the city will be required to pay all costs, including the developers costs of trial preparation. When the trial date will be set is anybody's guess.

Sentiment in Belvedere, both pro and con, is at a high heat, and the fire is being kindled by both committees, who are sending letters to all Belvedere residents, urging their support.

Whether the "aesthetes" or the "realists" will win will be determined tomorrow.

But what both sides agree is:

If you want the condemnation suit stopped, vote "yes."

KENNEDY

Salinger said Gromyko had told Kennedy that his government is studying the British plan carefully and intends to reply in the near future.

Asked whether Gromyko had indicated what the general tone of the Soviet reply will be, Salinger said "He did not."

While other problems were discussed to some extent, Salinger reported, most of the conference dealt with the Laotian crisis.

Gromyko said he had expressed to the president "certani considerations" of Soviet Premier Nikita Krushchev and the government in Moscow on the crisis. He did not spell out these considerations.

Gromyko said he did not bring any written message for the president. His reply to a question about a message clearly indicated he had given Kennedy an oral message from Khrushchev.

Gromyko reported that he had "touched on" the issue of a ceasefire in Laos during his talk with Kennedy but "I have nothing to say on that at this moment."

Officer Charles Newman and Sgt. David McIntosh of Corte Madera discovered the break-in at 5:20 a.m. today. Sergeant McIntosh said the premises had been checked and found unmolested only 50 minutes earlier.

Belvedere Will Vote On Cove Land Suit

til the market value is set by the trial, and established by the court.

Leading the fight to keep the city's waterfront open is Mayor Robert P. Watkins, outspoken opponent of the land company on the tidelands issue. The "Cove Conservation Committee" is urging residents to vote "no" on Tuesday and continue the condemnation suit.

The "Citizens' Committee For A Yes Vote" is appealing to voters for the end to the condemnation proceedings and is backed on the council by Councilman John H. Flint, who initiated the resolution for a special election.

The issue first came to the attention of the council when a resident family of Cove Road protested the planning commission's approval of proposed construction of two-story apartment buildings along Beach Road which would result in loss of view and use by Belvedere residents.

The planners had held two regular meetings to discuss the proposal, at which no opponents appeared. Planners decided that the apartments concurred with the zoning, agreed to in 1956, which was that one-third of the frontage remain open to preserve the view. The plans had not come before the council because the area was already subdivided and no variance was asked.

Council members asked for planners recommendations on securing the property for the city and received three. The methods of acquisition suggested were rezoning, establishment of a scenic easement or the outright purchase. After lengthy discussion, the council decided on the latter and voted to file a condemnation suit to ascertain a purchase price.

In a late-hour surprise move at the council meeting in February, councilman Flint asked for a special election "because I am concerned with the impact on our bonding capacity if we purchase this property." Committee meetings with the land company on a price had resulted in a deadlock, and construction was being held up until a decision coluld be reached.

Opponents of the condemnation suit sharply criticize the wording of the ballot proposition, citing that "voters who confused, misled, or uninformed usually vote 'no.'" They also point out that the executive costs of litigation in addition to the sky-rocketing price of waterfront property would paid for by Belvedere residents for only 191 feet of view area along Beach Road . . . They call the suit "a gamble by the city council."

Proponents of the suit charge that "by the time two-thirds of the area is built in two-story apartment houses there will be an attraction to building the remaining third also in apartment houses" and cite the future expense of purchasing waterfront property for recreational use. The Recreation Commission has recommended that the 477 feet be used for pedestrian recreationd, with an esplanade and benches . . . "no sunbathing, swimming permitted" . . . which would preserve the status quo of the property with a little beautification.

Mayor Watkins insists that this property can be secured through private subscription, without going to a bond issue for Belvedere residents. Opponents of the measure declare that the city may be stuck with the bill and warn of the remaining bonding capacity of about $230,000.

Proponents of the condemnation suit argue that "any building, no matter what height, no matter how attractive, will remove our view," and opponents counter with "each new development within the city can not be met with costly proceedings."

Whether or not the "one-third open" ruling will be held by future councils or future owners of the property is a moot point . . . and subject to discussion on both sides.

The time schedule for the proposed trial is not yet definite.

If the city is unable to raise the money needed to pay a judgment after the trial, or if the suit is abandoned less than 4 days prior to the date set for the trial, the city will be required to pay all costs, including the developers costs of trial preparation. When the trial date will be set is anybody's guess.

Sentiment in Belvedere, both pro and con, is at a high heat, and the fire is being kindled by both committees, who are sending letters to all Belvedere residents, urging their support.

Whether the "aesthetes" or the "realists" will win will be determined tomorrow.

But what both sides agree is: If you want the condemnation suit stopped, vote "yes."

Salinger said Gromyko had told Kennedy that his government is studying the British plan carefully and intends to reply in the near future.

Asked whether Gromyko had indicated what the general tone of the Soviet reply will be, Salinger said "He did not."

While other problems were discussed to some extent, Salinger reported, most of the conference dealt with the Laotian crisis.

Gromyko said he had expressed to the president "certani considerations" of Soviet Premier Nikita Krushchev and the government in Moscow on the crisis. He did not spell out these considerations.

Gromyko said he did not bring any written message for the president. His reply to a question about a message clearly indicated he had given Kennedy an oral message from Khrushchev.

Gromyko reported that he had "touched on" the issue of a ceasefire in Laos during his talk with Kennedy but "I have nothing to say on that at this moment."

worth of drugs, reported Robert Catterthwaite, pharmacist.

The narcotics stock has been kept low at the store because it has been broken into twice previously with a year.

Officer Charles Newman and Sgt. David McIntosh of Corte Madera discovered the break-in at 5:20 a.m. today. A window had been broken next to a door, so that the thief could reach through the opening and unsnap the lock. Sergeant McIntosh said the premises had been checked and found unmolested only 50 minutes earlier.

16 Take Exam For Police Chief

Sixteen men took the written examination for police chief of Mill Valley Saturday and the papers have been sent to Sacramento to be graded by the State Cooperative Personnel Service, City Manager A. E. Almcrants said today.

Among those taking the test for the opening to be left May 1 when James P. McGowan retires were Four Mill Valley policemen: Charles H. McCourtney, Dan Terzich, Lee Sellers and Carl E. Mead Jr.

When results are returned, Almcrants said, a date will be set for the oral examination. After that, Almcrants will select the new chief from the three top applicants.

Mrs. Chandler, of 285 Tamalpais Road, was given first aid by Fairfax police before the arrival of the ambulance which was summoned by her husband. Police Chief Clifton Cordes said Mrs. Chandler inflicted the wounds with a razor blade.

Almost half a million dollars of local sales tax and use tax revenues was distributed to Marin during the first quarter of 1961, announced Paul R. Leaks, Third District member of the State Board of Equalization.

Total sales tax revenue distributed was $457,251. Of this amount $67,478 was paid to Marin County. San Rafael was the highest paid city with $213,720; $31,197 went to Corte Madera, $11,007 to Fairfax, $1,759 to Belvedere; $38,782 to Mill Valley, $30,600 to Sausalito, $23,923 San Anselmo, $23,788 to Novato, $13,984 to Larkspur and $1,013 to Ross.

Twenty-three of the 25 counties in the Third District received $3,670,000 from sales tax collections, Leake reported.

Kelly Finds Long-Lost Relatives For Woman

Frank Kelly, police chief of Sonoma and long-time chief in San Rafael, is getting to be quite an expert in finding missing relatives.

Thanks to Kelly, a 19-year-old El Verano housewife has found the mother she could not remember.

Mrs. Donna Rae Little, a mother of two, recently sought the chief's help in locating her mother. She said she had been put into a foster home in St. Louis, Mo., when she was a baby.

She had tried to locate her mother, her father, Raymond Ray Reed, and a younger sister, Judy Ann, without success.

Chief Kelly sent the information to the chief of police in St. Louis. The St. Louis chief learned that after Mrs. Reed was discharged from a St. Louis hospital in 1941, she had married a Don Schmidt and was in Yermo, San Bernardino County.

Off went another letter, from Kelley to the sheriff of San Bernardino County, asking for help in locating Mrs. Schmidt. The sheriff found Mrs. Schmidt still living with her husband in Yermo, and Donna's younger sister, now married, also in the same area.

Kelly later received word that Donna's father, Raymond Reed, is now living in Hagerstown, Md.

Last Christmas time two San Rafael brothers who had not seen their father in many years asked Kelly for assistance. The chief found the father in Eureka, and the family was reunited in Sonoma.

Marin Building Takes Drop In February

Building construction showed a decrease in Marin and four other Bay Area counties in February compared with the previous month, the U.S. Department of Commerce San Francisco field office reported today.

Total Marin construction in February was valued at $2,930,000, compared with $3,278,000 for January. The figure was up, however, over February, 1960, when the valuation totaled $1,903,000.

Residential construction was valued at $2,355,000 for 150 units in February, compared with $2,521,000 for 154 units in January.

Building activity in the nine-county Bay Area was at about the same level as January, however, the department reported. Four counties showed increases.

The value of residential permits issued in February in the nine-county area dropped 15 per cent below January and 21 per cent below February 1960.

The first regular ferry run between San Francisco and Oakland was made by Capt. Thomas Gray's propeller steamer Kangaroo in 1850.

Gadget Warns Drivers Of Police Radar Traps

NORTH TONAWANDA, N.Y. (UPI) — A new gadget has been developed to warn unwitting motorists they are approaching police radar speed-measuring devices.

The device is especially designed to aid drivers who are going just a little over a speed limit — up to 10 miles an hour —but it will not do much good for dangerous speeders.

William L. Waytena, 33, general manager of Radatron, Inc., which developed the 11-ounce gadget named radar sentry, said he has checked with local and state police about the device and received no complaints.

"We have received hundreds of letters, especially from the south, complaining against the uncouth tactics of police in hiding their radar installations in trees or bushes or stopping motorists going only one or two miles over the speed limit," Waytena said.

"If police are really sincere about using radar as a safety or preventive check, they should have no objections to the Sentry. Many times police actually point out their radar sites so motorists would be forewarned and slow down."

The device, which operates on a battery, feels radar impulses which are focusing on a moving car from 1,200 to 1,500 feet away. This is about 1,000 feet beyond the critical point where a police monitor can begin measuring the speed of the auto with accuracy.

Waytena said that the device would not permit drivers to speed with immunity and it cannot be misused by reckless speeders.

"If a person was going 50 M.P.H. in a 30 M.P.H. zone, radar sentry could not give him effective warning to slow down in time to avoid apprehension on the police monitor," he said.

The Sentry, which fits on the dash board or sun visor, lets off a whistle when first contact is made with radar waves. The whistling gets louder as the car moves toward the radar installation.

Marin Scientist Will Lead Summer Tour To Europe

Dr. Tom Groody of Belvedere, professor of biological science at Alameda State College, will lead a 68-day tour to Europe for students and young adults this summer.

The tour, Campus Europe 1961, is offered by Budds Travcland Tours of San Rafael. It will leave San Francisco for New York City June 14, and depart New York the same day aboard a Sabena Belgian World Airlines jet.

The group will visit England, Netherlands, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, Sicily, France and Belgium.

Dr. Groody taught at the 3-R School in San Rafael from 1958-60. He is well known for his television and radio educational programs.

The tour includes six days cruising up the Rhine River from Rotterdam to Basel, Switzerland, and 14 days at the Club Mediterranee in Palermo.

Sausalito was first settled by a young Irishman, John Read, who constructed the first permanent home of a white man in Marin County.

Master Plan For Canal Area Mulled

A master-plan type of program for the whole San Rafael canal area was discussed at the Recreation and Parks Committee of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce at its noon luncheon meeting Friday.

The future use of the city owned property on which leases are expiring was discussed. It was proposed that a municipal docking facility with a park and recreational facility be built on that area, Paul J. Richards, chamber manager, reported.

The committee also discussed dredging of San Rafael Canal. The federal government has allocated $185,000 for dredging, Richards said.

The committee asked the chamber Board of Directors to write to the state and federal government urging immediate action on this project.

Joe Rodota, San Rafael park and recreational director, reported that negotiations are in progress for the purchase of a six-acre park in Glenwood.

Education Board Due Site Report

The San Rafael Board of Education will hear a report from its architect at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow on the condition of the site for the new Laurel Dell Intermediate School.

Members will then decide whether they are ready to call for bids on the project.

Also on the agenda are consideration of revision of the building schedule at Terra Linda High School, report on the elementary science program, and budget discussions.

Taxation Censorship Perils Rights Of Speech, Petition

Among the oldest and most cherished rights and freedoms of the American people are these spelled out in the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States—the Bill of Rights:

"Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech, or of . . . the right of the people . . . to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Congress isn't to blame. It didn't pass a law placing a tax on your individual liberty, free speech, freedom of the press, and your constitutional right to petition the government. This was done by a ruling of the Internal Revenue Service.

But Congress could be blamed for permitting this condition to continue if it fails to pass one of several bills now before it.

The purpose of these bills is to allow income tax deduction of expenses an individual or a business might incur in expressing opinions about legislation or other government matters.

Such expenses are not deductible now. In December, 1959, the Internal Revenue Service put the following regulation in effect:

"Expenditures . . . for the promotion or defeat of legislation . . . or for carrying on propaganda (including advertising) . . . to influence the public with respect to the desirability or undesirability of proposed legislation are not deductible as a business expense, even though the legislation may directly affect the taxpayer's business."

If fighting for one's economic life through the uninhibited expression of opinion isn't a legitimate business expense—what in heaven's name is?

If tax-exempt groups and lobbying organizations can plead their cases without losing their tax exempt status, why can't an individual or private business do so without penalty?

There is a principle of fair play at stake in this. It's part of the American way to let every side have its say. When one side has to pay a penalty — not levied on another—to make its point, it is not consistent with our ideal of fairness.

The ultimate danger in the present policy is that the government could, if it chose, stifle criticism and censor political views through punitive taxation. Summing up this danger, the magazine Editor & Publisher said:

"The free press guarantee of the Bill of Rights was designed to give everyone equal opportunity to write as they pleased and to use a printing press to disseminate those opinions about public affairs, legislation, etc.

"The guarantee no longer is operative if the government can rule that the expression of certain opinions is taxable and the utterances of others is non-taxable. Once the precedent is established there will be nothing to prevent an extension of the ruling to enlarge the taxable opinion' — those opinions about public affairs, governmental procedure and legislation which may not be uttered without penalty of taxation by the government."

Congress has the power and the opportunity to remove this real threat of censorship by taxation. Your opinion, and those of millions of other Americans who value our freedoms, can help to influence passage of this needed legislation. — San Diego Evening Tribune.

Marin's Date Palm

Date palms are generally associated with the burning sand and intense heat of desert climates. But even cool Marin has some fine specimens.

Our county's date palm would never make a fortune with its colorful, orange, but tasteless fruit. But with its squat trunk and the graceful sweep of its long, feathery (and dangerously thorny) fronds, it is one of the Bay Regions most handsome trees.

We mean, of course, the Canary Island date palm. This immigrant from these islands off the coast of Africa, like many other plant immigrants, has found a happy second home here.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Monday's Mail Tells How U.S. Businessman Is Stubborn Hero

The stubbornest American hero is the small businessman . . . As part of the U. S. dream some 400 thousand people will start a new small business this year . . . The odds are that 10 years from now only one out of five of these small enterprises will still be alive.

Here's another indication of the high mortality: The median age of our 4¼ million business firms is only seven years . . . It takes more than blind courage to succeed in business . . . You usually also need know-how and capital.

If cleanliness is really next to godliness, we're getting nearer heaven every year. Someone has estimated Americans now take half a billion baths weekly.

Body glue: Japanese medics have found they can close surgical incisions in two minutes by using a new adhesive instead of traditional needlework. The stick stuff, an American synthetic resin, is absorbed by the body within a week.

Prosperity note: If you earned $12,000 last year, you had the same purchasing power, after taxes, as did a man in 1939 who earned $6,000.

Geographical tidbit: Some Irish claim the town with the sweetest-sounding name is Clonmel in County Tipperary. Its actual meaning in Gaelic is "Meadow of Honey."

Martial mathematics: There is an old saying in Germany that the best age for a bride is half the husbands age plus seven.

Insominia ever bother you? In rural Wales an ancient cure for sleeplessness is to put a container of milk under your bed. But modern doctors here say you're more likely to get results if you warm the milk and put some of it in your stomach.

THERE'S BEEN so much talk of Americans losing their sense of personal honesty, it's a pleasure to report this indication of return to sterner moral: The Hotel Edison here says many tourists now prefer to buy hotel towels as souvenirs rather than steal them.

Signs that sell: Seen in a pet shop in Houston, Tex.: "Situation wanted. Healthy kitten seeks good home. Honest, loyal, sober—and will do light mousework."

NEED TO CLEAN your eyeglasses in a hurry? A fresh dollar bill will do the job well.

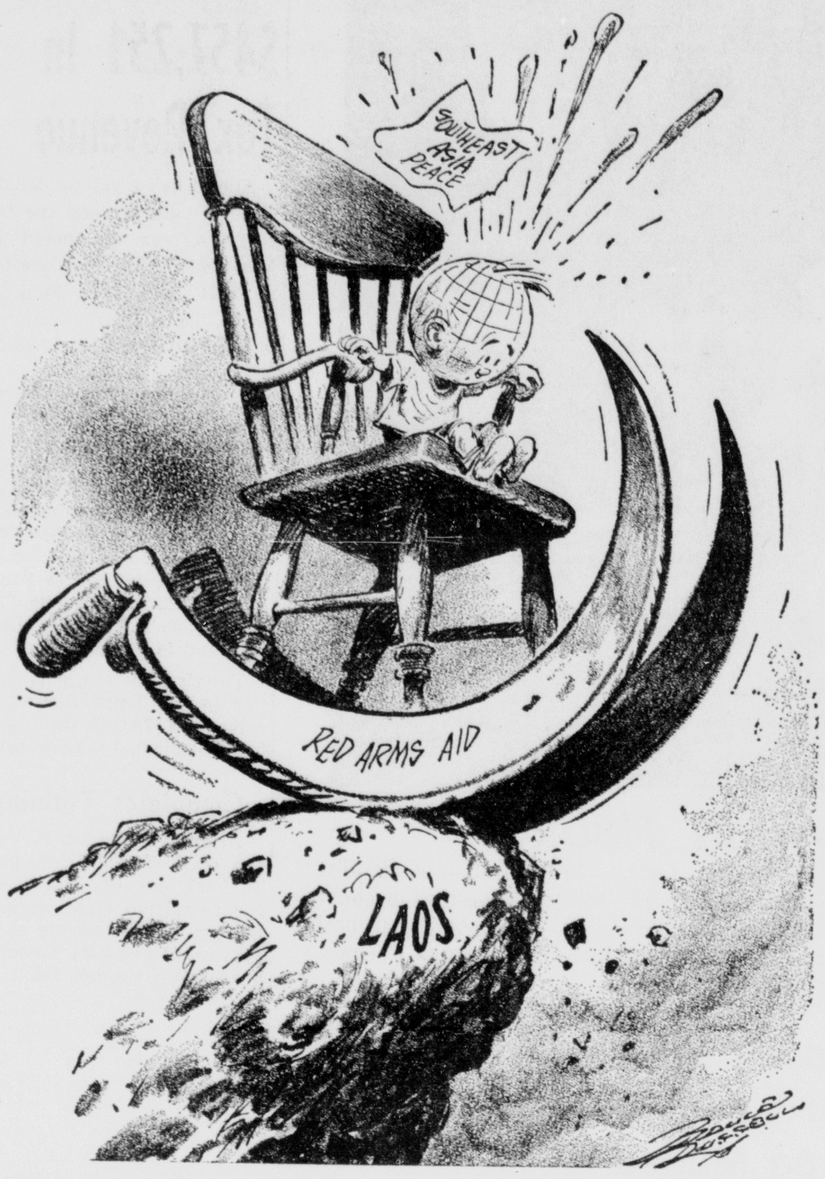

It was Gertrude Stein who observed, "In the United States there is more space where nobody is than where anybody is. That is what America what she is."

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fusselman Theory Is Fantastic

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I wondered about Mr. Fusselman's arithmetic when he brought about a halt in the construction of the new County Center. I have to do more than wonder about his statement concerning the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore, as reported in your paper this evening.

He is reported to have said, "if they paid the ranchers the going price, then leased back, in time the ranchers would pay back the cost from the lease money. It amounts to a camouflage of confiscation."

This is a fantastic statement. If true, which it is not, it would overturn our economic system without any help from the Russians.

There may be good reasons for opposing the National Seashore project, of which I am not aware, but opposition based on such nonsense as this must appear ridiculous at Washington, and elsewhere, in contrast with a great national interest involving all future generations.

Liberal, Exploiter Not The Same

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the Independent-Journal of March 14 there are two related items on the editorial page, one almost answering some of the questions raised by the other.

Paul Haerle says theres is much that might be criticized in the conduct of the UnAmerican Activities Committee. He states that the committee "has often left much to be desired from the standpoint of procedural due process."

Mr. Haerle then suggests that "liberals" only speak up when Communitsts are attacked. In his words "it is distressing whenever the issue of internal Communist activity is raised, to hear nothing but strident anti-Communism from the forces of organized liberals.

The I-J reporter, Ellen Bry, in reviewing the effect of the film "Operation Abolition" quotes Fred Dupuis as suggesting that a"liberal" who consciously believes that the UnAmerican Activities Committee is unfair and unconstitutional faces the "almost impossible tighrope walk of opposition without falling into the "Communist" category, in reality or through name calling."

Mr. Dupuis is right. If someone simply defends Communists without equally coming to the defense of any others whose civil liberties are violated, it is difficult, yes, impossible, to defend that position as civil libertarian. It is akin to the "peace" position that criticizes United States conduct in Cuba, but refuses to criticize Russian unilateral action in the Congo.

The point, of course, is that not everyone falls into the neat trap that Mr. Dupuis tries to set. We are more discerning of the issues than he presumes.

Item for the record: The American Civil Liberties Union has an enviable principle of defending the rights of free speech (as distinguished from acts) of all, including extreme right-wing, even Nazi type organizations and individuals. No Communist would do that and Mr. Dupuis, the former FBI agent, does, or should know that. Another way to say the same thing: to defend a person's right to speak should not imply to Mr. Dupuis that there is any agreement with those ideas. Mr. Dupuis does a disservice to the cause of clarity when he suggests otherwise.

Item for the record: Of course, the Communists were at the San Francisco City Hall last May and were trying to exploit the situation for all it was worth, not out of a concern for freedom, but merely as a political tactic. Witness Archie Brown's deplorable antics in the committee room.

However, most of those who came to the City Hall came, not because they were Communists or Communists' "dupes," but because they were aghast at the revolting antics of the committee. There is ample evidence of this, if those who are curious would care to inquire of other sources than the most justly maligned film. This is precisely a criticism of the film—it fails to distinguish between those who have a vital concern for civil liberties and those who would exploit them.

The recently renewed interest of young people, who have great moral indignation at injustice in the world and who want to do something about it, is greatly to be admired. It is a real change from both the materialism and the conformity of an earlier era. These people are concerned with ends and means, so absent in the Communist Party approach. Mr. Dupuis does those young people a great disservice by trying to stifle their righteous indignation.

U.S. Should Give Recreation Land

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Even now, while one arm of the federal government is considering a plan which would result in purchase and development (at the cost of millions of dollars) of the Point Reyes area as a national park, another arm of the federal government (General Services Administration) is engaged in setting prices on land to be sold to cities for park use—prices that in some cases may be too high for the city, even if it is only half of the appraised value.

If, as the President has indicated, prompt action is necessary to reserve lands now for recreational use by future generations, why should not the federal government GIVE surplus lands to cities, counties and states IF these lands are forever devoted solely to non-commercial recreation.

Certainly Marin County would stand to benefit from such a policy now and in the future.

BENNETT CERF

A mortified lady motorist was hauled before a village justice of the peace by a motorcycle cop who announced, "Judging by the way this here woman handles a car in traffic, I don't think she can see very well."

The justice didn't look too surprised. "We'll just give her the little old eye test," he said. "Lady, please read the third line of that chart on the wall."

Without hesitation, the lady spelled out "Y-M-P-J-C."

"Better still," boomed the justice of the peace. "How many?"

Overheard at the marriage license bureau: "My girl and I would like to know when this license expires."

At a recent city council meeting the new owner said, "Yes, that's right, 23 apartments; yes, we plan to save most of the rose garden."

THE OTHER DAY we looked in between the row of cypress trees, saw the big iron gate, the 12-foot double doors, the rose garden rimmed with privet, the fountain. We noticed that, before leaving, someone had carefully put ashes around the foot of each rose.

There stands the almond, there stands the white magnolia, the yucca, the white camellia, the alyssum.

WHAT WERE the other days?

Allyn Young of Sausalito tells of his visit as a boy. "They had two great big dogs, one had a tail so big it would knock the kids down. Kids rode on the dogs like elephants."

Says Mabel Wosser, retired librarian, "Every week for several years Mrs. Selim Woodworth, the most recent owner, brought bouquets of flowers from her garden to the library.

"I was there, with my mother, the night of a big party in the ballroom. We wondered why certain people never came and found out later that the San Rafael and Sausalito ferries had rammed each other. It was so foggy you couldn't see the gate.

"The house used to have another story when it was the San Francisco Yacht Club and when the Spreckels had it. The Woodworths had it taken off."

MATTS PERRY said, "John D. Spreckels, the original sugar king, built the home. He also had a stables on Second Street and a garage on Second which is now an apartment house.

"There was an old saying that every morning when Spreckels came down to catch the ferry to go to San Francisco to work, he would leave a $5 gold piece with the waitress, Mama Kistenmacher in the Arbordale bar, and the cronies would sit around all day and drink it up."

THE DEATH of the lady is a sign of the times. It's too costly to keep as it is.

Other people will come to South Street to look out across the bay through the Norfolk Island pine. Other people will have parties on foggy nights in apartment living rooms above the remains of the yellow rose garden.

It Appears Mr. K. Doesn't Want To Negotiate About Anything

WASHINGTON—Each day the evidence increases that Premier Khrushchev has no intention whatsoever to resolve any aspect of the cold war.

Just the opposite—whether it be at Geneva, the Congo, the U. N., or Laos.

Understandably President Kennedy and Secretary Rusk want to exhaust the full potential of "quiet diplomacy" before concluding that the Kremlin will not settle any conflict-of-interest between the U. S. and the Soviet Union.

During the final months of the Eisenhower administration, Mr. K. used reasons, which were seemingly justifiable arguments in the eyes of many people, for breaking virtually all diplomatic contact with the U. S.

BUT DESPITE his efforts to keep the diplomatic waters unruffled, President Kennedy is finding Khrushchev unresponsive, at times almost unreachable. The evidence is becoming formidable to suggest that Mr. K. was not just against negotiating with Eisenhower, but was against negotiating at all.

Look at the evidence:

1—At a time when the United Nations is shielding the Congo from external interference, the Soviets demand the immediate withdrawal of the U. N.

2—At a time when the U. N. Secretary General is demonstrating that only the U. N. can bring peace to the Congo, the Soviets demand that Dag Hammarskjold be removed.

3—WHILE TALKING about willingness to negotiate cold-war issues, the Soviets evade negotiating for a neutral and independent Laos during their military build-up of the anti-government forces.

4—At the resumption of the test-ban negotiations at Geneva, when the U. S. is offering concessions on inspection, the Soviets withdraw their previous agreement and propose that the control commission be headed, not by a single administrator, but by a three-man committee — a device to immobilize it.

This pattern of Soviet action caused Ambassador Stevenson in New York to describe the latest Kremlin course "as in the worst and most destructive tradition of the cold war."

On the test ban and on arms control President Kennedy is quite properly seeking to find out for himself whether Khrushchev wants to negotiate seriously or merely wants to use any apparent tamping down of the cold war to press for more Communist gains.

If Mr. K. wants to throw away all prospect of meaningful negotiation with the new administration, he can do so by bringing the situation in Laos to the brink of open East-West hostilities.

BUT WHAT Mr. K. cannot do is to talk "peaceful co-existence" and simultaneously try to bring about the unpeaceful non-existence of Laos.

There are siren voices which suggest that Khrushchev urgently needs to "show results" if he is to avoid being pushed into a more aggressive policy as advocated by his Red China partner. If "getting results" means getting a mutually acceptable agreement on a test ban or on a beginning toward disarmament, Kennedy is ready. But if "getting results" means seizing Laos, the U. S. government shows every sign of saying no—and meaning it.

Taxation Censorship Perils Rights Of Speech, Petition

Among the oldest and most cherished rights and freedoms of the American people are these spelled out in the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States—the Bill of Rights:

"Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech, or of . . . the right of the people . . . to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

These freedoms of yours are in danger. The peril is the powerful weapon of taxation.

Congress isn't to blame. It didn't pass a law placing a tax on your individual liberty, free speech, freedom of the press, and your constitutional right to petition the government. This was done by a ruling of the Internal Revenue Service.

But Congress could be blamed for permitting this condition to continue if it fails to pass one of several bills now before it.

The purpose of these bills is to allow income tax deduction of expenses an individual or a business might incur in expressing opinions about legislation or other government matters.

"Expenditures . . . for the promotion or defeat of legislation . . . or for carrying on propaganda (including advertising) . . . to influence the public with respect to the desirability or undesirability of proposed legislation are not deductible as a business expense, even though the legislation may directly affect the taxpayer's business."

If fighting for one's economic life through the uninhibited expression of opinion isn't a legitimate business expense—what in heaven's name is?

If tax-exempt groups and lobbying organizations can plead their cases without losing their tax exempt status, why can't an individual or private business do so without penalty?

There is a principle of fair play at stake in this. It's part of the American way to let every side have its say. When one side has to pay a penalty — not levied on another—to make its point, it is not consistent with our ideal of fairness.

The ultimate danger in the present policy is that the government could, if it chose, stifle criticism and censor political views through punitive taxation. Summing up this danger, the magazine Editor & Publisher said:

"The free press guarantee of the Bill of Rights was designed to give everyone equal opportunity to write as they pleased and to use a printing press to disseminate those opinions about public affairs, legislation, etc.

"The guarantee no longer is operative if the government can rule that the expression of certain opinions is taxable and the utterances of others is non-taxable. Once the precedent is established there will be nothing to prevent an extension of the ruling to enlarge the taxable opinion' — those opinions about public affairs, governmental procedure and legislation which may not be uttered without penalty of taxation by the government."

Congress has the power and the opportunity to remove this real threat of censorship by taxation. Your opinion, and those of millions of other Americans who value our freedoms, can help to influence passage of this needed legislation. — San Diego Evening Tribune.

Marin's Date Palm

Date palms are generally associated with the burning sand and intense heat of desert climates. But even cool Marin has some fine specimens.

Our county's date palm would never make a fortune with its colorful, orange, but tasteless fruit. But with its squat trunk and the graceful sweep of its long, feathery (and dangerously thorny) fronds, it is one of the Bay Regions most handsome trees.

We mean, of course, the Canary Island date palm. This immigrant from these islands off the coast of Africa, like many other plant immigrants, has found a happy second home here.

Monday's Mail Tells How U.S. Businessman Is Stubborn Hero

The stubbornest American hero is the small businessman . . . As part of the U. S. dream some 400 thousand people will start a new small business this year . . . The odds are that 10 years from now only one out of five of these small enterprises will still be alive.

Here's another indication of the high mortality: The median age of our 4¼ million business firms is only seven years . . . It takes more than blind courage to succeed in business . . . You usually also need know-how and capital.

If cleanliness is really next to godliness, we're getting nearer heaven every year. Someone has estimated Americans now take half a billion baths weekly.

Body glue: Japanese medics have found they can close surgical incisions in two minutes by using a new adhesive instead of traditional needlework. The stick stuff, an American synthetic resin, is absorbed by the body within a week.

Prosperity note: If you earned $12,000 last year, you had the same purchasing power, after taxes, as did a man in 1939 who earned $6,000.

Geographical tidbit: Some Irish claim the town with the sweetest-sounding name is Clonmel in County Tipperary. Its actual meaning in Gaelic is "Meadow of Honey."

Martial mathematics: There is an old saying in Germany that the best age for a bride is half the husbands age plus seven.

Insominia ever bother you? In rural Wales an ancient cure for sleeplessness is to put a container of milk under your bed. But modern doctors here say you're more likely to get results if you warm the milk and put some of it in your stomach.

THERE'S BEEN so much talk of Americans losing their sense of personal honesty, it's a pleasure to report this indication of return to sterner moral: The Hotel Edison here says many tourists now prefer to buy hotel towels as souvenirs rather than steal them.

Signs that sell: Seen in a pet shop in Houston, Tex.: "Situation wanted. Healthy kitten seeks good home. Honest, loyal, sober—and will do light mousework."

NEED TO CLEAN your eyeglasses in a hurry? A fresh dollar bill will do the job well.

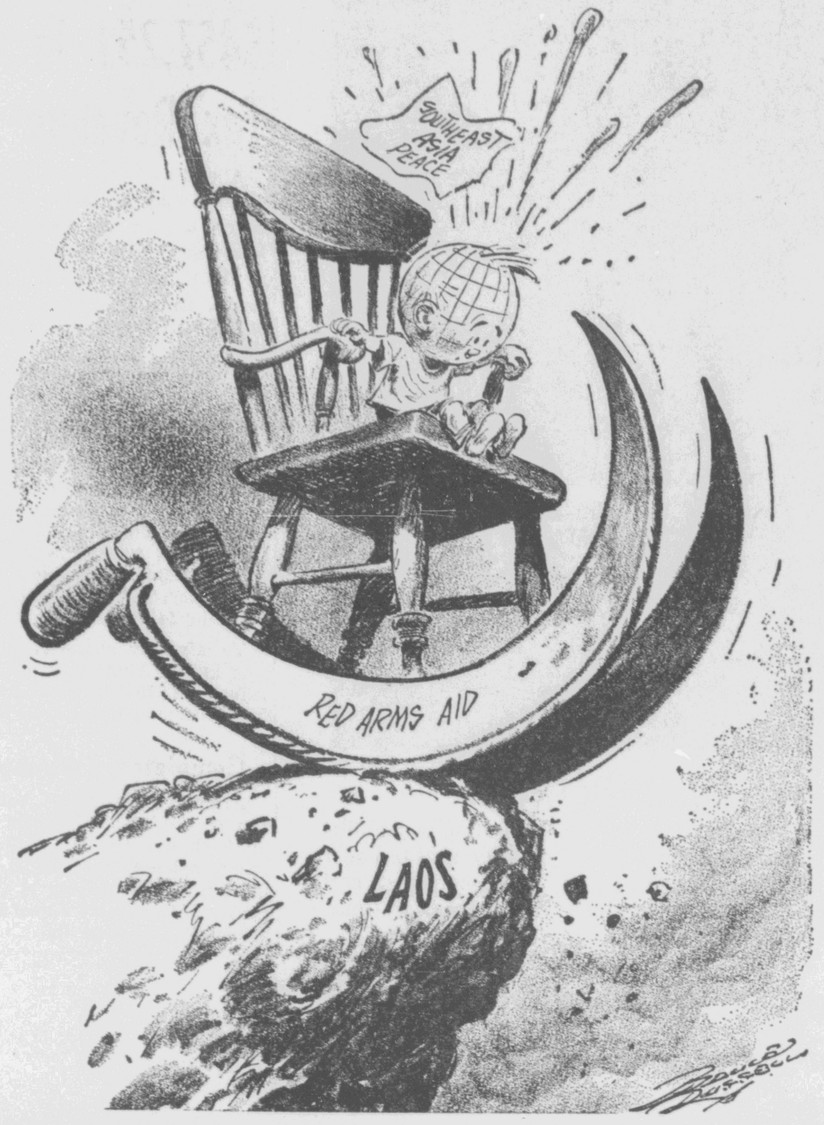

It was Gertrude Stein who observed, "In the United States there is more space where nobody is than where anybody is. That is what America what she is."

Fusselman Theory Is Fantastic

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I wondered about Mr. Fusselman's arithmetic when he brought about a halt in the construction of the new County Center. I have to do more than wonder about his statement concerning the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore, as reported in your paper this evening.

He is reported to have said, "if they paid the ranchers the going price, then leased back, in time the ranchers would pay back the cost from the lease money. It amounts to a camouflage of confiscation."

This is a fantastic statement. If true, which it is not, it would overturn our economic system without any help from the Russians.

There may be good reasons for opposing the National Seashore project, of which I am not aware, but opposition based on such nonsense as this must appear ridiculous at Washington, and elsewhere, in contrast with a great national interest involving all future generations.

Liberal, Exploiter Not The Same

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the Independent-Journal of March 14 there are two related items on the editorial page, one almost answering some of the questions raised by the other.

Paul Haerle says theres is much that might be criticized in the conduct of the UnAmerican Activities Committee. He states that the committee "has often left much to be desired from the standpoint of procedural due process."

Mr. Haerle then suggests that "liberals" only speak up when Communitsts are attacked. In his words "it is distressing whenever the issue of internal Communist activity is raised, to hear nothing but strident anti-Communism from the forces of organized liberals.

The I-J reporter, Ellen Bry, in reviewing the effect of the film "Operation Abolition" quotes Fred Dupuis as suggesting that a"liberal" who consciously believes that the UnAmerican Activities Committee is unfair and unconstitutional faces the "almost impossible tighrope walk of opposition without falling into the "Communist" category, in reality or through name calling."

Mr. Dupuis is right. If someone simply defends Communists without equally coming to the defense of any others whose civil liberties are violated, it is difficult, yes, impossible, to defend that position as civil libertarian. It is akin to the "peace" position that criticizes United States conduct in Cuba, but refuses to criticize Russian unilateral action in the Congo.

The point, of course, is that not everyone falls into the neat trap that Mr. Dupuis tries to set. We are more discerning of the issues than he presumes.

Item for the record: The American Civil Liberties Union has an enviable principle of defending the rights of free speech (as distinguished from acts) of all, including extreme right-wing, even Nazi type organizations and individuals. No Communist would do that and Mr. Dupuis, the former FBI agent, does, or should know that. Another way to say the same thing: to defend a person's right to speak should not imply to Mr. Dupuis that there is any agreement with those ideas. Mr. Dupuis does a disservice to the cause of clarity when he suggests otherwise.

Item for the record: Of course, the Communists were at the San Francisco City Hall last May and were trying to exploit the situation for all it was worth, not out of a concern for freedom, but merely as a political tactic. Witness Archie Brown's deplorable antics in the committee room.

However, most of those who came to the City Hall came, not because they were Communists or Communists' "dupes," but because they were aghast at the revolting antics of the committee. There is ample evidence of this, if those who are curious would care to inquire of other sources than the most justly maligned film. This is precisely a criticism of the film—it fails to distinguish between those who have a vital concern for civil liberties and those who would exploit them.

The recently renewed interest of young people, who have great moral indignation at injustice in the world and who want to do something about it, is greatly to be admired. It is a real change from both the materialism and the conformity of an earlier era. These people are concerned with ends and means, so absent in the Communist Party approach. Mr. Dupuis does those young people a great disservice by trying to stifle their righteous indignation.

U.S. Should Give Recreation Land

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Even now, while one arm of the federal government is considering a plan which would result in purchase and development (at the cost of millions of dollars) of the Point Reyes area as a national park, another arm of the federal government (General Services Administration) is engaged in setting prices on land to be sold to cities for park use—prices that in some cases may be too high for the city, even if it is only half of the appraised value.

If, as the President has indicated, prompt action is necessary to reserve lands now for recreational use by future generations, why should not the federal government GIVE surplus lands to cities, counties and states IF these lands are forever devoted solely to non-commercial recreation.

Certainly Marin County would stand to benefit from such a policy now and in the future.

A mortified lady motorist was hauled before a village justice of the peace by a motorcycle cop who announced, "Judging by the way this here woman handles a car in traffic, I don't think she can see very well."

The justice didn't look too surprised. "We'll just give her the little old eye test," he said. "Lady, please read the third line of that chart on the wall."

Without hesitation, the lady spelled out "Y-M-P-J-C."

Fairfax Garbage Case Ruling Is Given By Judge

The City of Fairfax's garbage ordinance is constitutional, and therefore resident John A. Celle must face prosecution on a charge of violating that ordinance.

This ruling was handed down Friday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court. Celle, a produce man living at 25 Pacheco Avenue, contends he does not need garbage service and the city has no right to force it on him. Ricco Roffi has the exclusive franchise to collect garbage.

Judge Wilson commented "The question is whether the means adopted by the city; namely, designating a private scavenger as the official garbage collector and requiring all inhabitants to use the collector's services, is a reasonable means . . ."

Celle must appear in court on March 30 to plead to the charge.

Construction Industry Center Plans On San Rafael Architect's Boards

Plans for a 2.7-acre construction industry center to be located at the northwest corner of Belvedere and Alto Streets in east San Rafael are now on the drawing boards of architect Felix M. Warburg, 24 H Street, San Rafael.

Already certain to be part of the development is a new 5,000-square-foot, two-story office building to house the Marin Builders Exchange now located at 53 Jordan Street. The exchange will occupy the better part of the lower floor; other offices in the building will be occupied by member firms and construction trade organizations.

Manager E. Douglas Roberts of the exchange said that every effort has been made in the design of the building to facilitate the handling of services for the construction industry. It will include a large plan room, phone-answering service and a conference room for members.

Proposed pattern of the industrial center includes several other buildings grouped around a central landscaped courtyard with outdoor and indoor storage and assembly space for general and subcontractors, and display areas for building materials exhibits.

Present lease of the Marin Builders Exchange at 53 Jordan Street does not expire until June, 1962, so it is conceivable that construction of some of the other buildings in the center may see earlier completion.

H. S. Meinberger and Son, San Rafael, is the general contractor for the proposed center. The commercial department of Frank Howard Allen and Son Real Estate will act as leasing agent.

LITTLE GEM Construction Co., Sausalito, about two years in the business of remodeling homes and commercial structures in Southern Marin, has now incorporated at a capitalization of $50,000 in $10 par shares.

Principals in the company are Othell Mallouf and Eugene De Prado of Sausalito, Christopher Bratt of Mill Valley and James Holland of San Anselmo.

SELECTED TO REPRESENT the western home furnishings industry on the fifth annual Pacific Area Business Development Tour which leaves San Francisco for the Far East on April 14 are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bellach, owners and operators of Bellach's Furniture, San Rafael.

Snuggled calmly into the landscape, this leisure cabin is a weekend hide-away for Rod Lawrence and his family. Just hours from their city home, yet a million miles from routine.

It wouldn't be here today except for a decision Rod and Virginia Lawrence made a few years back. That's when they began to plan in earnest toward the things they wanted out of life. They started in a modest way—with a Crocker-Anglo savings account.

Soon they learned how many other ways their bank could help them manage money better. When their savings had grown to the point where Rod could buy a small apartment house, Crocker-Anglo's real estate loan department helped him finance it. Later on, the C-A trust department helped set up the Lawrences' first investment program. And when Rod's business took the family overseas for a few years, Crocker-Anglo managed the Lawrences' stateside affairs.

They are back now—back to stay. They've just built the leisure cabin you see here . . . one of the many ways Rod and Virginia are getting more living done. Because they had the good sense to plan ahead. And because they used their bank for all it's worth.

Fairfax Garbage Case Ruling Is Given By Judge

The City of Fairfax's garbage ordinance is constitutional, and therefore resident John A. Celle must face prosecution on a charge of violating that ordinance.

This ruling was handed down Friday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court. Celle, a produce man living at 25 Pacheco Avenue, contends he does not need garbage service and the city has no right to force it on him. Ricco Roffi has the exclusive franchise to collect garbage.

Judge Wilson commented "The question is whether the means adopted by the city; namely, designating a private scavenger as the official garbage collector and requiring all inhabitants to use the collector's services, is a reasonable means . . ."

Celle must appear in court on March 30 to plead to the charge.

Construction Industry Center Plans On San Rafael Architect's Boards

Plans for a 2.7-acre construction industry center to be located at the northwest corner of Belvedere and Alto Streets in east San Rafael are now on the drawing boards of architect Felix M. Warburg, 24 H Street, San Rafael.

Already certain to be part of the development is a new 5,000-square-foot, two-story office building to house the Marin Builders Exchange now located at 53 Jordan Street. The exchange will occupy the better part of the lower floor; other offices in the building will be occupied by member firms and construction trade organizations.

Manager E. Douglas Roberts of the exchange said that every effort has been made in the design of the building to facilitate the handling of services for the construction industry. It will include a large plan room, phone-answering service and a conference room for members.

Proposed pattern of the industrial center includes several other buildings grouped around a central landscaped courtyard with outdoor and indoor storage and assembly space for general and subcontractors, and display areas for building materials exhibits.

Present lease of the Marin Builders Exchange at 53 Jordan Street does not expire until June, 1962, so it is conceivable that construction of some of the other buildings in the center may see earlier completion.

H. S. Meinberger and Son, San Rafael, is the general contractor for the proposed center. The commercial department of Frank Howard Allen and Son Real Estate will act as leasing agent.

LITTLE GEM Construction Co., Sausalito, about two years in the business of remodeling homes and commercial structures in Southern Marin, has now incorporated at a capitalization of $50,000 in $10 par shares.

Principals in the company are Othell Mallouf and Eugene De Prado of Sausalito, Christopher Bratt of Mill Valley and James Holland of San Anselmo.

Bellach will analyze home furnishings manufacturing and distribution methods used in the large Eastern industrial centers and report to key industry leaders in the West upon his return.

Catcher Haller Top Rookie Candidate

PHOENIX, Ariz., (UPI) — Tom Haller, big rookie catcher for Tacoma, can't seem to stop hitting for the San Francisco Giants.

The hefty catcher led the assault again yesterday as the Giants outmuscled the Chicago Cubs, 15-10.

Haller, who is hitting an even .500 this spring, belted two homers and drove in six runs.

The Giants outhit the Cubs, 19-13, as the hitters again sparkled and most of the pitchers again sagged. This generally has been the story of the Giants spring campaign.

San Francisco was pretty well set at catcher this year with Bob Schmidt and Hobie Landrith returning, but Haller, who once quarterbacked for Illinois, refuses to get out of the picture. He still might not only make the squad, but could become the regular backstopper.

Willie McCovey went three-for three yesterday and is now hitting .435. Eddie Bressoud got four hits and Willie Mays had two, including a round-tripper. Orlando Cepeda and pitcher Jack Sanford also homered.

GLOOMY SIDE

On the gloomy side, Juan Marichal, rookie sensation of 1960, still was unable to get get anyone out in the '61 Cactus League play. His earned run average is now a whopping 16.36 for the spring.

Sanford has also been hit hard all spring and was shelled again yesterday. The big right-hander has been doing a lot of experimenting on the hill, however, and his performances have not worried the Giant Brass as have Marichal's.

Georges Maranda next took over and the Cubs continued to pound the ball. Finally, Sherm Jones came on in the seventh and hurled three hitless innings.

The teams were to meet in a rematch today. Stu Miller was to start for Manager Al Dark's troops.

The Giants yesterday optioned pitcher Don Choate to Portland of the Pacific Coast League. He pitched for Tacoma last year and posted a 10-15 record.

'Ear Benders' Sees Giants Near Top This Year And Champions In 1962

CONNOLLY

Let's say I'm a chump for "ear benders." By that I mean I can't help listening to guys who borrow your ears to expound their own opinions.

I met one such ear bender the other day, and a very successful business tycoon, with warts on his fingers from counting his money.

"The Giants need one more season," he said. "They won't be far away from the pennant in 1961. But just you watch their smoke in 1962."

So my influential fran went on to say that fellows like Orlando Cepeda, Felipe Alou, Willie McCovey and catcher Bob Schmidt are just a little short of being tabbed experienced big league ball players.

"But don't sell them short," he said. "They'll come flying in 1962 and when they do the Giants will begin the first of their seven 'fat years.'"

I'LL ADMIT the players mentioned have already stuck a couple of years under their belts, gathered a lot of experience, and still have the speed and spirit to go farther.

But remember, there are those who remind me not to go out on a limb—at least not too far. And I'm remembering Sad Sam Jones no longer is a kid; Jack Sanford hasn't yet learned to conquer his anger; Billy O'Dell still is haunted by a jinx complex and Mike McCormick, regardless of what you might say, hasn't yet become of age as a true major league southpaw.

Add to the above factors the idea that Willie Mays hasn't yet adopted San Francisco as his own; Cepeda and Alou and others on the club feel they can do better elsewhere than at Candlestick Park.

SO THERE'S a real selling job to be done on the Giants before they accept the ball park, the weather and wind.

I don't like any of them, either.

It may take Alvin Dark a year to get the Giants completely untangled.

On form, the Horace Stoneham aggregation seem to rate highly. It has an experienced pitching corp, a wealth of power and punch and you can add a touch of youth mixed in with fairish speed.

As a freshman manager, the Giant skipper figures there are five of the eight National League teams with a fighting chance. He won't and never will mention those he thinks definitely are out of the flag chase.

DARK RATES his pitchers high in quality and quantity. He hopes to get at least five of his hurlers moving briskly and doing a lot better than average.

But in this day and age you can't discount the effect competent catching has on a pitching staff.

People openly say they think Tom Haller is a better receiver now than Bob Schmidt. I don't believe it. Johnny Orsino, in my opinion, is the finest catching prospect I've seen in many years. But he happens to bat righthanded, so the Giants lean a little toward Haller because he is a southpaw batter.

Marin Lifter Wins State Championship

Carrol Varner, 22-year-old San Rafael weightlifter, successfully defended his California middleweight title in the 1961 California State Weightlifting Championship at the Embassy Auditorium in Los Angeles on Saturday night.

In a very close contest before an enthusiastic audience of more than 1,100 persons, Varner turned in the best performance of his career, pressing 220, snatching 230, and making a clean-and-jerk of 305 for a 775 totals. This edged the nearest of his seven competitors, Jim Matthews of Los Angeles, who finally finished with 740 in a close battle that wasn't decided until the last lift.

Varner and Mathews will have another go at each other June 22-23 as they were the qualifying lifters in their class for the National Weightlifting Championships, which will be contested at Santa Monica's Civic Auditorium.

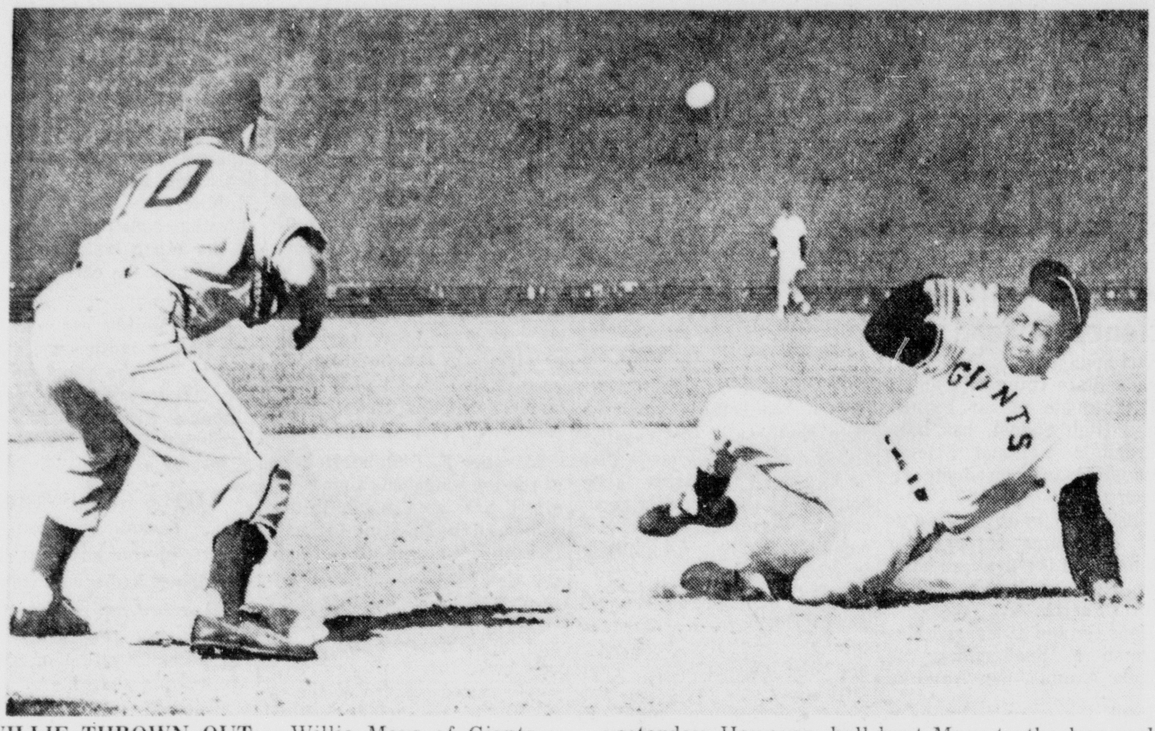

Terry Johnson, 16-year-old San Rafael strongman from Los Angeles, came home with second-place honors in the 132-pound class in an upset that came very close to gaining him the first place award. Terry started as the underdog in a tough four-man class, but the judges eliminated two of his competitors for faulty technique early in the contest. Terry not only came out with a second-place award, he very nearly copped the title. Only in the last lifts was Terry edged out by Bill Neyer of Long Beach, 560 to 540.

Northern California lifters took only two other seconds and one third, as the southern California athletes swept the rest of the places in the seven classes.

MARIN TOURNEY POSTPONED TO APRIL 7-8

Sponsors of the Marin Athletic League's annual baseball tournament today decided to postpone the high school event to April 7 and 8 with hopes that the weatherman will be more cooperative then than he was over the weekend.

Athletic Director Bob Troppmann of Redwood High, host of the tourney, said San Rafael's Albert Field was too wet to get the games played on schedule. The tourney was scheduled to start Friday, then was postponed until today, but still no luck.

The two-day tournament will involve teams from Marin Catholic, Drake, Tamalpais, Novato, San Rafael and Redwood high schools.

Von Saltza Cracks Own American Mark

The blonde teen-ager's old standard was 56 seconds flat.

The record-smashing time came in a dual between Miss Von Salza's team, the Santa swim club, and the Alameda Clara swim club, and the Alameda swim club. Santa Clara won the meet 229-200.

George Haines, Miss Salza's coach, said all conditions of the meet met the standards for an official record.

Podres Flashes Mid-Season Form, Goes Distance For L.A.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southpaw Johnny Podres, sorebacked hurler who has had the tools but never the stamina needed to win 20 games, has brought the Los Angeles Dodgers' winning streak to six with the second route-going performance of the exhibition season.

Showing no signs of the back trouble that has plagued him throughout a standout major league career, the 28-year-old left hander flashed mid-season form yesterday as he went all the way in a five-hit 2-0 victory over Baltimore.

Podres, who never has won more than 14 games a season in his eight years with the Dodgers, struck out seven and walked four. He also drove in the only runs against the Orioles with a sharp single to center in the second inning.

The batters grabbed the spotlight for San Francisco and Minnesota. The Giants rapped the Chicago Cubs 15-10 with a 19-hit outburst that included five homers, while the Twins belted Kansas City 18-4 on a two-homer, 18-hit attack.

In other games, Chicago's White Sox edged Pittsburgh 2-1, Philadelphia nipped St. Louis, 5-3, New York defeated Cincinnati 6-2, Milwaukee whipped Detroit 7-4, Cleveland beat Boston 9-3, Washington bopped the Braves' "B" team 5-1 and the Los Angeles Angels topped San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

Podres, joining Cub rookie Jack Curtis as the only pitchers to go the distance so far this season, allowed only one extra base hit — a double by Gus Triandos. The Dodgers were checked on six hits by Steve Barber and rookie John Papa.

TWINS EXPLODE

Four unearned runs in the first and a six-run rally in the sixth gave the Twins their victory over the A's. Bob Allison drove in three runs for Minnesota with a homer and two singles, and Jose Valdivielso also hit for the distance.

Pinch hitter Earl Torgeson stroked a two-run single in the eighth to wrap it up for the White Sox, and became the club's leading RBI man with nine. The Pirates had scored in the first on singles by Dick Schofield and Bob Skinner and an infield out.

The Phils took advantage of two St. Louis errors and a misjudged fly ball, scoring all their runs in the fifth off Bob Miller. A two-run homer by rookie Leroy Thomas and the nine-hit pitching of Ralph Terry and Danny McDevitt gave the Yankees the edge over the Reds.

Roy McMillan and Wes Covington homered as the Braves downed the Tigers, despite Al Kaline's first roundtripper and a single, double and homer by Jake Wood. Eight runs in the first three innings clinched it for the Indians as Jim Grant limited the Red Sox to one run in six innings.

Joe McLain pitched seven-hit ball in a seven-inning stint against the Braves' "B" squad, while Gene Woodling's two-run double in the third gave the Senators all the runs they needed. Julio Becquer's single in the seventh drove in the tie-breaker for the Angels, who got six-hit pitching from Ted Bowsfield and Jerry Casale.

M.V. Youth Wins Archery Title At Sports Show

Marin Junior Archery Tournament, held annually in connection with the Marin Sports and Boat Show was keenly contested yesterday in spite of the inclement weather.

A special award was given to Dave Leach of San Rafael. Dave is only 5 years old and smaller than the bow, yet his score of 53 points surely earned him the title of "Littlest Archer."

PHOENIX, Ariz., (UPI) — Tom Haller, big rookie catcher for Tacoma, can't seem to stop hitting for the San Francisco Giants.

The hefty catcher led the assault again yesterday as the Giants outmuscled the Chicago Cubs, 15-10.

Haller, who is hitting an even .500 this spring, belted two homers and drove in six runs.

The Giants outhit the Cubs, 19-13, as the hitters again sparkled and most of the pitchers again sagged. This generally has been the story of the Giants spring campaign.

San Francisco was pretty well set at catcher this year with Bob Schmidt and Hobie Landrith returning, but Haller, who once quarterbacked for Illinois, refuses to get out of the picture. He still might not only make the squad, but could become the regular backstopper.

Willie McCovey went three-for three yesterday and is now hitting .435. Eddie Bressoud got four hits and Willie Mays had two, including a round-tripper. Orlando Cepeda and pitcher Jack Sanford also homered.

GLOOMY SIDE

On the gloomy side, Juan Marichal, rookie sensation of 1960, still was unable to get get anyone out in the '61 Cactus League play. His earned run average is now a whopping 16.36 for the spring.

Sanford has also been hit hard all spring and was shelled again yesterday. The big right-hander has been doing a lot of experimenting on the hill, however, and his performances have not worried the Giant Brass as have Marichal's.

Georges Maranda next took over and the Cubs continued to pound the ball. Finally, Sherm Jones came on in the seventh and hurled three hitless innings.

The teams were to meet in a rematch today. Stu Miller was to start for Manager Al Dark's troops.

The Giants yesterday optioned pitcher Don Choate to Portland of the Pacific Coast League. He pitched for Tacoma last year and posted a 10-15 record.

'Ear Benders' Sees Giants Near Top This Year And Champions In 1962

CONNOLLY

Let's say I'm a chump for "ear benders." By that I mean I can't help listening to guys who borrow your ears to expound their own opinions.

I met one such ear bender the other day, and a very successful business tycoon, with warts on his fingers from counting his money.

"The Giants need one more season," he said. "They won't be far away from the pennant in 1961. But just you watch their smoke in 1962."

So my influential fran went on to say that fellows like Orlando Cepeda, Felipe Alou, Willie McCovey and catcher Bob Schmidt are just a little short of being tabbed experienced big league ball players.

"But don't sell them short," he said. "They'll come flying in 1962 and when they do the Giants will begin the first of their seven 'fat years.'"

I'LL ADMIT the players mentioned have already stuck a couple of years under their belts, gathered a lot of experience, and still have the speed and spirit to go farther.

But remember, there are those who remind me not to go out on a limb—at least not too far. And I'm remembering Sad Sam Jones no longer is a kid; Jack Sanford hasn't yet learned to conquer his anger; Billy O'Dell still is haunted by a jinx complex and Mike McCormick, regardless of what you might say, hasn't yet become of age as a true major league southpaw.

Add to the above factors the idea that Willie Mays hasn't yet adopted San Francisco as his own; Cepeda and Alou and others on the club feel they can do better elsewhere than at Candlestick Park.

SO THERE'S a real selling job to be done on the Giants before they accept the ball park, the weather and wind.

I don't like any of them, either.

It may take Alvin Dark a year to get the Giants completely untangled.

On form, the Horace Stoneham aggregation seem to rate highly. It has an experienced pitching corp, a wealth of power and punch and you can add a touch of youth mixed in with fairish speed.

As a freshman manager, the Giant skipper figures there are five of the eight National League teams with a fighting chance. He won't and never will mention those he thinks definitely are out of the flag chase.

DARK RATES his pitchers high in quality and quantity. He hopes to get at least five of his hurlers moving briskly and doing a lot better than average.

But in this day and age you can't discount the effect competent catching has on a pitching staff.

People openly say they think Tom Haller is a better receiver now than Bob Schmidt. I don't believe it. Johnny Orsino, in my opinion, is the finest catching prospect I've seen in many years. But he happens to bat righthanded, so the Giants lean a little toward Haller because he is a southpaw batter.

Marin Lifter Wins State Championship

Carrol Varner, 22-year-old San Rafael weightlifter, successfully defended his California middleweight title in the 1961 California State Weightlifting Championship at the Embassy Auditorium in Los Angeles on Saturday night.

In a very close contest before an enthusiastic audience of more than 1,100 persons, Varner turned in the best performance of his career, pressing 220, snatching 230, and making a clean-and-jerk of 305 for a 775 totals. This edged the nearest of his seven competitors, Jim Matthews of Los Angeles, who finally finished with 740 in a close battle that wasn't decided until the last lift.

Varner and Mathews will have another go at each other June 22-23 as they were the qualifying lifters in their class for the National Weightlifting Championships, which will be contested at Santa Monica's Civic Auditorium.

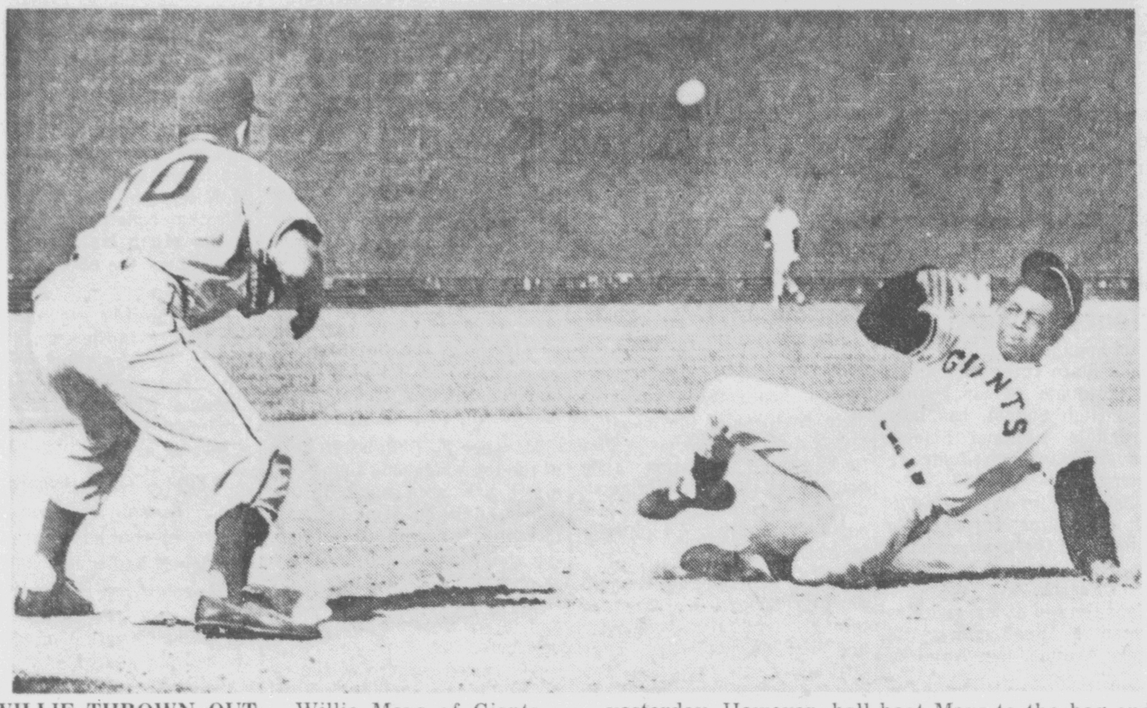

Terry Johnson, 16-year-old San Rafael strongman from Los Angeles, came home with second-place honors in the 132-pound class in an upset that came very close to gaining him the first place award. Terry started as the underdog in a tough four-man class, but the judges eliminated two of his competitors for faulty technique early in the contest. Terry not only came out with a second-place award, he very nearly copped the title. Only in the last lifts was Terry edged out by Bill Neyer of Long Beach, 560 to 540.

Northern California lifters took only two other seconds and one third, as the southern California athletes swept the rest of the places in the seven classes.

MARIN TOURNEY POSTPONED TO APRIL 7-8

Sponsors of the Marin Athletic League's annual baseball tournament today decided to postpone the high school event to April 7 and 8 with hopes that the weatherman will be more cooperative then than he was over the weekend.

Athletic Director Bob Troppmann of Redwood High, host of the tourney, said San Rafael's Albert Field was too wet to get the games played on schedule. The tourney was scheduled to start Friday, then was postponed until today, but still no luck.

The two-day tournament will involve teams from Marin Catholic, Drake, Tamalpais, Novato, San Rafael and Redwood high schools.

Von Saltza Cracks Own American Mark

The record-smashing time came in a dual between Miss Von Salza's team, the Santa swim club, and the Alameda Clara swim club, and the Alameda swim club. Santa Clara won the meet 229-200.

George Haines, Miss Salza's coach, said all conditions of the meet met the standards for an official record.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southpaw Johnny Podres, sorebacked hurler who has had the tools but never the stamina needed to win 20 games, has brought the Los Angeles Dodgers' winning streak to six with the second route-going performance of the exhibition season.

Showing no signs of the back trouble that has plagued him throughout a standout major league career, the 28-year-old left hander flashed mid-season form yesterday as he went all the way in a five-hit 2-0 victory over Baltimore.

Podres, who never has won more than 14 games a season in his eight years with the Dodgers, struck out seven and walked four. He also drove in the only runs against the Orioles with a sharp single to center in the second inning.

The batters grabbed the spotlight for San Francisco and Minnesota. The Giants rapped the Chicago Cubs 15-10 with a 19-hit outburst that included five homers, while the Twins belted Kansas City 18-4 on a two-homer, 18-hit attack.

In other games, Chicago's White Sox edged Pittsburgh 2-1, Philadelphia nipped St. Louis, 5-3, New York defeated Cincinnati 6-2, Milwaukee whipped Detroit 7-4, Cleveland beat Boston 9-3, Washington bopped the Braves' "B" team 5-1 and the Los Angeles Angels topped San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

Podres, joining Cub rookie Jack Curtis as the only pitchers to go the distance so far this season, allowed only one extra base hit — a double by Gus Triandos. The Dodgers were checked on six hits by Steve Barber and rookie John Papa.

TWINS EXPLODE

Four unearned runs in the first and a six-run rally in the sixth gave the Twins their victory over the A's. Bob Allison drove in three runs for Minnesota with a homer and two singles, and Jose Valdivielso also hit for the distance.

Pinch hitter Earl Torgeson stroked a two-run single in the eighth to wrap it up for the White Sox, and became the club's leading RBI man with nine. The Pirates had scored in the first on singles by Dick Schofield and Bob Skinner and an infield out.

The Phils took advantage of two St. Louis errors and a misjudged fly ball, scoring all their runs in the fifth off Bob Miller. A two-run homer by rookie Leroy Thomas and the nine-hit pitching of Ralph Terry and Danny McDevitt gave the Yankees the edge over the Reds.

Roy McMillan and Wes Covington homered as the Braves downed the Tigers, despite Al Kaline's first roundtripper and a single, double and homer by Jake Wood. Eight runs in the first three innings clinched it for the Indians as Jim Grant limited the Red Sox to one run in six innings.

Joe McLain pitched seven-hit ball in a seven-inning stint against the Braves' "B" squad, while Gene Woodling's two-run double in the third gave the Senators all the runs they needed. Julio Becquer's single in the seventh drove in the tie-breaker for the Angels, who got six-hit pitching from Ted Bowsfield and Jerry Casale.

M.V. Youth Wins Archery Title At Sports Show

Marin Junior Archery Tournament, held annually in connection with the Marin Sports and Boat Show was keenly contested yesterday in spite of the inclement weather.

A special award was given to Dave Leach of San Rafael. Dave is only 5 years old and smaller than the bow, yet his score of 53 points surely earned him the title of "Littlest Archer."

ENORMOUS COURAGE

How Cincy Ended Buckeyes' Streak

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Great defense. Near-perfect ball control. Add a dash of enormous courage and you have the explanation for the Cincinnati Bearcats' 70-65 overtime victory over favored Ohio State in the NCAA basketball championship game Saturday night.

Ranked No. 1 nationally, riding a 32-game victory streak and seeking its second straight championship, Ohio State went into the fray a 7-point favorite, but the Buckeyes must have failed to reckon with the salty Cincinnati defenses.

"We concede them nothing, absolutely nothing," Cincinnati Coach Ed Jucker had said of the Buckeyes 24 hours earlier. "Our kids play good defense. We have just as good a chance as they have."

Despite an aggressive, tantalizing man-for-man defense with shifting assignments, the Bearcats were guilty of only 13 fouls. Paul Hogue, 6-foot-9, 235-pound junior from Knoxville, Tenn., aided at times by Tom Thacker, did a neat job tieing up All-America Jerry Lucas, who was held to only 9 points in the last half and the overtime period.

LUCAS HIGH

Lucas scored 18 points the first half, however, for a game high of 27.

Cincinnati was in front much of the time, although Ohio State led 39-38 at the half. Carl Bouldin, Cincinnati senior, hit five of six shots from the field in the opening minutes of the second half and the warning sign was up for the Buckeyes.

Thacker and Tony Yates, a pair of classy sophomores, and veteran Bob Wiesenhahn led a late second-half spree that had Cincinnati ahead 61-59 until the Bucks' Bob Knight sent it into overtime with a driving basket with 1:41 left.

Cincinnati failed to end it in regulation time when Thacker missed from the side with two seconds left after the Bearcats had controlled the ball a minute and 39 seconds.

Hogue, normally a poor man at the free throw line, made two gratis tosses opening the overtime and the Bearcats were not caught again.

ADDED TREAT

The 10,000 fans who jammed Municipal Auditorium for the second straight night were treated to an equivalent of three and a quarter games as the St. Joseph's (Pa.) College Hawks beat Utah 127-120 in four overtimes for third place.

A field goal by William Hoy, St. Joseph's sophomore, in the Utah basket opening the first overtime session only added spice to the program. Hoy, who described it as a "grade school trick," had a big hand in St. Joseph's eventual victory. Jack Egan threw in 42 points for St. Joseph's. Bill McGill popped in 34 for Utah.

FRANCONA HR HELPS SOLVE MURDER CASE

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—When Cleveland outfielder Tito Francona walloped a practime game homer yesterday out of palm-fringed Hi Corbett Field, he helped police close out a murder case.

But that's what happened when Tito, in spring training with the Indians at Tucson, poled the ball over the rightfield fence into the bordering palms.

John C. Cota, a city parks employee, scooted after it. But he pulled up short at the edge of a shallow water trench. Beside it, partly covered with a coat, was the body of a man, a .22-caliber revolver clutched in his right hand.

Police identified the body as that of Fred Victor Burden, 50, a house painter from Toronto, Canada, who had lived periodically in Tucson.

Burden had been sought by police since the slaying last Tuesday of James C. Cocio, 45, a former prizefighter who held the Arizona featherweight champion three times.

Sharman Key Man As Celts Win Playoff

BOSTON (AP)—Bill Sharman, who almost saw his career ended in midseason, today had literally shot the Boston Celtics into the National Basketball Assn. playoff finals.

The defending champion Celtics defeated Syracuse 123-101 yesterday and wrapped up the best-of-seven Eastern Division series, 4-1.

With the game still hanging in the balance, Sharman and fireman Frank Ramsey took charge. In the final three minutes of the third period they tallied 11 points between them for an 88-83 lead after Sam Jones' jumper broke a 73-73 tie, the 16th deadlock of the contest.

The former Southern California ace, now in his 11th NBA season, missed five weeks' play in December-January due to a muscle tear in his left leg.

Favored St. Louis rallied to deadlock the Western Division series with Los Angeles at two games each with a 118-117 triumph Saturday night. They meet in St. Louis tonight.

SWEEP AT SEBRING

Proud Ferrari Team Leads World Racing

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—Members of a proud Ferrari racing team head for Europe this week after setting records and virtually sweeping honors in the demanding 12-hour Sebring endurance test for sports cars.

The victory, carved out over a tricky 5.2-mile layout on an abandoned airfield sent the Italian manufacturer winging into the lead in competition for the 1961 world championship.

Ferrari's two major competitors—international teams driving powerful new Maseratis and maeuverable little Porsches—both suffered shutouts. Each team entered two cars. Neither managed to keep one in the race.

Saturday's competition was the first of six and the only one in this country counting toward this year's title.

Phil Hill, at 32 probably the best road race driver competing from the United States, guided the victorious Testa Rosa Ferrari across the finish line shortly after 10 p.m. It was his third triumph in Sebring endurance races.

That compares with the old standard of 86.666 m.p.h., set by Hill and the later Peter Collins of England in the 1948 race.

The victory was a record third for both drivers. They were members of the winning team in 1959 in a Ferrari and Gendebien teamed with Hans Herman of Germany to take first place in a Porsche last year.

Hill also set a new lap record when the car roared around the course at an average speed of 96.000 mph. Stirling Moss of England held the old mark, 94.99 mph.

All of the first four cars were Ferraris. The runnerup also a Testa Rosa, driven by the factory team of Richie Ginther, Santa Monica, and Germany's Wolfgang von Trips the last nine hours.

Tamites Win Marin Trophy In Swimming

Tamalpais Indians, by taking third, fourth and sixth places in three events, won the Marin County trophy Saturday in Tam's annual Bay Area Invitational Swimming Relays.

Redwood was the only other Marin team to score points, with a sixth place by the 400-yard medley team and another sixth by diver J. J. Rodrigo.

Local swimmers took a back seat, however, as teams from outside the county dominated the winner's circle. The Sequoia High quartet in the 200-yard butterfly relay set a meet record of 1 minute, 44.9 seconds; Los Altos High's crack all-events team set another meet mark of 7:51.4; and Berkeley's 400 back quartet was clocked in 4:13.1 for still another record.

Tam's third place came in the 400 back with Steve Dazey, Duncan Green, Reed Dillingham and Bill Johnson making up the quartet. The fourth place points for Coach George Gustafson's Tamites came in the 400 medley, made up of Jeff McCreary, Tinsley Stetson, Rick Snow and Jack Mosher.

400 free relay—Los Altos, 3:27.0; 400 breaststroke relay—Las Lomas, 4:43.4; 200 butterfly relay—Sequoia, 1:44.9; 400 backstroke relay—Berkeley, 4:13.1; 400 free medley relay—Menlo-Atherton, 3:39.8; 400 medley relay—Las Lomas, 3:59.1; 200 medley relay—Oakland, 1:54.2; 200 free relay—Sequoia, 1:35.2; all-events relay—Los Altos, 7:51.4; diving—Bill Pascual (Sequoia).

S.F. Archer Wins Marin Open Title

The tournament was held in connection with the Marin Sports and Boat Show and attracted archers from as far away as Eureka.

The women's championship went to Dora Ellen Witwer of the Humboldt Archers from Eureka. Mrs. Witwer turned in 445 points, the same as Chet Ireton of San Francisco Archers. Ireton won the runner-up title to Carter.

The San Francisco Archery Club took the five-man team title. A combined score of 2234 turned in by Carter, Ireton, F. P. Mills, Ira Irwin and Gil Georgeson.

Pressure Bird By Player Nips Palmer At Sunshine

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player today had a nice $3,500 present for his son, Mark, whom he saw for the first time Saturday although the boy was born Feb. 17.

Player, from Johannesburg, South Africa, has been over here since the first of the year playing the golf tournament tour. His wife, young daughter and new son arrived here to join him Saturday, in the midst of the $25,000 Sunshine Open Golf Tournament.

The stocky invader won the event yesterday by one stroke with a 72-hole total of 273 and the $3,500 top money boosted his 1961 earnings to $25,081.

With Arnold Palmer charging down the stretch in his typical fashion, Player bogeyed the 16th and 17th holes, and faced the necessity of birdying the final hole, which Palmer already had birdied for a 274 total.

Player's second shot was in a gaping trap 120 feet from the pin on the 488-yard par 5 hole of the Bayshore course. His blast carried the ball five feet from the cup, and he sank the putt. It gave him a 69 for his final round as Palmer carded a 66.

Gary had started the final round tied for the lead at 204 with Gay Brewer Jr., and stolid Julius Boros. Boros and Brewer shot themselves out of contention with 72s.

Dave Ragen had a 65, but he had started seven strokes back at 211.

Bill Casper Jr. had a 67, but he was 210 at the three-quarter mark. Gordon Jones had a 66, but he was back at 213.

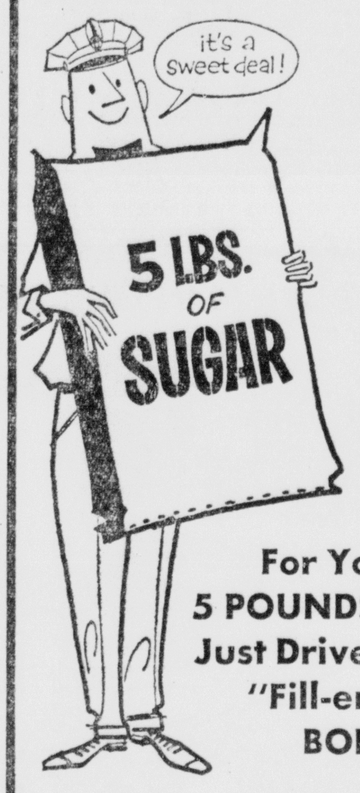

Mike Souchak, with a final round 67, finished third with 275; Boros, Brewer and Ragen tied for fourth at 276, and Casper was alone at 277. Sam Snead was tied with Jay Hebert and Bobby Nichols in the 278 bracket.

ADDED TREAT

The 10,000 fans who jammed Municipal Auditorium for the second straight night were treated to an equivalent of three and a quarter games as the St. Joseph's (Pa.) College Hawks beat Utah 127-120 in four overtimes for third place.

A field goal by William Hoy, St. Joseph's sophomore, in the Utah basket opening the first overtime session only added spice to the program. Hoy, who described it as a "grade school trick," had a big hand in St. Joseph's eventual victory. Jack Egan threw in 42 points for St. Joseph's. Bill McGill popped in 34 for Utah.

FRANCONA HR HELPS SOLVE MURDER CASE

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—When Cleveland outfielder Tito Francona walloped a practime game homer yesterday out of palm-fringed Hi Corbett Field, he helped police close out a murder case.

But that's what happened when Tito, in spring training with the Indians at Tucson, poled the ball over the rightfield fence into the bordering palms.

John C. Cota, a city parks-employee, scooted after it. But he pulled up short at the edge of a shallow water trench. Beside it, partly covered with a coat, was the body of a man, a .22-caliber revolver clutched in his right hand.

Police identified the body as that of Fred Victor Burden, 50, a house painter from Toronto, Canada, who had lived periodically in Tucson.

Burden had been sought by police since the slaying last Tuesday of James C. Cocio, 45, a former prizefighter who held the Arizona featherweight champion three times.

SWEEP AT SEBRING

Proud Ferrari Team Leads World Racing

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—Members of a proud Ferrari racing team head for Europe this week after setting records and virtually sweeping honors in the demanding 12-hour Sebring endurance test for sports cars.

The victory, carved out over a tricky 5.2-mile layout on an abandoned airfield sent the Italian manufacturer winging into the lead in competition for the 1961 world championship.

Ferrari's two major competitors—international teams driving powerful new Maseratis and maeuverable little Porsches—both suffered shutouts. Each team entered two cars. Neither managed to keep one in the race.

Saturday's competition was the first of six and the only one in this country counting toward this year's title.

Phil Hill, at 32 probably the best road race driver competing from the United States, guided the victorious Testa Rosa Ferrari across the finish line shortly after 10 p.m. It was his third triumph in Sebring endurance races.

That compares with the old standard of 86.666 m.p.h., set by Hill and the later Peter Collins of England in the 1948 race.

The victory was a record third for both drivers. They were members of the winning team in 1959 in a Ferrari and Gendebien teamed with Hans Herman of Germany to take first place in a Porsche last year.

Hill also set a new lap record when the car roared around the course at an average speed of 96.000 mph. Stirling Moss of England held the old mark, 94.99 mph.

All of the first four cars were Ferraris. The runnerup also a Testa Rosa, driven by the factory team of Richie Ginther, Santa Monica, and Germany's Wolfgang von Trips the last nine hours.

Pressure Bird By Player Nips Palmer At Sunshine

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player today had a nice $3,500 present for his son, Mark, whom he saw for the first time Saturday although the boy was born Feb. 17.

Player, from Johannesburg, South Africa, has been over here since the first of the year playing the golf tournament tour. His wife, young daughter and new son arrived here to join him Saturday, in the midst of the $25,000 Sunshine Open Golf Tournament.

The stocky invader won the event yesterday by one stroke with a 72-hole total of 273 and the $3,500 top money boosted his 1961 earnings to $25,081.

With Arnold Palmer charging down the stretch in his typical fashion, Player bogeyed the 16th and 17th holes, and faced the necessity of birdying the final hole, which Palmer already had birdied for a 274 total.

Player's second shot was in a gaping trap 120 feet from the pin on the 488-yard par 5 hole of the Bayshore course. His blast carried the ball five feet from the cup, and he sank the putt. It gave him a 69 for his final round as Palmer carded a 66.

Gary had started the final round tied for the lead at 204 with Gay Brewer Jr., and stolid Julius Boros. Boros and Brewer shot themselves out of contention with 72s.

Dave Ragen had a 65, but he had started seven strokes back at 211.

Bill Casper Jr. had a 67, but he was 210 at the three-quarter mark. Gordon Jones had a 66, but he was back at 213.

Mike Souchak, with a final round 67, finished third with 275; Boros, Brewer and Ragen tied for fourth at 276, and Casper was alone at 277. Sam Snead was tied with Jay Hebert and Bobby Nichols in the 278 bracket.

Tamites Win Marin Trophy In Swimming

Tamalpais Indians, by taking third, fourth and sixth places in three events, won the Marin County trophy Saturday in Tam's annual Bay Area Invitational Swimming Relays.

Redwood was the only other Marin team to score points, with a sixth place by the 400-yard medley team and another sixth by diver J. J. Rodrigo.

Local swimmers took a back seat, however, as teams from outside the county dominated the winner's circle. The Sequoia High quartet in the 200-yard butterfly relay set a meet record of 1 minute, 44.9 seconds; Los Altos High's crack all-events team set another meet mark of 7:51.4; and Berkeley's 400 back quartet was clocked in 4:13.1 for still another record.

Tam's third place came in the 400 back with Steve Dazey, Duncan Green, Reed Dillingham and Bill Johnson making up the quartet. The fourth place points for Coach George Gustafson's Tamites came in the 400 medley, made up of Jeff McCreary, Tinsley Stetson, Rick Snow and Jack Mosher.

400 free relay—Los Altos, 3:27.0; 400 breaststroke relay—Las Lomas, 4:43.4; 200 butterfly relay—Sequoia, 1:44.9; 400 backstroke relay—Berkeley, 4:13.1; 400 free medley relay—Menlo-Atherton, 3:39.8; 400 medley relay—Las Lomas, 3:59.1; 200 medley relay—Oakland, 1:54.2; 200 free relay—Sequoia, 1:35.2; all-events relay—Los Altos, 7:51.4; diving—Bill Pascual (Sequoia).

Sharman Key Man As Celts Win Playoff

BOSTON (AP)—Bill Sharman, who almost saw his career ended in midseason, today had literally shot the Boston Celtics into the National Basketball Assn. playoff finals.

The defending champion Celtics defeated Syracuse 123-101 yesterday and wrapped up the best-of-seven Eastern Division series, 4-1.

With the game still hanging in the balance, Sharman and fireman Frank Ramsey took charge. In the final three minutes of the third period they tallied 11 points between them for an 88-83 lead after Sam Jones' jumper broke a 73-73 tie, the 16th deadlock of the contest.

The former Southern California ace, now in his 11th NBA season, missed five weeks' play in December-January due to a muscle tear in his left leg.

Favored St. Louis rallied to deadlock the Western Division series with Los Angeles at two games each with a 118-117 triumph Saturday night. They meet in St. Louis tonight.

S.F. Archer Wins Marin Open Title

The tournament was held in connection with the Marin Sports and Boat Show and attracted archers from as far away as Eureka.

The women's championship went to Dora Ellen Witwer of the Humboldt Archers from Eureka. Mrs. Witwer turned in 445 points, the same as Chet Ireton of San Francisco Archers. Ireton won the runner-up title to Carter.

The San Francisco Archery Club took the five-man team title. A combined score of 2234 turned in by Carter, Ireton, F. P. Mills, Ira Irwin and Gil Georgeson.

Trophies were awarded the winners by last year's champion, Lee Perrott of San Francisco, in the Camellia Room of Bermuda Palms Motel Saturday afternoon.

POPE CARRIED INTO BASILICA—Pope John XXIII holds a spray of palms as he is carried on throne into St. Peter's Basilica for Palm Sunday services in Vatican City. Tens of thousands of Romans and tourists attended services that marked the start of Holy Week observances. (AP Wirephoto)

Holy Land Pilgrimage Marks Start Of Holy Week Rites

JERUSALEM (AP)—Latin Patriarch Alberto Gori led a Palm Sunday procession of 25,000 pilgrims from all over the world in the steps of Christ yesterday, opening Holy Week in the Holy Land.

They began at Bethpage, where crowds once gathered from pastoral villages to hail Jesus and cover with palms the path He traveled by donkey on his triumphal entry into Jerusalem.

The procession passed the Mount of Olives and Gethsemane and crossed the Valley of Kidron to Jerusalem's walls. Jesus had entered the ancient city through the Golden Gate, but it now is sealed with stones because of the Arab-Israeli division of the Holy Land. The pilgrims used St. Stephen's Gate to the north to reach St. Anne's Convent, marking the birthplace and childhood home of Mary, where a solemn Pontifical Mass was celebrated in the Basilica.

At the Vatican, Pope John XXIII headed the annual procession and blessed palms in St. Peter's Basilica, the first pontiff to attend the ceremony there since 187[illegible]. St. Peter's, the world's biggest church, was chosen this year for the pontiff's appearance instead of the basilica of St. Paul outside the walls to give the throngs of pilgrims more room.

More than 50,000 assembled in the huge church and the square outside to cheer the 79-year-old pope as he was carried by on his portable throne. The pope blessed a huge pile of 180 palm branches and personally distributed them to 18 cardinals, scores of bishops and archbishops and other church officials.

PARIS (AP)—The French government announced today that peace negotiations would begin April 7 at Evian-les Bains, on the Swiss border, with representatives of the Algerian rebel government in exile.

It is expected that Louis Joxe, minister for Algerian affairs, will head the French negotiating team. The Algerian team is expected to be headed by Ahmed Francis, a French-trained lawyer.

Coors Prosecution Skips Key Witness

GOLDEN, Colo. (UPI) — The prosecution in the Coors kidnap-murder trial expects to wind up its case today without calling a key witness to testify against Joseph Corbett Jr.

District Atty. Ronald Hardesty indicated that the witness, Mrs. Beulah N. Lewis of Denver, might be held in reserve to give possible rebuttal testimony.

Corbett is accused of kidnaping and murdering wealthy Brewer Adolph Coors III on Feb. 9, 1960. Mrs. Lewis has said she saw Coors struggling with a man she later identified as Corbett.

The trial entered its third week today.

Mrs. Lewis, 73, a former chiropractor from Nebraska, contacted Hardesty the first week of the trial and told of seeing Coors and Corbett.

She said she remained silent for more than a year because she was "afraid." She came forward while jury selection was under way.

Civil War Fete Unit Moves Meeting Site

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil War Centennial Commission plans to move its April 11-12 assembly to the Charleston, S.C., naval station to avoid racial barriers in the city proper.

The change in plans was in compliance with President John F. Kennedy's anti-discrimination policies, said the commission chairman, Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant III (ret.).

Tornado Rips Apart Small Town In Texas

ITALY, Tex. (AP)—Tornadoes and fierce thunderstorms ripped portions of Texas last night and one funnel slammed with twisting fury into the little town of Italy, leaving it a rubble-strewn mess.

Twisters and heavy rains and hail hit such widely separated areas as Crockett in southeast Texas, Mount Pleasant and Texarkana in northeast Texas, in Johnson County south of Fort Worth and at Crowley north of Cleburne, and outside Dallas.

Thirteen persons suffered injuries as the tornadoes smashed homes, business places and sent tons of rubble crashing down on cars. Property loss ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Selections from English and continental literature, read interpretively by Miss Velma Avant, entertained Marin Toastmistress Club at a dinner meeting held Thursday evening at the Kent Woodlands Restaurant.

Miss Avant is speech therapist with the Marin County schools, presently doing corrective work with children in San Rafael, San Anselmo, and Kentfield. Her readings were interspersed with answers to questions from the participating members.

The club will meet next month as guests of Marin Toastmasters Club.

The chatelaine type necklace, which is clasped together by two pins is being worn on spring suits and dresses, as decreed by the Paris designers. Junior Cotillion Members Hold Rehearsal For Tea On April 4

Since young people love to pretend, a dress rehearsal has the air of excitement. This was certainly true of the dress rehearsal for Turnabout Tea held at the home of Junior Cotillion's director Mrs. Bari Frohlich. The young ladies were radiant in charming bouffant and colorful dresses and the young men dapper and handsome in their suits and ties. Pink flowers and candles graced the tea table. Mrs. Frohlich gave her final directions then the magic words were spoken: "On stage, everybody. Curtain going up for Turnabout Tea."

Act One presented the receiving line in action. Greeting the patronesses and members of the board, welcoming them, shaking hands and introducing themselves and the next in line to their guests was the plot of Act One. Starring roles were played by Betina Frasier, Paul McCarthy, Jan Humsinger, Thomas McCarthy, and Nancy Rinaldi.

Act Two opened on a dancing scene. With great poise, warmth, and skill three couples presented a program of varied dances. Jama Tegeler and Stephen Hoy, fifth grade beginners, did a fox trot; Carolyn Seeba and Kenneth Giomi, sixth grade intermediates, and an advanced waltz and a cha-cha-cha. For the finale everybody danced in gay swing time.

Act Three found Diane Barnard and Jan Hunsinger socially at ease poised at the tea table, pouring tea for the guests from the elegant silver service. With great assurance these two young ladies portrayed the grown-up roles of hostess. After refreshments the young hosts assisted the ladies with their wraps, escorted them to the door and bid gracious goodbyes.

With the final curtain those in the audience for this sneak preview of Turnabout Tea applauded enthusiastically the talents, both social and dancing, of these young ladies and gentlemen who have discovered the genuine joy of dancing well and being socially poised through Junior Cotillion. A perfect performance was assured by the happy attitude of the performers and the attention to detail given by Mrs. Frohlich that makes a performance professional.

Turnabout Tea will commence at 2 p.m. with a short meeting to acquaint the patronesses with their respective roles and the entertainment by Junior Cotillion will be presented at three p.m.

Quality Of Living And Landscape Are Vanishing Gilliam Tells Club

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Every seat was filled Thursday afternoon for the showing of the film "Island in Time" and talk by Harold Gilliam that marked the Outdoor Art Club's guest day program in observance of conservation week.

After the showing of the colored movie of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula area now under consideration by the U.S. Congress as a national seashore park, Harold Gilliam talked on "The Bay Area in the year 1980." A noted columnist and feature writer, he is the author of "San Francisco Bay" and "The Face of San Francisco."

"Quality of living is vanishing as well as the landscape" Gilliam said after describing encroachment of Los Angeles on the natural beauties of Southern California he had known as a boy.

And the same thing is happening in San Francisco and Marin, he went on, and the time is short for saving some of them in Northern California.

By 1980, he declared, the three and a half million population of the Bay Area will be six million, and Marin's 150,000 will be 250,000, going on to 400,000 in 40 years and 800,000 in 60 years.

Among widely publicized points in connection with the 53,000 acres of the proposed Pt. Reyes National Seashore he reviewed were that about half the cattle ranches in the area would remain under leases from the government and that the big radio stations, oyster beds and three fisheries would also continue.

Gilliam maintained that the estimated $60,000 a year that would be lost in taxes in the event the park is established, would be more than compensated by taxes from new facilities that would be needed to accommodate visitors.

Subdivisions cost more than they pay in taxes, he said. One encouraging point he mentioned was that President Kennedy recently named the Pt. Reyes Peninsula as one of the three most important areas in the country to be saved for recreation.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. R. Lannert Iglehart, Outdoor Art Club civics and conservation chairman.

Much admired were the wild flowers indigenous to the area provided as decor for the clubhouse and tea tables by arrangements made by Mrs. Dashwood Darling with the producers of Stinson Beach's annual wild flower show, Mesdames Edward Leary, William Sherfey and Kenneth Shockey.

They were lupin, Dutchman's pipes, shooting stars, woodland stars and baby-blue-eyes.

During the brief business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Philip Smith, members voted to present a gift to Laurance Kett, who is retiring for health reasons after 16 years as caretaker of the clubhouse.

Mrs. Patrick Byrne and Mrs. F. C. Connelly, co-chairmen for the tea served following the program were assisted by Mesdames DeWitt Clark, Adolph Laurence, Edward Mitchell, E. H. Schaubel, Marie C. Hinman, John Richardson and Maynard Sears.

Pouring were Mesdames Warren Sugarman, George Ballantine, Willis Donnan and F. B. Postel, and greeting guests at the door were Mesdames Joseph Sheeks, William Niedecker and Lenard Mayrisch.

Chatelaine Necklace

The chatelaine type necklace, which is clasped together by two pins is being worn on spring suits and dresses, as decreed by the Paris designers. The pins connect either a gold chain or string of pearls. This arrangement allows the necklace to be worn collar-style or across the front of a dress, or even at the waist.

Easter Egg Cake A Festive Dessert

It is a lavishly decorated cake in the shape of a big Easter egg which could be the centerpiece on your table. It looks like the master piece of a professional baker yet easily can be made at home. All you need in the way of pans are a melon mold pan such as is used for gelatin salads and a standard round 9-inch cake pan.

To make the cake just follow a standard three egg butter cake recipe. Fill a well buttered, round 9-inch layer pan and a 3-cup melon mold with the batter. Bake both cakes at 350 degrees for about 30 minutes or until done.

Then prepare the following frosting recipe:

BUTTER CREAM FROSTING
½ cup milk
½ cup butter
½ cup granulated sugar
3½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Mix cake flour and milk. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool to lukewarm. Cream butter and granulated sugar. Add the flour mixture and beat well. Stir in confectioners' sugar and vanilla; beat until smooth.

Divide frosting, and to one portion add a few drops of green food coloring. To the other add a few drops of yellow food coloring.

Turn baked cake layers out on racks to cool thoroughly. Then frost the oval shaped cake with the yellow tinted frosting, and the 9-inch round cake layer with the green frosting. Perch the oval cake on top of the green layer. Sprinkle green tinted coconut on the sides of the round cake layer to simulate grass.

DAUGHTERS PRESENT BEAR FLAG

Mrs. Anthony Damazio, president of Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor No. 231, Native Daughters of the Golden West, in recent ceremonies at the Mill Valley City Hall, presented the California State Bear Flag to Mayor Robert Huber, who accepted the state's official insignia on behalf of the city.

Police Chief James McGowan introduced Mrs. Dianne Spayd, civics participation chairman, who spoke on the history and origin of the Bear Flag.

Here's Slim Line On New Lingerie

Operatic diaphragm or long mid-section shapes call for a cinch by high-rising garments fashioned with an elastic collar or boning.

At a brief business meeting preceeding the Annual Spring Concert on Tuesday evening at Ross School, the P-TA elected new officers and presented an Honorary Life Membership to a surprised recipient.

For the fifth time in the last seven years, the membership elected a father to serve as P-TA president. Assuming his duties for the coming year will be Clarence O. Amonette, who will have two other men to assist him as officers. Henry Grandin, Jr. was elected second vice president, and Kenneth Peters will be treasurer.

Other officers will be Mesdames Roy Farrington Jones, vice president; Rena Safford, third vice president; Sol Ambrams, recording secretary; John Severinghaus, corresponding secretary; and Lionel Stott, historian.

Mrs. John Scott was honored with the award of an Honorary Life Membership in a presentation by Mrs. Lester Bricca. Mrs. Bricca cited Mrs. Scott's outstanding work on behalf of youth, not only in the Ross P-TA, but as a Brownie and Intermediate Scout leader; Sunday School teacher; board member of the Service League of the Junior Museum; Chairman of the Philanthropy Committee of Alpha Xi Delta, which gave so much impetus to the whole MARC program; secretary of MARC for two successive terms; co-chairman of the United Crusade for Ross; as well as activities on behalf of the Junior Theater and the American Field Service. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are the parents of five children.

Grace Lutheran Society Rummage Sale Date Set

Closets in Novato homes are being turned inside out and articles thrown out of drawers into boxes. Even garages are being cleaned out.

All this activity is because of the fast approaching date of the big rummage sale which the Grace Lutheran Women's Society will hold on April seventh and eighth at the social hall of the church, 1787 Grant Ave.

Mrs. Edwin Eickele, chairman of the event, reports that several women will be on hand to sort and mark rummage which has already been received. Among them will be Mrs. Eickele, her co-chairman, Mrs. Carl Polo, Mesdames William Joseph, Louis Pratt, Gustav Paulsen, and Robert Spinar.

Clothing in good condition, white elephants, furniture, books and what-have-you will all be welcome. However, Mrs. Eickele requests that any heavy items be held until the week of the sale.

For further information and pick-up, telephone Mrs. Eickele or Mrs. Polo.

Easter Egg Cake A Festive Dessert

It is a lavishly decorated cake in the shape of a big Easter egg which could be the centerpiece on your table. It looks like the master piece of a professional baker yet easily can be made at home. All you need in the way of pans are a melon mold pan such as is used for gelatin salads and a standard round 9-inch cake pan.

To make the cake just follow a standard three egg butter cake recipe. Fill a well buttered, round 9-inch layer pan and a 3-cup melon mold with the batter. Bake both cakes at 350 degrees for about 30 minutes or until done.

Then prepare the following frosting recipe:

BUTTER CREAM FROSTING
2½ tablespoons cake flour
½ cup milk
½ cup butter
½ cup granulated sugar
3½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Mix cake flour and milk. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool to lukewarm. Cream butter and granulated sugar. Add the flour mixture and beat well. Stir in confectioners' sugar and vanilla; beat until smooth.

Divide frosting, and to one portion add a few drops of green food coloring. To the other add a few drops of yellow food coloring.

Turn baked cake layers out on racks to cool thoroughly. Then frost the oval shaped cake with the yellow tinted frosting, and the 9-inch round cake layer with the green frosting. Perch the oval cake on top of the green layer. Sprinkle green tinted coconut on the sides of the round cake layer to simulate grass.

DAUGHTERS PRESENT BEAR FLAG

Mrs. Anthony Damazio, president of Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor No. 231, Native Daughters of the Golden West, in recent ceremonies at the Mill Valley City Hall, presented the California State Bear Flag to Mayor Robert Huber, who accepted the state's official insignia on behalf of the city.

Police Chief James McGowan introduced Mrs. Dianne Spayd, civics participation chairman, who spoke on the history and origin of the Bear Flag.

Marin Women

Here's Slim Line On New Lingerie

Those in the business advise:

Operatic diaphragm or long mid-section shapes call for a cinch by high-rising garments fashioned with an elastic collar or boning.

Slim silhouette or long-waisted with narrow hips, take best to a light, girdle of firm elastic which is not too tightly fitted.

Sleepy Hollow Junior Theater Members Hear Play Preview

Mrs. William G. Morrisey III, of Ross Valley Players, guest speaker, told her interested audience the plot line of "Janus," in which she plays the lead. Tickets were available for "Sleepy Hollow Night" at "The Barn," for Friday, April 28, when "Janus" will be presented; champagne will add a festive air to this evening.

The guest list at Mrs. Scott's home included Mrs. Douglas Pease, representing Marin County Junior Theater, Mrs. Donald F. Berg of Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae Unit; Mesdames Robert Taylor, Burton Milnes, Lowell Cummings, Jack Everson, Chris Norgaard, Fred Hale, George Aceves, Charles Swensen, Kyle Mauk, John Dearborn, Leonard Miller, Norman Mitchell, Earl Ammerman, Richard Godfrey, James Kephart, William Worrall, Irwin Gold, Jones McQuinn, John Morrison, and Paul Talbot, members of Sleepy Hollow Unit. Mrs. Morrisey's two small sons were also present.

Refreshments were provided by Mesdames Ray Forrest and Robert England; Mesdames Russel Chatham and Wallace Painter poured.

Connecticut Club Buffet, April 4

Invitations in traditional school colors of blue and white were mailed last week to Connecticut College Bay Area Alumnae and friends for a spring wine-tasting party and buffet on April 7. Helping to plan the affair to be held at the Piedmont Community Center is Mrs. Robert F. Sullivan of San Rafael.

All interested alumnae should contact reservations chairman, Mrs. Sullivan, or area representatives by April 4.

Rinse Out Nylons

Now that seamless stockings are popular it is wise to remember to rinse out nylons every time that they are worn.

Lutheran Guild To Hear Pastor

The Rev. Harold G. Johnson, pastor of Peace Lutheran Church, Mill Valley, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Dorcas Guild of the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection, Terra Linda, Wednesday, April 5, at 8 P.M.

Rev. Johnson, a member of the Board of Directors of the Terra Bella Lutheran Home for Retarded Children, will speak on the activities of the home.

EVEN THINGS FOR BABY will be sold at the rummage sale on April 7 and 8 of the Grace Lutheran Women's Society in Novato demonstrates little Lisa Schiewe in this rocker. From left are Mesdames Gus Paulson and Norman Schiewe. The rummage sale will be held at the social hall of the Grace Lutheran Church on Grant Avenue. (Independent-Journal photo.)

TRAY FAVORS in abundance are shown by three of the women who contribute this service to San Rafael General Hospital. These colorful decorations are for Easter, but the "tray favor volunteers" also make attractive decorations for the hospital's patients on the other holidays of the year. Representing the Friends of Arequipa service units in the photo are Mrs. Max Johansen, left, chairman of the unit service committee, and Mrs. Cecil Aker, right, of Green Oaks Unit. Mrs. Edwin Ellingson, center, president of Carpenters' Auxiliary No. 495, one of the three organization which contribute holiday favors for the hospital's patients.

Special Favors For Hospital Patients

Thanks to Marin County women, patients at San Rafael General Hospital have special covers and favors on their trays for every meal of the day on every holiday of the year — and often between times.

The women who make the gay, attractive favors and covers and take them to the hospital in time for the dozen and more holidays of the year belong to three organizations. All have different memberships, diverse interests otherwise, and various places of residence in the county. The individual members may not even know each other. But they share a common purpose: to give service.

These organizations are Friends of Arequipa service units, the Women's Bible Class of the Church of Christ in San Rafael, and the Carpenters' Auxiliary No. 495.

In addition, the San Rafael Order of Rainbow Girls and Brownie Scout Troop No. 224 of Terra Linda make all-occasion tray favors.

The program is coordinated by Mrs. George M. Henderson, decorations chairman for the San Rafael General Women's Auxiliary, working with the hospital dietitian, Mrs. Carolyn Drange.

"We are very grateful to our 'tray favor volunteers,'" said Mrs. Henderson. She praised them for their work, which she said "takes enormous ingenuity and time."

"I am sure they would feel well rewarded," the Auxiliary chairman added, "if they could see how much it means for the hospital patients to see the colorful favors and covers on their meal trays. They add to the 'TLC' (tender, loving care) which is the hospital's motto."

Easter is the next holiday on which San Rafael General's patients will have special decorations on their trays, thanks to Marin County women with a common interest in giving service.

"HAPPY EASTER" says the wall decoration made by Mrs. George M. Henderson, right, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary decorations committee at San Rafael General Hospital. Mrs. Henderson coordinates the program to provide holiday decorations on the trays of hospital patients. Appearing with her in the photo is Mrs. Ross Smith of the Women's Bible Class, San Rafael Church of Christ, showing the special Easter book marks made by class members which patients will receive Sunday on their trays. PARLIAMENT PROCEDURE CLASS PLANNED BY P-TA COUNCIL

New officers and chairmen of Marin County P-TA units will have the opportunity of learning parliamentary procedure from the president of the State Association of Parliamentarians when Mrs. George Beanston of San Francisco conducts a four-session course in San Rafael beginning April 5.

Mrs. Beanston, long active in P-TA circles, has conducted many such courses in the Bay Area, and is well known for her interesting approach to the subject.

The course now being offered is sponsored by San Rafael P-TA Council, and will consist of four two-hour sessions on consecutive Wednesdays, commencing April 5. The Mission Street offices of the San Rafael City Schools will be the locale for the meetings, which will start promptly at 9:30 A.M. Other organizations wishing to take advantage of the course are welcome.

San Rafael's Needlework Guild Plans Ingathering On April 21

Members of the San Rafael Branch, Needlework Guild of America, are busy preparing for the annual ingathering to be held on Friday, April 21 at the San Rafael Improvement Club.

Mrs. Arthur Luchetti, president, will be assisted by Mesdames Charles Tacchi, first vice president; Oscar Oliphant, second vice president; Walter A. Barnes, secretary; Kenneth Larkins, treasurer and shoe chairman; and Miss Georgia Wintringham, honorary president. Also the section presidents: Mesdames George Conners, Carlo Caletti, Florence Kite, Frank Boileau, Gerald Flood, John Curtin, Louis Walsh, J. K. Whearty, Elmer Howell and Miss Georgia Wintringham are busy collecting articles from their directors, Mesdames R. W. Allison, Alfred Bach, E. J. Demings, F. C. Fisher, Linn Roberts, Rudolph Scott, Joseph Codoni, Irving Hobbs, Alice Costello, Eugene O'Connor, Helen Johnson, Howard Cleaves, Esther Cirby, Joe Petersen, Arthur Fay, Frank Kelly, Albert McNamara, Robert O'Mara, Harold King, Harry Clark, Kenneth Larkins, Harold Druhan, Robert Kunst and Vera Poole.

The Bolinas area is covered by Misses Florence Locke, C. E. Fitzgibbon, and H. A. McGavin; Inverness by Mesdames R. L. Griffith and Frank Guibbini; and West Marin by Mesdames Don McIsaacs and Nell McIsaacs.

The Junior Section headed by Mrs. George Ballantyne, is proud to add a new Camp Fire Group headed by Mrs. Norman Mitchell of San Anselmo.

The Senior Citizens of San Rafael have to date made over 200 articles, consisting of bed jackets, lap robes, baby sacques, bibs, bed socks, girls' dresses, bath slippers and hospital gowns.

Many sewing groups are busy putting on last minute details for the ingathering. Assistance will be given the following eight agencies—Lucas Valley Hospital, Sisters of the Holy Family, Sonoma State Hospital, The American Red Cross, Catholic Social Service Agency, St. Dorothy's Rest, St. Vincent's Boys' Home, and Sunny Hills.

Cleaning Tip

NEW YORK (UPI) — Check vacuum cleaners occasionally to make certain surfaces that come in contact with floor coverings are smooth. Rough edges on a cleaner can snag and break rug fibers. Laundering "tightens" the stockings so that the tubular type will cling attractively to your legs.

Culottes This Spring

Culottes will be seen in the garden this spring and summer. Cotton ones with garden motifs on their pockets (which allow plenty of room for utensils) now are being shown in sports departments.

Opera Guild Matinees For Students

The San Francisco Opera Guild is announcing the presentation of four matinees for young people during the 1961 fall season of the San Francisco Opera, according to Mrs. L. H. Garland, newly appointed chairman of Opera for Students. The selection of the opera will be announced later.

Because these productions are underwritten by guild membership dues, it is possible to present them at greatly reduced prices to more than 10,000 students annually. While the majority are students from the Bay Area, busloads come from as far away as Santa Rosa, Salinas, and Merced.

Mrs. Andrew W. Simpson, chairman of the San Francisco Opera Guild, has announced members of the board of directors who will head Guild activities for the coming year. Mrs. Austin Morris is chairman of membership, while Mrs. Richard Walker will be in charge of the October Opera Ball and Fol-de-Rol.

Mrs. James Howard, chairman of the East Bay Committee of the Guild, is also chairman of the Children's Opera Hour, co-sponsored with the Junior League of Oakland. Publicity and public relations will be handled by Mrs. Paul McComish and Mrs. Harold Cookson.

Other appointments include Mrs. Alfred Crapsey, talent bank; Mrs. Donald Ross, Guild rehearsal and reception; Mrs. Jackson Moffett, out-of-town guilds; Mrs. Leon Smith, Marin County chairman; Mrs. Carl Livingston nominating committee; Mrs. Niels Larsen, radio and television; and Mrs. Allan Charles, educational program.

Opera Guild Matinees For Students

The San Francisco Opera Guild is announcing the presentation of four matinees for young people during the 1961 fall season of the San Francisco Opera, according to Mrs. L. H. Garland, newly appointed chairman of Opera for Students. The selection of the opera will be announced later.

Because these productions are underwritten by guild membership dues, it is possible to present them at greatly reduced prices to more than 10,000 students annually. While the majority are students from the Bay Area, busloads come from as far away as Santa Rosa, Salinas, and Merced.

Mrs. Andrew W. Simpson, chairman of the San Francisco Opera Guild, has announced members of the board of directors who will head Guild activities for the coming year. Mrs. Austin Morris is chairman of membership, while Mrs. Richard Walker will be in charge of the October Opera Ball and Fol-de-Rol.

Mrs. James Howard, chairman of the East Bay Committee of the Guild, is also chairman of the Children's Opera Hour, co-sponsored with the Junior League of Oakland. Publicity and public relations will be handled by Mrs. Paul McComish and Mrs. Harold Cookson.

Other appointments include Mrs. Alfred Crapsey, talent bank; Mrs. Donald Ross, Guild rehearsal and reception; Mrs. Jackson Moffett, out-of-town guilds; Mrs. Leon Smith, Marin County chairman; Mrs. Carl Livingston nominating committee; Mrs. Niels Larsen, radio and television; and Mrs. Allan Charles, educational program.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

New Babies Require Lots Of Love To Acquire Feeling Of Security

Birth is a shock. Did you know that? It's an ordeal for a baby, as well as his mother.

A new baby has a nervous system enabling him to feel pain and sense fear. He doesn't know what is happening during birth but he realizes that peace and comfort have ended. Pain and anxiety prevail. No wonder he starts yelling at the first possible moment.

He has other adjustments to make. Breathing, eating, changes in temperature, sounds, light and dark, and bodily elimination are all new to him. It is hard to realize what a change birth makes.

Babies have to overcome their birth fears before they can begin to live happily. They must get used to their new way of life. That is why I keep talking about the proper care for infants. The first year is the most important year, by far.

If you have a new baby don't turn him over to other people. He needs his mommy and daddy. He needs to be allowed to sleep in any old position. He should eat when he is hungry, and suck his thumb when he feels like it. He needs to be held and loved, sung to, and talked to. He must realize that he is safe—safe forever in your love and care. Then he'll feel secure which is the most important feeling in any person's life.

Is there danger of spoiling your new baby? No. He can't learn enough to be spoiled. Although later on he may. When he's three years old he'll need definite rules to know what's what. But not when he's tiny. Tender loving care is his formula now.

READERS' FORUM

(A) No. Mothers should use every short cut possible. If you can afford the service, by all means get it.

Marin County 4-H Club All-Stars, Loren Youngclaus and Sue Fitzharris, are attending the 21st annual California All-Star Conference at University of California in Berkeley, through Thursday.

Marin County Rotary Clubs will underwrite the expenses of the two.

Theme of this year's conference is "Food, the Common Denominator." Speakers will tell of American agriculture and that of such countries as Venezuela, Ghana, and Pakistan. Other talks will deal with food facts, food for astronauts, and how plants develop food.

Loren Youngclaus is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan L. Youngclaus of Fairfax. Sue Fitzharris is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fitzharris of San Rafael.

Drake Student In Speech Contest

Ed Vacha, junior at Sir Francis Drake High School, will represent the school in the Native Sons of the Golden West annual public speaking contest, at 8 p.m., April 3, in the American-Portuguese Hall in San Rafael.

Vacha, of 70 Crane Drive, San Anselmo, will compete in the Marin County elimination contest. His subject is "Russian Settlement and Influence in California."

Grand prize of the competition is $1,000 in savings bonds, to be awarded at the state finals in May. Native Sons speeches may relate to any aspect of California geography, history, or cultural development.

Organ Recital

The Marin Baldwin Organ Club will present an organ recital by Galen Piepenburg at 8 p.m. Thursday in San Rafael High School auditorium, announces Mrs. M. A. Howard, secretary.

Old Landmark To Be Demolished

Built in 1878, according to recent owner Mrs. Selim Woodworth, it was the first yacht club on San Francisco Bay. It included the boat house on the waterfront and land area from Second Street, bordered by South Street to the bay and out to the nearby point to the south.

The Woodworths moved to Menlo Park March 1 after selling to the Bay Land Co. of San Rafael, which will build the apartments.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz has written to the Sierra Club demanding that a sequence showing himself be deleted from the club's movie "An Island In Time" because it falsely suggests that he backs the proposal for a 53,000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore.

Writing on a letterhead of the Drake Navigators Guild of Point Reyes, of which he is honorary chairman, Nimitz referred to a part of the picture showing him holding a reproduction of the Drake "Plate of Brasse."

"This section of the film involving me is entirely out of context," complained Nimitz, saying that "it apparently never occurred" to those soliciting the material to ask his permission for such use nor was any statement made to him in explanation.

"It suggests in the public mind," said Nimitz, "that I am a protagonist for the National Park maneuver to acquire some 53,000 acres on the Point Reyes Peninsula, with no due concern to the landowners or to the economics of the county in which the park is proposed.

"I feel that my personal rights have not been given due consideration in the showing of this film. In all common courtesy I suggest that this particular sequence be withdrawn."

Mountain Play Dates Selected

"Robin Hood," the 44th annual Mountain Play will be produced in Cushing Memorial Amphitheater on Mount Tamalpais for two Sunday performances, May 14 and May 21, according to director Dan Totheroh.

A cast of 200 includes Dan Scarlett of Mill Valley as Robin; Norma Christian of Sausalito as Lady Agnes; Victor Keppel of Tiburon as Allan-a-Dale; Elmer Collette of Mill Valley as King Richard; Larry Allen of Mill Valley as Friar Tuck; Catherine Mersereau of Belvedere as Ellen; Phillip Viscarra of San Francisco as Will Scarlet.

Innocent Plea In Machete Case

San Francisco draftsman Warner Hermann Hauffe, 31, pleaded innocent to the charge that he tried to kill his Fairfax host with a machete yesterday morning.

Hauffe is accused of attempted murder against William Eagle, 31, of Forrest Terrace, Fairfax. Fairfax police said the two had been drinking at Eagle's home. Suddenly, about 1 a.m. Eagle's wife said she heard a scream and found Hauffe swinging the machete at Eagle. The victim suffered cuts on the head and face.

Hauffe faces a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court at 9:30 a.m. on April 13.

Judge Gets Report On Girl's Slayer

Marin Juvenile Court Judge Richard M. Sims heard a progress report on Kentfield slayer Clifford E. Fortner, 16, Friday and announced he would decide what to do with the youth on April 21.

On that date, Judge Sims will decide whether young Fortner should be accepted as a ward of Juvenile Court or whether the youth should be turned over to regular adult court for prosecution on the murder charge.

In the meantime, the judge decided to leave Fortner in the care of Langley Porter Clinic in San Francisco.

Club Building Use Suggested

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreational District have announced suggested uses for the Del Ganado Road Community Building recently acquired on a lease-purchase agreement, and called for initial organizational meetings to develop group interests.

Among activities contemplated are a stamp club, a photography and camera club, instruction in basic electronics, and instruction in bridge playing.

Efforts are also being made, according to the board, to organize group activities for chess, checkers, art classes, cooking, sewing and ceramics.

Mechanic Positions Open At Air Base

Information may be obtained from the board at 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco, the civil service regional office in San Francisco or civilian personnel office at Hamilton.

Navy Unit To Meet

New Babies Require Lots Of Love To Acquire Feeling Of Security

Birth is a shock. Did you know that? It's an ordeal for a baby, as well as his mother.

A new baby has a nervous system enabling him to feel pain and sense fear. He doesn't know what is happening during birth but he realizes that peace and comfort have ended. Pain and anxiety prevail. No wonder he starts yelling at the first possible moment.

He has other adjustments to make. Breathing, eating, changes in temperature, sounds, light and dark, and bodily elimination are all new to him. It is hard to realize what a change birth makes.

Babies have to overcome their birth fears before they can begin to live happily. They must get used to their new way of life. That is why I keep talking about the proper care for infants. The first year is the most important year, by far.

If you have a new baby don't turn him over to other people. He needs his mommy and daddy. He needs to be allowed to sleep in any old position. He should eat when he is hungry, and suck his thumb when he feels like it. He needs to be held and loved, sung to, and talked to. He must realize that he is safe—safe forever in your love and care. Then he'll feel secure which is the most important feeling in any person's life.

Is there danger of spoiling your new baby? No. He can't learn enough to be spoiled. Although later on he may. When he's three years old he'll need definite rules to know what's what. But not when he's tiny. Tender loving care is his formula now.

Old Landmark To Be Demolished

Demolition will start Monday on a Sausalito landmark, once the home of the late John D. Spreckels, "the sugar king."

Built in 1878, according to recent owner Mrs. Selim Woodworth, it was the first yacht club on San Francisco Bay. It included the boat house on the waterfront and land area from Second Street, bordered by South Street to the bay and out to the nearby point to the south.

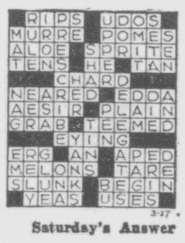

Twenty years ago the Woodworths purchased the house at which time they had the top floor removed.

The Woodworths moved to Menlo Park March 1 after selling to the Bay Land Co. of San Rafael, which will build the apartments.

Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz has written to the Sierra Club demanding that a sequence showing himself be deleted from the club's movie "An Island In Time" because it falsely suggests that he backs the proposal for a 53,000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore.

Writing on a letterhead of the Drake Navigators Guild of Point Reyes, of which he is honorary chairman, Nimitz referred to a part of the picture showing him holding a reproduction of the Drake "Plate of Brasse."

"This section of the film involving me is entirely out of context," complained Nimitz, saying that "it apparently never occurred" to those soliciting the material to ask his permission for such use nor was any statement made to him in explanation.

"It suggests in the public mind," said Nimitz, "that I am a protagonist for the National Park maneuver to acquire some 53,000 acres on the Point Reyes Peninsula, with no due concern to the landowners or to the economics of the county in which the park is proposed.

"I feel that my personal rights have not been given due consideration in the showing of this film. In all common courtesy I suggest that this particular sequence be withdrawn."

Mountain Play Dates Selected

"Robin Hood," the 44th annual Mountain Play will be produced in Cushing Memorial Amphitheater on Mount Tamalpais for two Sunday performances, May 14 and May 21, according to director Dan Totheroh.

A cast of 200 includes Dan Scarlett of Mill Valley as Robin; Norma Christian of Sausalito as Lady Agnes; Victor Keppel of Tiburon as Allan-a-Dale; Elmer Collette of Mill Valley as King Richard; Larry Allen of Mill Valley as Friar Tuck; Catherine Mersereau of Belvedere as Ellen; Phillip Viscarra of San Francisco as Will Scarlet.

Innocent Plea In Machete Case

San Francisco draftsman Warner Hermann Hauffe, 31, pleaded innocent to the charge that he tried to kill his Fairfax host with a machete yesterday morning.

Hauffe is accused of attempted murder against William Eagle, 31, of Forrest Terrace, Fairfax. Fairfax police said the two had been drinking at Eagle's home. Suddenly, about 1 a.m. Eagle's wife said she heard a scream and found Hauffe swinging the machete at Eagle. The victim suffered cuts on the head and face.

Hauffe faces a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court at 9:30 a.m. on April 13.

Judge Gets Report On Girl's Slayer

Marin Juvenile Court Judge Richard M. Sims heard a progress report on Kentfield slayer Clifford E. Fortner, 16, Friday and announced he would decide what to do with the youth on April 21.

On that date, Judge Sims will decide whether young Fortner should be accepted as a ward of Juvenile Court or whether the youth should be turned over to regular adult court for prosecution on the murder charge.

In the meantime, the judge decided to leave Fortner in the care of Langley Porter Clinic in San Francisco.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Personal Property Losses By Casualty Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Casualty losses of personal property are deductible.

The loss of your property by reason of flood, fire, storm, shipwreck, vandalism, and other casualty, or by theft, is deductible.

Peter J. Wikel

In the case of a residence, the damage to the residence, ornamental fixtures, trees, shrubbery, lawns, tools, fences, equipment, or any property you owned is deductible. Of course, it is important to be able to prove you owned the property, and the amount of the loss.

Usually the loss is the difference between the fair market value of the property before the loss and the fair market value, if any, of the property after the loss.

The costs of repairing, replacing, or cleaning up after the casualty are not allowable deductions. However, if the repairs, replacements, or cleaning up do nothing more than restore the property to its condition immediately before the casualty, and do not add to the value, utility, or useful life of the property, such costs may be used as a measure of the decrease in value.

Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the amount of the loss before you make the deduction on your tax return.

Also, the loss can never exceed the cost or other basis of the property regardless of the fair market value at the time of loss.

If the loss is any amount greater than your income for 1960, you would carry the excess back to 1957 and file a claim for refund of the income tax paid for 1957. If the amount of the loss was such that your 1957 income did not absorb it all, then any unused loss could be carried forward to 1958 and 1959; then any excess could be carried forward for the next five years and applies against the income of those years.

Cove Players Open Play To Sponsors

Benefit nights for "Separate Tables," the Tiburon Peninsula Cove Player's final production of the season, are available during the six-performance run beginning May 5 and ending May 20, according to business manager Charles Black.

Organizations interested in sponsoring a performance may notify Black, newly appointed business manager, at 3 Reed Ranch Road, Mill Valley.

Casting is complete for the drama, which will be directed by John King of Sausalito, and will run for the three consecutive Friday and Saturday evenings.

Included in the cast are Phyllic Courtney of Tiburon, as Anne Shankland; Fred Adair of San Francisco, as John Malcolm; Babs Dreyfus of Mill Valley, as Mrs. Railton-Bell; Grace Jones of Belvedere, as Lady Matheson; Custis Haynes of Tiburon as Jean Tanner; H. C. Potter of Kentfield as Mr. Fowler; Dolly Potter of Kentfield as Miss Meacham; Rita Knox of Tiburon, as Mabel; Peggy Greig of Kentfield, as Doreen; Joan McKinney of Tiburon, as Miss Cooper, and Jean Wegner of Sausalito as Charles Stratton.

Since "Separate Tables" is really two plays in one, including "Table by the Window" and "Table Number Seven," there are two additional roles cost for the second segment called "Table Number Seven."

These include the part of Major Pollack, played by Dan Bradley of San Rafael and Sibyl Railton-Bell, played by Edith Schneider of San Anselmo. The rest of the cast remains the same with the exception of the parts of Anne Shankland and John Malcolm, who are seen only in "Table by the Window."

Stinson Plans Youth Program

The Stinson Beach Parent-Teacher club voted unanimously last week to sponsor a youth recreation program provided the teen-agers share the rent of the community center hall and abide by the rules regarding supervision and upkeep of the building.

The program, under Deputy Sheriff Peter A. Lampros, will meet Monday for ballroom dancing and Saturday for activities such as wrestling, badminton and table tennis, according to president Adelaide McCready. Teen-agers are to pay hall rent for one night a week at $2.50, Mrs. McCready said.

The Easter egg hunt and hat parade were held at Stinson Beach School today for first through fourth graders of Bolinas and Stinson Beach schools and their parents.

On Fair Jury

Serge Trubach, Sausalito artist who lives at 631 Bridgeway, has accepted an ivitation to be on the jury of the California State Fair to be held this fall in Sacramento. Trubach will help select winning paintings and act on the prize jury.

EARLIER TIME FOR KTIM'S SERIES ON I-J

Karl Barron, KTIM news director, will continue to interview I-J key personnel on the publication of the paper. The program is scheduled daily through Friday at 5:45 p.m.

At 6 p.m. there will be a special Lenten series sponsored by the Lutheran Men of Marin.

Dixie School Candidates Asked To Talk

Six candidates for three vacancies on the Dixie School District board have been invited to appear April 11 at two public meetings sponsored by parent-teacher groups.

First appearances are to be at an 8 p.m. gathering at Santa Margarita School under auspices of the Santa Margarita Teacher-Parent Assn.

The other meeting will also convene at 8 p.m. at the Hoffman School under auspices of the Bernard Hoffman Teacher-Parents Group. Neither organization is affiliated with the Parent-Teachers Assn.

Since the second meeting must await arrival of speakers from the first, it will include other features such as an election of officers and a concert by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District Non-Marching Band.

Invitations have been sent to the two incumbent candidates, Mrs. Dorothy C. Brown and Robert S. Winniford, and the four challengers, John A. Starkweather, Charles S. Roach, John Christopherson and Lawrence I. Kramer Jr.

Garden Speaker

Albert Wilson, known as "the radio gardener," will speak at a pot luck dinner of the Bolinas Beach Improvement Club at the Mesa Clubhouse, Bolinas, at 7 p.m. Saturday.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

Burns
- Heart Size
- Hair Dyes
- Dark Urine

Q. The best treatment for minor burns is soaking the injured part in ice water. Have you ever heard of this?

A. Yes. A Los Angeles physician used this method in the emergency treatment of 150 patients with minor burns. Results were very good. Soaks (or application of an ice-cold, moist towel) for an hour or so usually took all the pain out of the burn and seemed to promote healing. Any burn treatment, however, should also include precautions to prevent infection.

Q. What causes heart enlargement?

A. The heart enlarges when it is required to do extra work or, if damaged, to do ordinary work. The two main reasons for extra-work enlargement are high blood pressure and leaks in the heart valves. An enlarged heart does not necessarily mean a failing heart, although the cause of the excessive strain should, of course, be determined.

Q. What are the dangers of using permanent hair dyes?

A. The main danger is the development of an allergic rash in persons who are supersensitive to the dye. Such reactions can be avoided by "patch tests" carried out before dyeing is attempted. Most hairdressers know about the test but often neglect to perform it. One may think that if the test is performed once and is negative it need never be done again. However, the reaction is triggered by previous contact, so it is necessary for the test to be run every time dyeing is to be done.

Q. My urine is very dark. Does this indicate kidney trouble?

A. Morning urine may be dark if the person doesn't drink enough water. But to be safe, have a medical examination.

Note to readers: As many questions as possible will be answered in this column, but for obvious reasons replies must be brief.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Personal Property Losses By Casualty Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Casualty losses of personal property are deductible.

The loss of your property by reason of flood, fire, storm, shipwreck, vandalism, and other casualty, or by theft, is deductible.

Peter J. Wikel

In the case of a residence, the damage to the residence, ornamental fixtures, trees, shrubbery, lawns, tools, fences, equipment, or any property you owned is deductible. Of course, it is important to be able to prove you owned the property, and the amount of the loss.

Usually the loss is the difference between the fair market value of the property before the loss and the fair market value, if any, of the property after the loss.

The costs of repairing, replacing, or cleaning up after the casualty are not allowable deductions. However, if the repairs, replacements, or cleaning up do nothing more than restore the property to its condition immediately before the casualty, and do not add to the value, utility, or useful life of the property, such costs may be used as a measure of the decrease in value.

Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the amount of the loss before you make the deduction on your tax return.

Also, the loss can never exceed the cost or other basis of the property regardless of the fair market value at the time of loss.

If the loss is any amount greater than your income for 1960, you would carry the excess back to 1957 and file a claim for refund of the income tax paid for 1957. If the amount of the loss was such that your 1957 income did not absorb it all, then any unused loss could be carried forward to 1958 and 1959; then any excess could be carried forward for the next five years and applies against the income of those years.

Cove Players Open Play To Sponsors

Benefit nights for "Separate Tables," the Tiburon Peninsula Cove Player's final production of the season, are available during the six-performance run beginning May 5 and ending May 20, according to business manager Charles Black.

Organizations interested in sponsoring a performance may notify Black, newly appointed business manager, at 3 Reed Ranch Road, Mill Valley.

Casting is complete for the drama, which will be directed by John King of Sausalito, and will run for the three consecutive Friday and Saturday evenings.

Included in the cast are Phyllic Courtney of Tiburon, as Anne Shankland; Fred Adair of San Francisco, as John Malcolm; Babs Dreyfus of Mill Valley, as Mrs. Railton-Bell; Grace Jones of Belvedere, as Lady Matheson; Custis Haynes of Tiburon as Jean Tanner; H. C. Potter of Kentfield as Mr. Fowler; Dolly Potter of Kentfield as Miss Meacham; Rita Knox of Tiburon, as Mabel; Peggy Greig of Kentfield, as Doreen; Joan McKinney of Tiburon, as Miss Cooper, and Jean Wegner of Sausalito as Charles Stratton.

Since "Separate Tables" is really two plays in one, including "Table by the Window" and "Table Number Seven," there are two additional roles cost for the second segment called "Table Number Seven."

These include the part of Major Pollack, played by Dan Bradley of San Rafael and Sibyl Railton-Bell, played by Edith Schneider of San Anselmo. The rest of the cast remains the same with the exception of the parts of Anne Shankland and John Malcolm, who are seen only in "Table by the Window."

Stinson Plans Youth Program

The Stinson Beach Parent-Teacher club voted unanimously last week to sponsor a youth recreation program provided the teen-agers share the rent of the community center hall and abide by the rules regarding supervision and upkeep of the building.

The program, under Deputy Sheriff Peter A. Lampros, will meet Monday for ballroom dancing and Saturday for activities such as wrestling, badminton and table tennis, according to president Adelaide McCready. Teen-agers are to pay hall rent for one night a week at $2.50, Mrs. McCready said.

The Easter egg hunt and hat parade were held at Stinson Beach School today for first through fourth graders of Bolinas and Stinson Beach schools and their parents.

On Fair Jury

Serge Trubach, Sausalito artist who lives at 631 Bridgeway, has accepted an ivitation to be on the jury of the California State Fair to be held this fall in Sacramento. Trubach will help select winning paintings and act on the prize jury.

EARLIER TIME FOR KTIM'S SERIES ON I-J

Radio station KTIM's series of programs observing the Independent-Journal centennial will be aired 15 minutes earlier this week.

Karl Barron, KTIM news director, will continue to interview I-J key personnel on the publication of the paper. The program is scheduled daily through Friday at 5:45 p.m.

At 6 p.m. there will be a special Lenten series sponsored by the Lutheran Men of Marin.

Dixie School Candidates Asked To Talk

Six candidates for three vacancies on the Dixie School District board have been invited to appear April 11 at two public meetings sponsored by parent-teacher groups.

First appearances are to be at an 8 p.m. gathering at Santa Margarita School under auspices of the Santa Margarita Teacher-Parent Assn.

The other meeting will also convene at 8 p.m. at the Hoffman School under auspices of the Bernard Hoffman Teacher-Parents Group. Neither organization is affiliated with the Parent-Teachers Assn.

Since the second meeting must await arrival of speakers from the first, it will include other features such as an election of officers and a concert by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District Non-Marching Band.

Invitations have been sent to the two incumbent candidates, Mrs. Dorothy C. Brown and Robert S. Winniford, and the four challengers, John A. Starkweather, Charles S. Roach, John Christopherson and Lawrence I. Kramer Jr.

Garden Speaker

Albert Wilson, known as "the radio gardener," will speak at a pot luck dinner of the Bolinas Beach Improvement Club at the Mesa Clubhouse, Bolinas, at 7 p.m. Saturday.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

Burns
- Heart Size
- Hair Dyes
- Dark Urine

Q. The best treatment for minor burns is soaking the injured part in ice water. Have you ever heard of this?

A. Yes. A Los Angeles physician used this method in the emergency treatment of 150 patients with minor burns. Results were very good. Soaks (or application of an ice-cold, moist towel) for an hour or so usually took all the pain out of the burn and seemed to promote healing. Any burn treatment, however, should also include precautions to prevent infection.

Q. What causes heart enlargement?

A. The heart enlarges when it is required to do extra work or, if damaged, to do ordinary work. The two main reasons for extra-work enlargement are high blood pressure and leaks in the heart valves. An enlarged heart does not necessarily mean a failing heart, although the cause of the excessive strain should, of course, be determined.

Q. What are the dangers of using permanent hair dyes?

A. The main danger is the development of an allergic rash in persons who are supersensitive to the dye. Such reactions can be avoided by "patch tests" carried out before dyeing is attempted. Most hairdressers know about the test but often neglect to perform it. One may think that if the test is performed once and is negative it need never be done again. However, the reaction is triggered by previous contact, so it is necessary for the test to be run every time dyeing is to be done.

Q. My urine is very dark. Does this indicate kidney trouble?

A. Morning urine may be dark if the person doesn't drink enough water. But to be safe, have a medical examination.

Note to readers: As many questions as possible will be answered in this column, but for obvious reasons replies must be brief.

Crocker Bank Here Gets New Official

Walter C. Fuerst has been appointed an assistant manager at Crocker-Anglo National Bank's San Rafael office, it was announced by president Paul E. Hoover.

Fuerst, a native Californian and a graduate of University of California, had four years of financial and insurance experience in Richmond and San Francisco before joining Crocker-Anglo's Vallejo office in 1954 as a consumer loan interviewer. In January, 1956, he was transferred to the bank's Stockton office. Ten months later, he was reassigned to Vallejo as manager of the consumer loan department and has served since in that position.

Marin GOP Group Rips Voting Bills

Council president James McNabb of Ross said the group, meeting in San Rafael, held that three bills constituted "a partisan attempt to steal California elections with Chicago methods."

Measures opposed were introduced by Assemblymen John O'Connell of San Francisco (for partisan local elections, termed likely to build "vicious political machines"), Robert W. Crown of Alameda (said to delete safeguards for valid voter registration), and Jesse Unruh of Los Angeles (to shorten time for casting absentee ballots, called "reprisal against voters who carried the state for Vice President Nixon last November").

New Restaurant Permit Granted

A permit for a new Tiburon restaurant valued at $155,000 was among the 24 permits issued by the Marin County Building Inspection Department last week.

The 7,200 square foot restaurant is being built by Jacks and Irvine contractors for Fred Zelinsky's Main Street properties. It will be on the second floor of a two story structure. The lower floor is earmarked for future stores.

Crocker Bank Here Gets New Official

Walter C. Fuerst has been appointed an assistant manager at Crocker-Anglo National Bank's San Rafael office, it was announced by president Paul E. Hoover.

Fuerst, a native Californian and a graduate of University of California, had four years of financial and insurance experience in Richmond and San Francisco before joining Crocker-Anglo's Vallejo office in 1954 as a consumer loan interviewer. In January, 1956, he was transferred to the bank's Stockton office. Ten months later, he was reassigned to Vallejo as manager of the consumer loan department and has served since in that position.

Marin GOP Group Rips Voting Bills

Democratic legislators in Sacramento are trying to rig state elections by tinkering with voting procedures, it was charged Thursday night in a resolution adopted by the Marin Republican Council.

Council president James McNabb of Ross said the group, meeting in San Rafael, held that three bills constituted "a partisan attempt to steal California elections with Chicago methods."

Measures opposed were introduced by Assemblymen John O'Connell of San Francisco (for partisan local elections, termed likely to build "vicious political machines"), Robert W. Crown of Alameda (said to delete safeguards for valid voter registration), and Jesse Unruh of Los Angeles (to shorten time for casting absentee ballots, called "reprisal against voters who carried the state for Vice President Nixon last November").

New Restaurant Permit Granted

A permit for a new Tiburon restaurant valued at $155,000 was among the 24 permits issued by the Marin County Building Inspection Department last week.

The 7,200 square foot restaurant is being built by Jacks and Irvine contractors for Fred Zelinsky's Main Street properties. It will be on the second floor of a two story structure. The lower floor is earmarked for future stores.
